REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS BY CORPORATIONS.

About a year ago the New York Herald, with an enterprise peculiarly its own, laid before the general public a statement, collated from the official records at Albany, showing up in detail the amount of bond and mortgages held by the various life insurance companies in this city. That publication had the effect of showing to those who were posted in regard to realty values how the various companies were managed and the judgment they exercised in regard to the selection of properties on which they loaned cash money. As the beginning of 1879 was, perhaps, the best opportunity to test the judgment of the various insurance companies when doubt, fear and hope alternately took possession of the real estate market, the operations which then saw the light became a sure test of the intelligence and business capacity that presided over institutions having charge and control of millions of the people's money. The critical year, however, proved to be, as it progressed, a boon, with slight exceptions, to most of the insurance companies. Properties that had been foreclosed some time previous were sold here and there advantageously at private contract, and yet loans even on improved real estate were granted with more circumspection and caution than had been the case in the past.

In view of these facts, and in the absence of any efforts on the part of the daily press to supply the general public this year with information in regard to the 1880 investments in real estate and bond and mortgages by the various insurance companies, THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, ever on the alert to supply information of importance to owners of realty, hereby congratulates property holders generally at the increased interest taken by these flourishing financial institutions in New York and suburban real estate, as shown by their sworn detailed statements filed in the insurance departments of the various states in which they transact business. The confidence entertained by these concerns in the real estate of our own and other cities can best be arrived at by analyzing the items constituting their gross assets, as sworn to by them in detail since the beginning of this year, 1880. It will be conceded that the possession of real estate, estimated at market value, and the amount of money loaned at a fair margin of values on bond and mortgage, is a pretty good test of the estimation in which real estate is held by these various financial institutions. We have, therefore, selected nine of the leading life insurance companies in this State and Connecticut, and reproduce from their lengthy detailed reports, as filed in the departments at Albany and Hartford, the various items, showing how far in this year, 1880, they are interested in real estate by actual possession or by cash loans on realty as security. It will there be seen that real estate and bond and mortgage continue to be, more so than in the past, the principal items of their gross assets.

Company.	Gross assets. $	Real estate. $	Bonds and mortgages. $
Equitable..	37,000,917 05	8,204,796 02	10,475,062 90
Germania....	8,552,877 11	1,037,806 50	4,372,154 46

Mutual.....	88,212,700 68	7,811,805 18	54,895,134 77
New York.....	38,858,830 58	4,974,873 68	15,313,984 3
Washington..	5,591,888 99	456,786 11	2,518,772 02

Conn. Mutual	45,723,645 31	11,089,472 47	22,217,403 37
Travelers....	3,699,521 18	23,400 00	1,833,372 91

In order to thoroughly understand the meaning of the figures we hereby give the percentages of investments by the above companies. Both real estate and bonds and mortgages constitute the leading items of the various companies, as follows:

Company.	Real estate. per cent.	Bond and mortgages. per cent.
Equitable.....	22.18	28.31
Germania.....	12.14	51.12
Manhattan.....	12.44	38.18
Mutual.....	8.86	62.23
New York.....	12.80	39.41
Washington.....	8.17	45.58
Charter Oak.....	41.97	24.40
Connecticut Mutual.	22.76	20.68
Travelers.....	19.26	19.26

Of course some of the leading companies possess less real estate and more mortgages, for which they have ample securities, but it may not be amiss to give in this connection the amount of rent received by the various companies during the past year, thus showing that the real estate they actually possess is not a dead weight on their hands. The following figures show indeed a source of income not surpassed by other investments, but it must be borne in mind that some companies, whose returns for rents are small, possess considerable vacant property.

Equitable.....	331,930 30
Germania.....	34,361 33
Manhattan.....	37,234 49
Mutual.....	156,630 17
New York.....	94,628 69
Washington.....	1,935 24
Charter Oak.....	$2 5,722 31
Connecticut Mutual.....	18,111 97
Travelers.....	8,411 60

In almost every instance the above returns will be higher during the current year, and the opinion is gradually spreading among officers of leading companies that, of all investments, improved real estate in and around New York City will show the very best returns on their statements during the next few years.

MANHATTAN RAILWAY STOCK.

The quartering of Manhattan Elevated stock, now going on between Mr. Cyrus W. Field, representing the New York Elevated Railway, and Gen. Horace Porter, of the Metropolitan road, is being done in a thoroughly scientific manner. Here is a property representing some $13,000,000, to the creation of which no one man contributed more than Mr. Field, who, having sold his share to a gullible public, which had faith in the dazzling figures presented by that celebrated man who plays so well the game of "now you see it, and now you don't," bought from him, on his recommendation, the self same stock at prices ranging from 55 to 70, which he now declares to be worth only 20, and dear at that, and this in the face of the fact that travel has increased so wonderfully on these roads that the summer receipts are $2,000 per day greater than they were last year for the same months. If this financier was so grossly mistaken as to ever suppose that Manhattan stock could pay the 10 per cent. guaranteed on New York and Metropolitan Elevated stocks, which any good book-keeper could have told, is he not again mistaken in his estimate of the future when he states that they cannot do it? If, when he created Manhattan stock, with all the facts and figures before him, he knew that it was only a matter of time when a default would occur, then has he committed a crime which deserves a prompt reckoning.

It seems but yesterday that this thimble rigger of elevated stocks proudly stood upon the deck of a European steamer, his pockets stuffed full of New York Elevated Railway shares which he had carefully selected from among the myriads of investments in this country for his English friends, and he quoted them as being cheap at 200. His rival, the great political manipulator, who, at this time was equally interested with him in blowing up the balloon, followed him in hot haste to the deck of the steamer, and cautiously drawing the great Field one side, whispered in his ear, "don't sell mine for less than 200, it's worth 250." Everybody is familiar with the story of how the political trickster beat the financial bragger at his own game—and spoiled the European market. Field, on his return, finding that he could do nothing with his European friends, immediately did the next best thing, which was to do his American friends—so it was not long before the Manhattan stock was created, for which Field stood sponsor. How well he has taken care of his child, we will tell some other time in the columns of THE RECORD. In the meantime, it will be well for Mr. Field to remember that the game he is now playing is one that is liable to be interrupted at any moment.

ACRE PROPERTY IN ADJOINING COUNTIES AS AFFECTED BY RAILROAD MONOPOLISTS.

The failure of the much vaunted Hepburn Railroad Committee to engraft upon the statutes of this State appropriate enactments to regulate the local freight traffic, and to stop all discriminations, is at last telling with marked force upon the farms and lands immediately adjoining New York and Westchester counties. These freight discriminations are indeed making havoc with the beautiful farms that lie within a few hours travel of New York City. It is a disgraceful fact that while real estate in and around the metropolis has kept pace with the various improvements, acre property in Putnam, Dutchess and Columbia counties, for instance, is worth no more to-day than it was thirty-five years ago, before the Harlem Railroad Company ran its trains through every village and hamlet of these counties. Farm property then sold from $50 to $75 and $100 per acre in those localities, and it can be had for the same price now. When we simply mention the fact that milk trains, for instance, create earnings for the railroad company amounting from $4,000 to $5,000 per day, it will readily be seen how difficult it is for farmers and producers to locate there successfully and make both ends meet. It takes all of a farmer's profits away to send, for instance, a barrel of potatoes from these counties to the city of New York. He might live in Utica or near Buffalo, and he would have to pay no more freight than is now exacted from him living within a gunshot almost of the great metropolitan market. Can it be wondered at then that the beautiful lands in the counties named above are being ignored while this railroad discrimination continues? Further than this, it shows how, by encouraging the grasping propensities of monopolies, individual lands and homesteads are being neglected by even small investors, and how important it is even for ordinary real estate owners to assist in checking the ever-growing influence of railroad corporations and unscrupulous capitalists.

The Department of Public Works is now urging the erection of water meters in the large down town office buildings, and owners are compelled to pay a handsome bill for this "latest improvement." The act calling for water meters to be placed in buildings where there is a large consumption of water, became a law in 1873, and its various provisions have not been strictly enforced until within the last few months. This extraordinary activity on the part of Mr. Allan Campbell's Department, though applauded in some quarters, is not relished to a very large extent by owners, who find themselves suddenly called upon to pay from $25 to $75, according to the size of the meter. Though the tax is a hard one at the outset, we nevertheless believe that owners will be amply remunerated for this preliminary outlay by a considerable reduction in their annual Croton bills, the aggregate of which must be guided by the amount of water consumed as registered by the meters. It may, however, be incidentally a matter of importance to the property owner to be informed of the fact that the plumber who makes the necessary attachments to the meter gets a discount of thirty per cent. from the only manufacturer whose meter is the one approved by the Department of Public Works. In many instances we know of plumber's sharing this thirty per cent. discount with property owners, but there are, no doubt, many owners who are not acquainted with "this custom of the trade." "A word to the wise," we hope, will be sufficient in this instance.

SATISFIED WITH SMALLER RETURNS.

There is one very important feature of this year's investments which should not be overlooked by those who continue to look out for improved property, which, in times past, used to pay eight, ten and twelve per centum per annum. There are even now any number of office, tenement and apartment buildings which pay those returns, but it must be remembered and constantly held in view that the changed condition of the country, of which New York city is the fountain-head, has resulted in marked changes so far as the views of investors are concerned. As the aggregate wealth of the country increases, the demands of individual owners of this wealth become more reasonable, and the man who to-day owns his millions is satisfied with a smaller amount of interest than the man who only had his thousands a few years ago. Wealth begets wealth. The lack of capital, so lamentably felt in various states of the Union only a few years ago, led to exorbitant demands for interest in all departments of trade. These excessive demands retarded, it is true, many enterprises which had to meet immediate competition, and destroyed for a time at least the growth of many centres where commerce and manufacturers endeavored to get a foothold. The few years of prosperity which this country has now enjoyed, with a constant accumulation of capital, have changed all this, and where real estate investors, for instance, only growled at a ten per cent. income on their investments, they are satisfied now to take six and seven per cent. To holders of improved property disposed to sell, this docile disposition on the part of capitalists ought at least to be encouraging. It is a fallacy even for old-time owners of real estate to adhere to notions of the past, and the only way to sell to advantage is to keep abreast of the times, which are just now working a marked change in the line of investments.

It is very singular, indeed, that during this very year, when the Legislature enacts a law providing for the proper revision of assessments, there have been at the tax office very few applications from parties considering themselves aggrieved by assessments upon their property. From the time the books were open, from the second Monday in January to the 30th day of April, to receive applications from aggrieved parties, there were received in 1878 8,733 applications, for a like time in 1879 10,900, and during the same period in 1880 only 2,500.

THE SECTION BETWEEN ONE HUNDREDTH AND ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTH STREETS, EIGHT AND TENTH AVENUES.

To the Editor of the REAL ESTATE RECORD:

DEAR SIR:—I am pleased to see that you are waking up the property owners. I happened to visit the section you name (One Hundredth to One Hundred and Sixth streets, Eighth to Tenth avenues) this morning, and, in conversation with a prominent real estate owner, the same idea that you so happily present was thrown out. Tenth avenue is ready to be the business feeder for the entire section, and next spring should witness the settlement of hundreds of families in houses, on the average, less expensive than Mr. Clark's, on Seventy-third street, and equally free from objection on the score of nuisances. Where the section is not restricted, it should be by agreement. The avenues (except the Eighth) will be devoted to business—Ninth avenue to conform somewhat to Eighth avenue below the Park—Tenth to correspond very nearly to Sixth, north of Twenty-third street—Eighth avenue to be constructed after the manner of the terraces adjoining the London parks. Yours truly,

New York, August 3, 1880.

GOTHAM

THE SOUTH KENSINGTON.

The completion of this apartment house, on the northwest corner of Park avenue and Fifty-sixth street, adds another ornamental structure to an avenue that is destined to be one of the most unique on Manhattan Island. The building fronts 50 feet on the avenue and 100 on the street. It is six stories high above the cellar and basement, and is built throughout of brick. This material is the Long Island pressed brick, furnished by the Empire State Brick Company, whose works are at Huntington, Long Island. The company has offices at 165 Broadway, where samples and price lists can at all times be obtained. Trimmed as it is with light free stone, the exterior of the South Kensington presents a cheerful appearance, such as is but seldom met with in that class of apartment houses.

The building is divided into two equal proportions by the main tiled hall, where is located the janitor's office. A Galland Hydraulic elevator stands ready at all times for the use of the tenants who occupy the various flats to the right and left of this main hall. C. W. Hoffman 146 West Thirty-eighth street, supply the dumb waiter.

No less than nine rooms complete the suite of apartments into which the Kensington is divided, there being a parlor, dining room, three bed rooms, library, and sitting room. Vestibules, also, are provided for each suite, they open into a private hall, thus making the domicile as secluded and private as can possibly be secured in an ordinary private residence. Each suite of apartments has also been provided with chandeliers, and the workmanship shows to advantage, they are from the old firm of Iden & Co., of Hester street. Ample closet room is found everywhere. The servant's rooms are all at the top of the building, but in addition to these there is ample space for other purposes, such as play rooms for children and drying rooms.

Great care has been taken to make this apartment house as fire-proof as possible, and hence the main and back stairs have been enclosed with brick-work from cellar to roof. The building is heated by steam, the contract for which was awarded and has been faithfully executed by J. A. Reed, of 50 Cliff street. A Worthington engine attached to Mr. Reed's safety boilers drives the elevator. The hardwood trimmings in the parlor and dining-rooms have been supplied by Mr. Hess, of 111 Ainslee street, Green-point. The doors, shutters, sashes, blinds, etc., are from McKenzie & Ridgely, Forty-seventh street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues. The ranges have been supplied by the Simmonds Manufacturing Company, and the tiles by Chadwick. T. B. Stewart of Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue furnishes the slate mantels. Mr. Haines, of Fifty-ninth street and First avenue, has constructed the stairs. P. Golding furnished the blue stone flagging for the cellars, lintels, sills, etc., and which gives entire satisfaction to the owner Capt. Tinker. Messrs. H. W. & C. Gedney, of Fortieth street and Broadway, and W. B. Pettit, of 1215 Broadway, are the builders. Due credit must be given Thom & Wilson the architects who have superintended the construction of the building and supplied the plans.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

During two days of the past week there were no auction sales at all at the Exchange, and those held on the remaining days do not call for any special comment. The sale of St. Nicholas avenue lots yesterday, resulting in their purchase by the plaintiff, cannot be considered as an index of values. Across the river, the old Kissam estate, at Jamaica, was sold at auction for $3,500, to Alonzo B. Pettit.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

The continued absence of buyers and brokers results in a paucity of transactions, but already can be observed notes of preparation for a very active market during the coming month. A steady line of inquiry is, however, kept up for suburban property, notably in the annexed district. One hundred lots along One Hundred and Forty-first, One Hundred and Forty-second, One Hundred and Forty-third streets and Concord avenue, which is the first avenue west of the Southern Boulevard (Twenty-third Ward), have been disposed of at private contract during the past week at an average of $900 per lot. A sale of about sixty lots on the corner of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Mott avenue, amounting to $300,000, was recorded on Thursday.

We understand that Mr. James Rufus Smith has recently completed the sale of a parcel of six lots in Seventy-third street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, under agreement that they are to be immediately improved with eight four story brown stone houses. It is stated that the total price for the lots is about $30,000 but, in the absence of Mr. Smith at Saratoga, we cannot vouch for the correctness of this figure, though there appears to be no doubt about the sale.

Messrs. L. J. & I Phillips have sold a Sixty-eight street lot, 100 feet east of Madison avenue, for $20,000. The same firm has sold two tenements on Thirty ninth street, west of Ninth avenue, 50 feet by half the block, for $25,000.

Messrs. Douglass & Traphagen have sold during the past week at private contract the three-story and basement brown stone house, No. 160 East Seventy-first street, for $20,000, also the property, No. 442 East One Hundred and Sixteenth street, 100x100, with frame house, for $20,000.

It will be gratifying to those who approve of the recent remarks in THE RECORD about the necessity of improving the section lying between Eighth and Tenth avenues, above One Hundredth street, that during the past week building operations have been started on the northwest corner of Tenth avenue and One Hundred and Seventh street; on the east side of Ninth avenue, 75 feet north of One Hundred and Fifth street; and along the Boulevard, between One Hundred and Seventh and One Hundred and Eighth streets.

We are pleased to see that the Fire Commissioners, who are the new custodians of the Department of Buildings, have reappointed Mr. John J. Tindale to be plan clerk and Mr. William H. Class to be record clerk, positions they have held with credit for many years. Mr. Tindale, in fact, having presided over his branch of the office since the original organization of the Building Department, and we congratulate the appointees that their merit has been recognized. During the busy season, when applications for building and making alterations, removals, etc., are literally piled into the Department it requires all the experience and sagacity even of such an old officer as Mr. Tindale to keep anything like order among the documents of this Department.

Considerable activity prevails just now in Brooklyn in the sale of houses. Mr. Joseph Townshend, who is building ten houses on Hancock street, on the Brevoort farm, has already sold four of them before being finished for about $8,000 each. They are three-story brown stone houses, 20x45. Mr. Jackson, who is building twelve houses on Halsey street, has already sold six of them. Mr. J. E. Duff has sold a house on Macon street, between Marcy and Tompkins avenues, for $9,000. In fact, within a radius of a quarter of a mile where these houses have been sold there are about fifty houses being built, and there appears to be a steady market for all of them. In Cumberland street (No. 198), a new $20,000 brown stone dwelling is going up, and in Hewes street, 300 feet east of Lee avenue, Mr. L. Sammis is building a house which will cost $25,000.

The map of a new elevated road has been filed in the Kings County Register office, but property owners seem to be of opinion that for the present sufficient provision is being made to accommodate Brooklyn in the line of rapid transit. The route as laid out on the map begins near the junction of Fourth avenue and Forty-second street, this city, thence through streets and private property to a point on the East River, between Wall street and Catherine Ferries, thence across the river by a bridge to a point in Brooklyn between the landings of the same ferries, and over along streets and private property to the junction of Fulton street and Myrtle avenue, near the Brooklyn City Hall. Thence the route runs through and along streets and over private property to the junction of Fulton street and Flatbush avenue, and out to the Cemetery of the Evergreens, in the town New Lots.

While, in another column are set forth the figures showing the continued interest taken in real estate, bonds and mortgages by the various life insurance companies, quarter day, which occurred on Monday last, brought vividly to mind the accuracy of judgment on the part of some holders and the errors of those who criticised certain investments made now four years ago. It was in 1876, when the Charter Oak Life purchased about four million dollars worth of property in the business centre of this city, at a trade price. There were to be found any number of men then who considered the price paid excessive. To-day the total of real estate owned by this company produces a net income of 5.69 per cent., while the average rent received by other companies for their real estate in this and other states does not reach 3 per cent. Of course, careful management under the superintendence of Mr. Henry C. Clench, the agent, has resulted in the introduction of improvements, such as the completion of new methods of heating, elevators, alterations, etc., but the fact that on the first of August last the rent received for the company's property amounted to $10,000 more than it did during the corresponding date of last year, shows the wisdom of the original investment as well as the careful manner in which it has been handled.

Messrs. Siegmund T. Meyer & Sons and others are reported to have secured a large granite quarry at Freeport, Me. They propose to organize a company and supply this market with an excellent quality of granite.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—There is not much in the market at the moment, and few items of interests can be given. Possibly a slightly better tone has in a few cases been developed on Haverstraw stock, but it did not amount to enough to change the run of prices, and much the same figures are current as a week ago, from $5 to $5.50 per M covering about all the business, the latter figure somewhat extreme. On "Up River" make, the cost ranges from $1 for poor up to about $1.30, though a few extra fine have done a fraction better. General demand has kept up fairly and has been met by a fair offering with now and then a little more than could easily be disposed of, though the surplus was not weighty. Advices from the primary points report that production has been somewhat checked, and stock to a moderate extent injured by the recent stormy weather. Quite enough brick are making, however, to satisfy the necessities of the market and some of the manufacturers assert that they must soon stop work, in view of having filled up storage room and lacking facilities for steady shipment. Pale Brick do not appear to have been doing quite so well this week the demand falling away somewhat and the price receding to $3@3.25 per M. Fronts are firm with a moderately active demand prevailing.

HARDWARE.—Buyers generally continue to move with caution, but the attendance is larger, and the market shows signs of increasing business. The invoices as made up cover about a general run of standard and seasonable goods, and there is evidently no attraction to handle anything except the positively useful. Some increase of the local demand may also be advised, especially in the way of builders hardware. A few changes continue to be made in values, but the average tone is steadier, with a tendency toward an increase of strength.

LIME—The position remains much the same. Former prices have been asked and obtained without difficulty, and the bulk of the offering quickly disposed of, especially the Eastern stock, and more could probably be placed. Indeed, the selling interest, as a rule, speaks quite confidently over the position, and assert that no serious reaction can take place on prices this fall.

LUMBER.—Business on the whole is rather moderate, but is slowly gaining and quite an undertone of cheerfulness may be found throughout the market. A few buyers still cling to the hope that by holding off they may influence the offering of better terms, but this is a policy daily becoming less general, especially where it is necessary to order supplies ahead of consumption, and some of the agents report their business as really good. Prices are maintained at the former level in most cases, with a few signs of slightly buoyant character. The Eastern product appears to have rather the best support, but the Northern and Western feels the influence of the advices from interior markets, and supplies from the Southern points are offered with less freedom than heretofore. The stocks here receive some additions, but nothing calculated to make any heavy accumulation, and it would require only a good fair distribution to seriously diminish both quantity and assortment.

Spruce is reported in a firm and promising condition by most receivers. Odd and undesirable randoms, it is admitted, would have to be handled with care to bring much of a price, but any thing at all attractive it is calculated would find ready customers and command a full figure without much difficulty. Specials, of course, vary according to the cut, but very few manufacturers will consent to take extra difficult schedules, and those who do insist upon very extreme rates. Indeed $18@20 is quite generally quoted for the best cuts, and randoms range at $14@17, with nothing very attractive at the inside figures.

White Pine is a little more plenty, but it will all be wanted, and a great deal more in all likelihood, and holders are strong and confident in their views. Advices from primary sources are still strong. Present demand is in the main for consumption, though some exporters are "looking around." We quote $17@19 per M. for West India shipping boards; $23@24 for South American do.; $15.50@16.50 for box boards; $17@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine does not show quite so much depression as last month. There is a great deal of stock yet to be disposed of, and the special orders are not coming out quite so free as hoped for, but sellers appear to have in a measure abandoned the effort to urge business and stand out with more determination for steady rates. All full fair bids, however, receive attention. We quote random cargoes at about $24@25 per M.; ordered cargoes, $24@26 do.; green flooring boards, $25@26 do.; and dry do. do. $25@27. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $20@21 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods are firm on all the favorite styles and available only at full figures, but buyers move a little slowly and seem to hope they will force a concession. We quote at wholesale rates by carload, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. culls, $18@20 do. cherry, $45@47 do.; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles selling about up to the present average for shipment, and also going out fairly on home account with prices steady. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and to quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch, $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@11.75 for No. 1.

Among retail dealers business is good and the tone of the market firm for all regular descriptions of stock.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

An Am barque, 459 tons, from Portland to Buenos Ayres, lumber, $13.50 net; a Br barque, 281 tons, from St. Simm's Island to Rio Janeiro, lumber, $18.50 net; a schr, 224 tons, hence to Point-a-Petre, white pine lumber, $7; an Am barque, 406 tons, from Wilmington, N. GENERAL LUMBER NOTES. STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending August 3, is reported by the Argus as follows:

We have a good, steady trade to report in pine lumber, during the week, at firm prices; although we have not any improvement to report in quotations, there is increasing firmness, with a strong tendency to an advance in uppers. The trade during the month of July has been very large—the largest of any month of July for the past ten or twelve years. Though the receipts for the fourth of July week were the largest of any week this season, and the month's receipts have been about 60,000,000 feet, there is no apparent increase in stocks, so steady has been the drain.

Coarse lumber has been in large demand and very firm in price; the receipts are readily taken on arrival; Spruce is in very light stock; Hemlock is running very low. The northern mills are doing little owing to lack of water.

Ottawa reports the prospect of a large fall trade in sawn lumber as very good.

The receipts of lumber by lake at Buffalo for the week are 3,894,000 feet; by rail, 76 cars. At Oswego, 5,909,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to August 1st, were:

Bds & Sctg. ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c.f.	Staves, D
1880..	175,020,500	974	5,400 257,000

Freights from Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25 @ M. feet; from Saginaw, $2.50. From Buffalo to Albany $2.65; from Tonawanda to Albany, $2.50 @ M. feet. Lake Ontario freights from Port Hope to Oswego, 9c. @ M. feet, from Toronto to Oswego, 10c., and from Oswego to Albany, $1.75. From Ottawa to Albany $3.50 @ M. feet.

River freights are without change.

THE WEST.

[Special correspondence of REAL ESTATE RECORD].

CHICAGO, Aug. 4, 1880.

Although the receipts of lumber at this point for this season have exceeded those for last year to the same time by some sixty odd million feet, there has been but little more than the usual quantity offered for sale afloat. The business transacted at the cargo market has not been proportionate in volume to the gross arrivals or sales from the yard, and it is undoubtedly this circumstance, as much as anything, that has enabled the sellers of lumber afloat to realize so much better prices than could be obtained by the yard dealers. It is not to be understood, of course, that the wholesale market has been firm at all times. It has had its spells of weakness, but they have usually been of very brief duration, and none of them serious enough to cause the commission much trouble. Occasionally, from six to a dozen cargoes have been carried over night and, in a few instances, concessions of one or two shillings have been necessary to clear the docks, but the general run of operations have been free from such drawbacks. The fact that the market has kept up so firmly is all the more remarkable because of the systematic attempt on the part of the buyers to break it down. They used their best efforts during the earlier weeks of the season to this end, and, in fact, have only recently given up the job. They were unfortunate in selecting piece stuff as the chief point of attack, as it proved less plenty on the market than anything else, and, consequently, was more easily kept up. The manufacturers, too, made a determined resistance to the bears in this market, and adopted the very sensible course of keeping the lumber they made at the mills, instead of sending forward to be sold at whatever the buyers chose to offer. In this way there was all the time rather less on the market than was needed by the yards to maintain a fair assortment, and hence the lumber offered was in such good demand that prices had no chance to drop, but, on the contrary, kept gaining by degrees, until they reached the present range, which they have kept without much variation for some little time.

Just now the cargo market is slightly weaker than it has been, but not to such an extent as to cause any serious difficulty in placing the offerings of each day during the forenoon. The dealers who have been buying across the lake—and this includes nearly all of them—are now receiving the lumber contracted for pretty freely, and these docks are so full that they have no accommodations for cargoes from the market, which must be unloaded immediately. It is not thought that any material decline will occur in prices, unless their should be very large arrivals during the balance of the week, in which event it might be necessary for sellers to make some temporary concessions in order to get their vessels unloaded. The dealers now have so large a part of their stock bought that it is no object for them to force a decline at the market, and he compelled to accept a corresponding reduction on what they sell. This is now the best safeguard against any great display of weakness.

Manistee piece stuff sold, to day, at $9, and inferior grades brought $8.75. Common inch lumber can be bought for $9.50, and ranges from that figure to $11, according to quality. Boards and strips, from good to choice, are quoted at $14@18. Shingles are the firmest thing in the list. The quotations for Standards are $2, and $2.25, a sale of a choice cargo having been made, to day, at the latter figure. Extra shingles range as high as $2.40. Lath are steady, and reasonably firm at $1.60@1.65. The current prices may be tabulated about as follows:

Green joist and scantling.....	$8 75@ 9 00
Green boards and strips, common.....	9 50@11 00
Green boards and strips, medium.....	11 50@13 50
Green boards and strips, good to choice.....	14 00@18 00
Standard shingles.....	2 00@ 2 25
Lath.....	1 60@ 1 65

The situation of trade at the yards is in nearly all respects encouraging. The only thing that causes any uneasiness is the fact that there is a large supply of lumber on hand and a considerable stock to come forward. The monthly inventory is not yet completed, but, judging from the heavy receipts of the past month, it will show a large increase in the amount on hand, as compared with a year ago. It is a significant indication of the confidence the dealers have in the demand for lumber that this excess in the supply produces no weakness in prices. The list given in my last letter has been maintained even better than was expected. As far as your correspondent has been able to discover by diligent inquiry the uniform list of July 20 is, and has been all the time since that date, the standard in quoting prices, and only a few instances have come to light where the figures named therein have been cut in actual transactions. It is not certain when another list will be put forth, but an impression exists among the dealers that some items are quoted below their value, and it is pretty safe to say that this feeling will shortly take the shape of a request to the President of the Lumberman's Exchange to call another meeting. Dry piece stuff, it is thought, should be advanced to $12, and other items proportionately.

The demand is reported good by most operators, though a few, whose trade is largely in this State, complain that they are not receiving quite as many orders as they would like. The shipments continue increasing steadily, and this is after all the best evidence that the dealers are selling more lumber than they were a year ago. As a matter of fact, the business doing now is remarkable. It is still very early, and yet the yards are all busy, and transacting a business that a few years ago would not have been thought had for the height of the fall season. Indeed, our dealers have nothing to complain of, and it must be set down to their credit that they find no fault with the condition of their business.

The Secretary of the Exchange in this city, issued a supplementary report on the 30th ult., giving a comparison of stock on hand at principal points in the Northwest, July 1. He prefaces the figures with a remark to the effect that they are not accurate, being made up of estimates merely, but being obtained from reliable and well-informed members of the trade, he believes them to be as nearly correct as lumber statistics usually are. The following summary is probably all the editor of THE RECORD will care to publish:

Total.....1,741,004,621 1,348,325,633 1,383,757,844
This shows an increase of nearly 400,000,000 feet, which at first sight seems very large. But it really is not a thing to be alarmed at. It does not indicate a diminished trade, because there has been more lumber manufactured up to this time last year than in 1879, owing to the earlier starting of the mills. Besides, nearly one-half of this excess was on hand January 1st, and so the increase for the past six months, as compared with 1879, is only a trifle over 200,000,000 feet. There is no question but that the increase in the manufacture for the same time was much greater, so that instead of showing a smaller demand, these figures prove unmistakably that the demand has been larger.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, August 3, 1880.

The chief anxiety of manufacturers is to cut, cut, cut, to get up with orders and get some stock ready to meet the fall trade, which, it is generally believed, will be unusually brisk. Indeed, it is difficult to see what can prevent it. It is true there is dullness reported at New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, but at Boston, Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland and Toledo trade is unusually active for this time of the year, and there is a firm feeling prevalent. There is a little better disposition being manifest in New York. With good crops and money coming across the water to purchase the surplus, money cheap, labor fully employed and all kinds of business active, it cannot be otherwise than that business will be active. The circumstances favor this view, and the indications point to it. There is a lull in transactions in this market incident to the heated term, but there is no apparent change in the tone of the market, which is one of firmness in the maintenance of prices. A few lots are being sold, more than is usual at this time, and in all the sales reported there is no shading of prices, except a trifle upwards. The general run of prices is $7, $14 and $30, but $7.50, $15 and $32 is not uncommon. Occasionally a lot of coarse stock is sold at $6.50 and $13. It is reported that the highest figures here quoted have been refused.

Shingles are a ready sale, but much of the stock is engaged. Prices are firm at the quotations.

Freights much the same. To Buffalo and Tonawanda charters at $2.25, from Bay City, $2.50 from Saginaw; to Ohio ports, $1.75 from Bay City, $2 from Saginaw. The shipments of the past week have been about 28,000,000 feet.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

In looking over the general field, presented by the markets of the country, we find a unanimous expression of satisfaction from all sources, at the condition of the lumber trade. A glance at each of the market reports presented in this issue shows that "fair," "brisk," "lively" and "active" are the adjectives employed by our correspondents in all directions to express the condition of trade in their several localities, embracing the East, West and South. As regards prices, there is the same unanimity of opinion, expressed by the words "firm," "advancing," or at the worst "steady," while the declaration that a good trade exists and that the prospects are favorable for a good fall trade, is the same from all quarters. As regards the East, our reports from Albany show receipts in excess of any experience for many years past, with sales correspondingly large and prices firm. It has been an experience of past years that the East has called upon Chicago for the surplus stock of good lumber which has been in excess in this market, from the fact that the demand was less in the West for the better grades, than for coarser stock, but while it is true that the West is now a larger consumer of the upper grades, it is no less true that the shipments to the East have of late been heavy, and have comprised grades as poor as selected fencing.

At Boston the demand is active under the stimulus of heavy building operations which are in progress, or for which preparations are being made, and with a shortage in the supplies from the northern region, an active demand is being made upon the western sources of supply.

At Oswego, a port which embraces a larger proportion of Canadian receipts than any other on the chain of lakes, the amount of lumber received to date exceeds the experience of any other year in her history, to July 1, 7,700,000 feet, against from 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 as the average of several of the later years. This state of things tallies well with the indications of unusual activity in the Canadian lumber marts; in many of which, lumber is reported as of quick sale, ready demand, and with advancing values. The markets of the Mississippi valley, without exceptions, are reported firm and advancing in values, with a trade ranging from fair to brisk and active. The action of the Chicago dealers in establishing a uniform price list, is evidently being copied by the different markets in more active competition with this, and each gives promise of faithfully following where Chicago leads. The uniformly favorable character of our reports from all sections is anomalous, when we reflect that the hot weather of July is always looked upon as the dull season of the trade, not only in the fact that it is the season chosen by dealers for recreation and recuperation, but in the fact that the farming community are at this season too actively engaged in haying, harvesting and threshing their grain, to devote much attention to building improvements.

This season seems, however, an exceptional one, and while in the cities and larger towns the evidence of prosperity and improvement forbid the talking of a season of recuperation by the builders and artisans, who find no time for a play spell, the farming community seem also to appreciate the fact that lumber is likely to reach higher values, and are evidently laying in supplies for future use.

The railroad consumption of timber and lumber has attained proportions never before known, both in the building of new roads, and the renovation of old ones; and while for their purposes, and for the general consumption of the country, the demand for coarser stock is unparalleled, the consumption of good lumber is marvelous. One western road has recently contracted for 2,000,000 feet of A select and clear lumber, to be delivered along the line of its track, at points where it would at first thought appear that the commoner grades would be good enough to satisfy all legitimate demands. It is almost beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the fall trade of all parts of the country in lumber is to exceed the sanguine expectations of the most hopeful.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.

During the week we interviewed most of the lumbermen of the city of St. Paul, Anoka, Minneapolis, and a number from other points. We have also received a number of letters from various markets, from all of which we confidently predict a rise of from one to two dollars in lumber within the next forty days. Nearly all are in favor of an advance of $1; a few would prefer to go up 50 cents, and an occasional one believes it best to wait the harvest of the northwest before moving. St. Louis has followed Chicago up and is having a splendid trade. Eau Claire changed her list on Saturday $1 better, and is firm on prices. There is as little cutting on prices as we have ever known, in fact, we cannot hear of any shading except on green stuff in large orders, which should always have a separate list as it is not worth as much as dry, although by custom it is quoted in the northwest at the same figures. At nearly all the markets of the country there is made a difference of $1 between piece stuff and boards. Minneapolis still tries to run them together, which lead them to complication when they come in contract with Chicago and other competition. Manufacturing is progressing finely at all points, and stocks are getting into good shape for handling. Judging from all reports which reach us, Chicago will maintain her late advance, but she is not getting any considerable business from the country west of the Mississippi and the greed of a few may open the contest for a slice of this trade, notwithstanding they are getting a fair business from other sections.

THE EAST.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin reports:

In Western lumber there is continued firmness, with a good demand for the season. The receipts of the week have been light. Receivers report Michigan 4 inch uppers especially scarce. As we stated last week, the inquiry for Eastern lumber, which is generally delayed until the last week of August or the first of September, is now occurring in July. Spruce remains in strong position, and the manufacturers will make no overtures to effect sales. Parties who last year sold for fall delivery at $10, now refuse even as high as $14 for the same stuff. The Maine streams are low, and, with few exceptions, the steam mills are the only ones running. The demand for Southern hard pine continues to improve.

THE PROVINCES.

We find the following in the Montreal Journal of Commerce:

Trade fair. Good lumber meets ready sale at fair prices and is scarce. Large quantities of refuse culls are being yarded here which go into buildings put up for speculation. Most people have no idea that seven-eighths of the lumber used in this city is rank sap culls, too poor to export, but easily disposed of here, because it is cheap. This material quickly decays, and is totally unfit for house building, having neither strength nor durability. Architects and proprietors ought to take note of this notorious fact. Very little attention is paid to the quality of lumber used in buildings, even by experienced architects. These sap culls are mostly clear on one side, but, by examining the back of every board, it will be found that it is composed of decayed sap wood, which absorbs moisture like a sponge and decays rapidly, causing a bad, funky smell, which is very often blamed on the drains. Of course the greatest harm arises where the lumber is exposed to dampness or the weather. This shoddy material is very little used in England; the deals imported are almost free from sap.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trades Journal, with dates to July 24th, furnishes the following:

LONDON.

Events move slowly, and the expected f. o. w. fleet from the westward has not put in appearance yet, though a vessel now and again drops in to keep us reminded that the season has begun. There are twenty-one vessels chronicled as having sailed for this port from Quebec alone, but up to the time we are writing none have put in an appearance, though one of them, the Amclita, sailed as long ago as the 10th ult., but several will probably figure in our list of arrivals next week. The Marco Polo, also bound for London, that still maintains her character for good sailing, left on the 16th June, and the Queen of the North and Red Jacket are amongst those that ought to be near at hand.

LIVERPOOL.

The firmer tone evinced by holders of stock which was observable in this market a week ago continues to show itself more strongly, and prices all round are, speaking generally, somewhat higher.

The freight market being stiffer for Canadian shipments will tend to make prices higher, especially for first shipments to arrive, and as the season is remarkably late, the probability of a short supply for this season becomes every day more apparent, for up to the time of writing not a single vessel with pine timber from Canada has arrived. This is almost one month after the average date of arrivals by the spring fleet, and it is only a fair view to adopt of the present position that the supplies from Quebec and other St. Lawrence river ports will be curtailed by this period; that is to say, that owing to the late opening of the navigation, which lasts only about seven months, the probable time in which goods can be shipped from these ports will be one-seventh less than usual, unless much higher rates of freight than are now current are paid by shippers to induce vessels to go out for the summer and fall voyages. Everything at present seems to point to higher prices in the future. There is an improvement in the general trade of the country, as was noticed last week, and this is shown by the fact that there are now buyers at prices which were offered a short time ago without finding sellers.

Several large orders are in hand for pitch pine timber, and this article has made rapid advances in value within the past few days, from the fact that the close of the import season finds us with very moderate stocks on hands, and with little at sea. This state of affairs is not confined to this port alone, but in almost every direction inquiries are coming in for cargoes suitable for the outports, and which cannot now be filled, solely because the cargoes wanted are not afloat, and, as the season is virtually closed, only some small remnants lying over in America are available, and these are difficult to move, owing to the want of suitable tonnage to lift them.

The stock of hewn pitch pine timber in this port to-day cannot exceed 330,000 to 400,000 cubic feet, and of sawn timber only about half that quantity, and there is an order in the market now for about one-third of the entire stock of hewn timber, which if taken (and the probability is that every foot will be wanted) will place hewn pitch in a very good position for those who are fortunate enough to be holders of this stock. Of sawn timber the stock here now is about one-half of last year, say 200,000 feet, and, as we must have at least five months' consumption without any probable supplies, buyers will have to pay very high prices for this wood if they want it, as the consumption last month was about 150,000 feet. If we take the corresponding month of last year, when the demand was limited to 56,000 feet, we have less than four months' supply on hand, so that with a continuance of fair trade such as we have recently had throughout the country, by the time of the first arrivals of next season's shipments our markets will be quite bare.

Spruce deals are firmer in tone, and, although no advance can be made over recent prices, shippers are showing their confidence in the future by storing cargoes rather than accept present prices.

There have not been any auction sales during the past week.

Appended is a note in round numbers of the principal wood imports to Clyde during the current year till date, compared with the corresponding periods of 1878 and 1879:

NAILS.—In most respects the market remains about as before. Operators differ to a considerable extent over values and some appear to report a great deal more business than others, but the tendency is, evidently, to settle into better form, and a healthier tone is hoped for now that the cutting process on prices has, in a great measure, been abandoned. The increasing cost of iron, also, has a tendency to act as a stimulant.

We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $3.00@3.10; 8d and 9d, common do., per keg, $3.25; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $3.50; 4d and 5d, common, do per keg, $3.75; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $4.50; 3d, fine, per keg, $5.25; 2d, per keg, $5.25.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $3.25. Floor casing and hox, $3.75@4.50. Finishing, $4.00@4.75.

CLINCH NAILS.

1½ inch, $5.50@5.65; 1¼ inch, $5.25@5.35; 2 inch, $5.00@5.15; 2½ inch, $4.75@4.85; 3 inch and longer, $4.50@4.60.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Business still a little dull on the general market, but the volume is larger than a week or so ago and shows signs of a still further increase. Interior assortments are broken and reduced, and dealers feel the necessity of making good deficiencies to some extent, but have no desire to accumulate heavily. Supplies offering are very fair, both in quantity or assortment, with about former rates ruling on most goods in comparatively steady form. Leads, however, show irregularity, and we understand that "outside" lots are not only available but offered with some freedom, at quite a reduction from the regular list rates. Linseed Oil has found fair demand but no activity to speak of, and with pretty full offerings, the tone was rather slack on both Western and local makes. We quote at about 58¢ per gallon, from crushers hands.

PITCH.—The demand fair from regular sources, and the market in a general way is held steady. Supplies equal to the call in pretty much all cases. We quote at $1 85 @ 2 00 per bbl for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The jobbing trade has been fair and at pretty full rates, holders, generally, showing firmness. The wholesale market was largely subject to speculative manipulation, with values quite irregular, though the buyer was not allowed to gain much advantage, as the first hand accumulation is moderate and can be managed without difficulty. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 26½¢ @ 29½¢ per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Holders, with the supply well under control, continue to retain a very fair advantage, and the market is firm. There is a little more stock here, but apparently under good control, and mostly in second hands. We quote at $3 @ 3 25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $4 @ 3 25 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows:
The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

C. W. SWEET,

No. 137 BROADWAY

For the information of those owners of real estate who will now very shortly be called upon by a legally appointed Committee, charged with selecting the proper locality for the great World's Fair, we print in full to-day the law passed by the Legislature of our State conferring upon the International Commission extraordinary powers. We have expressed no views of our own in regard to the site that ought to be selected, and yet we have placed our columns at the disposal of those parties interested, who, under their own signatures, desire to detail at length the advantages of particular localities. In order to judge, however, of the extent, not only of the powers conferred upon the commission, but also of the rights and benefits that may accrue to any particular estate entering into any negotiation or arrangement with the legally constituted commission, we print the law in full in its present shape, and thus give food for reflection to those disposed to come to terms with the Committee on Sites.

Think of it, ye Pine street brokers, that £200,000,000, or $1,000,000,000, idle capital is now in London awaiting employment! Does it not take your breath away, while you glance at the numerous diagrams on your desks representing so many "eligible" lots? And yet, indirectly, and in due course of time, a slice of this vast capital will be invested in or around New York. Already have the leading organs of public opinion in England pointed to these United States for the remunerative employment of this capital, and a syndicate of foreign bankers is being formed to invest large blocks of this sum in the securities of leading Western railroads and also in manufacturing enterprises. The influx of this foreign capital, added to our own vast resources, can only increase the duration of a general prosperity, of which our own city will continue to reap vast benefits in the future, as much, if not more so, than it has in the past. Only, it will not do to forestall events and scare would-be investors by prices not as yet warranted by the situation. Let it be remembered when, next month, the market revives, that fresh capital is easiest secured whenever, notwithstanding an increased activity, prices are kept at a moderate standard.

CAN PERIODICAL DEPRESSIONS IN BUSINESS BE AVERTED?

The good old adage, "to prepare for war in time of peace," has not always been strictly followed in the past, and the neglect has frequently, it must be acknowledged, resulted to our disadvantage. It is, therefore, a healthy sign of the times when the value of this good old doctrine begins at last to be appreciated in this modern business world. At the Banker's Convention in Saratoga, while representatives from all parts of the country gave glowing accounts of the progress and prosperity of their respective sections, the question, "How to prevent periodical panics?" enlisted widespread attention, though no actual conclusion was arrived at. The discussion of the subject, however, by men so eminently schooled in practical finance, will lead at a later period, perhaps, let us hope, to beneficial results. It was acknowledged that in this country, more than in others, extremes always meet, that a period of depression is generally followed by one of extraordinary activity, and that the steady middle course in business is an exception and not the rule. The prime cause of these depressions, of course, was attributed to overtrading in good times, and also to the sudden refusal of banks to furnish accommodations whenever panic was at their very doors, thus intensifying the situation. In discussing the remedies at hand, allusion was made to the power of the United States Treasury, and the question was asked whether, in an emergency, the government could not be called upon to prevent widespread disaster. The excellence of the theory was admitted, but how, and in which manner, hampered as the Treasury is by Congress, this last resort could be made available, was not clearly stated. Neither was it really necessary to give at once a practical plan of operations. Sufficient that the subject has been broached, and there is ample time before the next panic is due for practical men like these bankers to work out this problem. The operations of the Treasury certainly have become an important factor in the business of the country since the close of the war, and through the length and breadth of the land the doings of the National Treasury are being felt in the various channels of trade. It does not come within our province to discuss the question whether the power thus exercised by the Secretary of the Treasury, with or without the aid of Congress, is in full accord with the principles underlying our political institutions, or whether this influence is salutary to the business interests of the country. The simple fact is, that it exists, and as such it must be acknowledged. It will certainly be of interest to the entire business community to watch and see if the bankers can agree upon some method by which the Treasury can be enlisted in a crusade against the recurrence of these periodical panics. Incidentally, while discussing the possible events of the future, the changed condition of the country in its internal business relations, were strikingly set forth by some of the Western bankers. All will remember how deeply indebted the West was only a few years ago to the East. Now we are told she is rapidly becoming a creditor instead of a debtor, and New York Exchange occasionally sells at a discount in Chicago and Milwaukee. It behooves business men generally to watch these various phenomena as they appear one after another. The changes through which the West and the South are constantly passing, give them increased weight in councils like the one just held at Saratoga, and if they can be relied upon to aid this community in averting periodical panics with their attendant disasters, we in New York will only the more rejoice at their increased financial strength and power.

Mr. Thomas J. Creamer's lengthy petition for a revision of the tax laws appears to be based upon the supposition that merchants, landlords, "money kings" and citizens generally are created simply for the benefit of our city government. The burden of his complaint is, that not enough money is handed in toward defraying the expenses of the government in this city, and that, therefore, the tax laws should be revised. He suggests the appointment of a number of clerks to overhaul the public records and make still further assessments, and then he wants the counsel of the corporation, with some "others"—no doubt politicians—to prepare a new tax code to be submitted to the Legislature, but all for the purpose of getting more money out of the pockets of the people for the benefit of the city government. Now suppose Mr. Creamer and his colleagues, while talking about the revision of the tax laws, and prattling about equalization of taxes, should start from the modern and just standpoint to reduce taxation, and to find out some way by which less money can be taken out of the people's pockets; in fact, to bear in mind that the happiness and prosperity of the people is the first consideration, and that the requirements of the city government are merely secondary. Then, and then only, will we have just taxation laws. But will ever politician or official agree to such a starting point? If so, the millennium is indeed at hand. There is plenty of talent abroad in this city ready and able to grapple with this vexed question, and disposed to submit amendments that will benefit the people, but not the pockets of those who feast at the public crib. So long, however, as it is asked to make new taxation laws inspired by untutored politicians, ever calling for more and more money, we are satisfied that the tax payers of our city will object, and rather bear the ills they now suffer, than fly to those they know not of.

The owners of office buildings in the lower part of the city ought to instruct the men having charge of elevators that there is a limit to the number of passengers they can carry, and that at no time they should permit these elevators to be overloaded. One of these days an accident will occur, resulting in loss of life, which may just as well be averted by timely caution and rigid discipline. There is the Boreel Building, for instance, also the Equitable Life Building, where there is a constant rush to the upper stories, and, at certain hours of the day, many of these elevators are dangerously overloaded. At the Boreel Building, the other day, the writer thoughtlessly entered one of the elevators which was already overpacked. One gentleman, at the moment of starting taking in the situation, asked to be let out, and his comments denunciatory of the practice of cramming so many passengers in one elevator were distinctly heard by those whose organs of caution were not so well developed. All went well fortunately, but a sigh of relief was plainly heard when the fourth story was reached and a number of passengers quitted the frail box. Upon descending the writer asked the man in charge how much weight these elevators could carry, and was told the estimate allowed "about a ton and a half." Remembering that he had just ascended in company with a load whose aggregate weights must have surpassed that limit, he made up his mind that the danger of entering one of the crowded elevators in a large office building now-a-days is about on a par with the risk one takes when going on a Sunday excursion steamer.

The time apparently is not far distant when our city will be entirely heated by steam, and when a householder will have to pay his monthly steam bill the same as he now pays his gas bill. How can it be otherwise, in this age of telephones and electric lights? Three companies have now obtained the franchise from the city authorities to lay pipes for that purpose through the various streets and avenues, the ordinance granting the privilege to the Prall Company only awaiting executive approval. The conditions of the grant to the latter company are so favorable to the city that even Alderman Marshall did not feel justified in opposing the ordinance as he had done in the case of the others. Three per centum on the gross receipts to be paid annually to the city, and ample security to be deposited before a single street is torn up, are the main features of this grant, which will result in a large revenue to the city treasury. Considering that the experimental operations of the company are limited to the area of one square mile until the authorities are satisfied that the utility of the scheme has been fully demonstrated, we do not see what further obstacles there can be raised against this company going ahead with their work, even before the winter months set in.

NEW YORK, August 7, 1880.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

There is a difference of opinion as to whether the bill restricting the building to not over 85 per cent. of the lot, passed. A number of us, not understanding the law, have watched THE RECORD for your opinion and comments, but have been disappointed. Will you, if possible, kindly give us light on the subject, and oblige a number of READERS.

No such bill was passed at the recent session of the Legislature. The act of 1873, as amended in 1879, restricting the building to 65 per centum of the lot is still in force. An amendment affecting section 13 of that law, was passed this year, and printed in THE REAL ESTATE RECORD of July 3d, page 614, but it did not change the space to be occupied by a building.—Editor R. LAWS OF NEW YORK.

CHAPTER 474.

AN ACT enabling any corporation created by act of Congress of the United States to acquire, hold, use and improve real estate for the purpose of an international exhibition.

Passed May 28, 1880.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be lawful for any corporation created by act of Congress of the United States, with power to hold an international exhibition in the State of New York under the supervision and auspices of the national government, by its president, commissioners or their agents, engineers, superintendents or others in their employ, to enter upon all lands or waters within the corporate limits of the city of New York, for the purpose of surveying, exploring, sounding, leveling and laying out the grounds necessary to be used for the holding of the international exhibition provided for by the act of Congress aforesaid, and to make such dykes, dams, ditches and drains as may be necessary, and of locating the same, and to do and erect all necessary work, structures, buildings and appendages thereon, doing no unnecessary injury to private or other property, and when the grounds, dykes, dams, ditches and drains and the location of other necessary work and structures shall have been determined upon, and a survey of the same duly made and filed by any such corporation, in the office of the clerk of the city and county of New York, it shall then be lawful for any such corporation, by any of its officers, agents, engineers, superintendents, contractors, workmen and other persons, in their employ, to enter upon, take possession of, hold, have, and use, occupy, excavate, fill in and grade such lands so surveyed and located; upon any arrangement or agreement entered into by any such corporation and the owners of the said lands, either by purchase, lease or otherwise.

SEC. 2. That if any such corporation or its officers or agents cannot agree with the owner or owners of such required lands or real estate for the use or purchase thereof or, if by reason of the legal incapacity or absence of such owner or owners, no such agreement can be made, a particular description of the lands so required for the use of any such corporation shall be given in writing, under the oath or affirmation of some engineer or proper agent of such corporation, and also the name or names of the occupant or occupants if known and their residence, if the same can be ascertained, to any justice of the Supreme Court, who shall cause such corporation to give notice thereof to the person or persons interested if known, and in this state, and if unknown and out of the state, to make publication thereof, as he shall direct, for a term of not more than twenty or less than ten days, and to assign a particular time and place for the appointment of commissioners, at which time, upon satisfactory evidence to him of the service or publication of such notice aforesaid, he shall appoint three disinterested persons to act as such commissioners to assess the price or value of said lands or the use thereof, who shall be affirmed or sworn before the said justice faithfully to execute the duties of such appointments, and after like notice to both parties of time and place, shall meet, review the premises and hear the parties and evidence if desired, and thereupon make such decision and award, together with a description of the said lands and the quantity, by whom owned and how situated and bounded, in writing, under their hands and seals, or the hands and seals of any two of them, to the justice by whom they were appointed, to be by him returned and filed in the office of the said clerk of the city and county of New York, together with all the papers before him relating thereto to be kept as a public record, and copies taken, if required by either party: and if either party shall feel aggrieved by the decision and award of the said commissioners, the party so aggrieved may appeal to the Supreme Court, at a special term thereof, by proceeding in the form of a petition to said court, with five days' notice in writing to the opposite party, of such appeal, which proceeding shall vest in the said Supreme Court full right and power to hear and adjudge the same, and upon payment or tender of the sum so found by the commissioners, such corporation shall be deemed to be seized and possessed of all such lands and real estate appraised as aforesaid, such seizure and possession not to prejudice the right of either party to further appeal, if they or either of them feel aggrieved. But no appeal as herein provided or allowed shall prevent such corporation from taking, using and occupying the said land or lands upon the filing of the aforesaid report, the value and damages being first paid, or upon a refusal to receive the same upon a tender thereof, or the owner or owners thereof being under legal disability, the same being first paid into the United States Trust Company; provided, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to authorize the said United States International Commission to enter upon and use any of the public parks of the city of New York for the purpose of said exhibition, except that by permission of the park commissioners of the said city the said United States International Commission may erect a permanent building or buildings in such public park or parks as may be designated and under such restrictions as may be imposed by said park commissioners.

SEC. 3. That the said lands so taken, used, occupied, leased or purchased by any such corporation, shall be exempt from taxation so long as used or occupied by any such corporation for the purpose of said exhibition, not exceeding the term of five years.

SEC. 4. That the said United States International Commission be and is hereby authorized and empowered to enter upon, close and use for the purposes of said exhibition, any streets, roads and avenues in the city of New York running through or by, or contiguous to the grounds which may be selected for the purposes of said exhibition. And it is hereby declared that such streets, roads and avenues as may be thus entered upon, are closed from the time of entering upon them until the first day of January, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, unless sooner given up by said United States International Commission; and the said United States international commission shall not be liable for any damage by reason of the closing of such streets, roads or avenues, and when such streets, roads or avenues are no longer needed for the purposes of said exhibition, they shall be restored as nearly as possible to the condition in which they were when entered upon.

AN ACT to amend title four, chapter six, part second of the revised statutes, relating to the powers and duties of executors and administrators in relation to the sale and disposition of the real estate of their testator or intestate.

Passed May 8, 1880.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section thirty of title four, chapter six, part second of the revised statutes, is hereby amended so that the same shall read as follows:

SEC. 30. If it shall appear to the Surrogate that such sale was legally made and fairly conducted, and that the sum bid was not disproportionate to the value of the property sold, or if disproportionate, that a greater sum, as above specified, cannot be obtained, he shall make an order confirming such sale, and directing conveyances to be executed. If it shall also appear to the Surrogate that the amount thereof will be sufficient to satisfy in full the costs and expenses of said sale, and all debts of the deceased proven before the surrogate and entered in his book as valid and subsisting, together with all the rights of dower thereon, if any, and that a creditor or creditors of said deceased, or either of them, whose claim has been proven and allowed by the surrogate, has become the purchaser of said real estate, or any part thereof, the surrogate, in the order of confirmation of such sale, shall, at the election of the purchaser, state the amount of such claim or claims of such creditor or creditors so allowed by him; and such purchaser shall be required to pay the surplus, if any, of the amount bid, after deducting the amount of such claim or claims only. In case the amount of such sales shall be insufficient to satisfy the costs and expenses of such sale, and the whole amount of the claims against the estate as proven and allowed on or before final distribution, then and in such case such purchasing creditor shall be allowed and credited on the amount bid by him, an amount equal to the amount he would be entitled to receive on distribution, and the balance of such bid shall be paid by such purchaser on such final distribution. In case any purchasing creditor shall elect to have the amount, to which he shall be entitled to receive from the estate, credited on his bid as aforesaid, he shall not be entitled to have a deed delivered to him until such final distribution.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

IMPORTANT REAL ESTATE DECISION.

The partition suit of Fairchild vs. Fairchild, resulted in the sale of certain real estate in New York. Among others, four lots were sold to Mr. Fellman, located, according to the map of sale on the southwest corner of Two Hundred and Fifteenth Street and Ninth Avenue. It appeared, in the argument before Mr. Justice Potter on the purchaser's motion to be relieved from his purchase, that Ninth Avenue as now laid out by the commissioners is 300 feet west of the line as indicated on the sales map. It was maintained in behalf of the motion that the purchaser bid for lots which he supposed were on the corner of the avenue and street, and that the representatives of the sales, the map and the auctioneer's statements led him to offer a higher price than he would have paid for inside lots. It was further insisted that under the pleadings, this defect could not be corrected by a description which would carry to the centre line of old Ninth Avenue. Justice Potter handed down a decision relieving the purchaser, with allowance, &c. M. S. Isaacs and A. L. Sanger for the motion—Edward C. James opposed.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

Only about half a dozen legal sales were held at the Exchange during the week, but there was an increased attendance. A vacant lot, on Forty-third street, west of Ninth Avenue, was disposed of at $6,689, and two small dwellings and lots, on Thirtieth street, west of Tenth Avenue, were sold for $6,725. In both cases the parties in interest secured the property. The foreclosure sale of the office building known as 24 Park place, running through to Barclay street, so often adjourned, finally came off yesterday. Only one bid, $90,000, was made by the Bleeker Street Savings Bank, as plaintiff, and at that figure Mr. Camp, the auctioneer, knocked it down. The amount due on the premises was $124,000. Our list at foot gives details of other sales.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

We ascertain from authentic sources that enquiry for down town investment property has been excellent during the past week. In this connection we ought to state that the First Ward is to be greatly benefitted by these investments. A prominent house in Pine street now has orders from parties having large blocks of money to purchase First Ward property only. They go upon the principle that the elevated railroads have settled the future of the lower part of the city, which at no distant time is bound to feel the improvement of the times to a greater degree than any other business section. All that lower part of Broadway and surroundings will be taken in hand very shortly for the purpose of accommodating the demands of those business firms who see their advantage at being in close proximity to the termini of the elevated roads.

Mr. H. H. Camman, owner of the Bedford apartment house, has, during the past week, begun to extend his building 64 feet along the east side of Tenth Avenue, between Eighty-second and Eighty-third streets, thus giving the entire building a frontage of 150 feet. It is only a few months since Mr. Camman threw his building open for the occupancy of tenants, and he is so completely satisfied with the results of his investment that this extension became virtually a necessity. When once owners thoroughly understand the excellent returns that follow the building of such houses on the West Side, many of them will follow Mr. Camman's example. The owner of the southwest corner of Eighty-third street and Tenth Avenue, it is said, is now considering the idea of improving his corner.

There has been considerable talk that some of the lots along the Boulevard, between Fifty-ninth and Seventieth streets, are to be improved. Owners like Mr. Eno, the Wormser Brothers and Mr. McAlpine, who own lots there, would find to their interest to construct first-class apartment houses. They cannot make better use of their money just now, and they will shortly find in their vicinity plenty of capitalists ready to imitate their good work.

The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company have just filed plans for two six-story brick warehouses, 100x200, to be erected on the east side of Tenth Avenue, between Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth streets, to cost $90,000 each.

Messrs. Scott & Myers have sold at private contract, a brown stone house, 20x65x100.11, on the south side of Fifty-seventh street, between Sixth and Seventh Avenues, to Mr. John F. Scott, for $40,000.

Mr. Harnett has sold the property on the north side of Seaview Avenue, 400 feet west of Ocean Avenue, Long Branch, 10'x250, to Thorndike Saunders, for $5,450.

Some property owners have expressed the opinion during the past week that there are quite a number of ornamental figure-heads on the World's Fair Commission. Politicians and orators are very well in their way, but there is an unlimited amount of hard work to be done, and the sooner the gentlemanly talkers make room for energetic workers, the better. Enterprising men like Mr. Edward Clark, Wm. Jennings Demorest, Dwight H. Olmstead, or H. H. Camman should be called upon to take the work in hand. There would then be less oratory, it is true, but the word "fail" would never even be mentioned in connection with the vast undertaking. These men don't know such a word, and mean business all the time.

Those interested in the real estate of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards may have been disappointed by the meagre details given in this column last week, in regard to a sale of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and Mott Avenue lots, caused by the lateness of the hour at which the information reached us. It will be seen by the particulars furnished to day in our regular column of transfers that the property alluded to covers a large patch of ground, that there were two transactions, and that an extensive manufacturing concern has taken title to the same.

The successful bidders for the New Bronx River Reservoir, are George W. Flower, who is to build the dam and reservoir near Kensico, for $199,568; Nicholas H. Decker (of Riverside Avenue fame), who will build the conduit, for $249,522, and Jones & McQuade, who will construct the outlet for the conduit at One Hundred and Fifty-Eighth street, for $47,550.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending Aug. 13:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—A somewhat better tone may be noted on the general market. The demand may not be called an unusually full one, but it has certainly picked up to a considerable extent since our last, and at times business had quite a lively appearance, good attractive cargoes meeting with ready attention and commanding full former rates, with an occasional fractional addition. Arrivals have in the meantime kept pretty well up to the former average, and this has given just enough surplus to prevent any positive general advance, though receivers feel somewhat hopeful that prices will work up a trifle during the present week. About all the purchases made have gone directly into consumption, and there is not much increase of the accumulation in the hands of either contractors or dealers. On the current range the quotations are placed at about $4 12½@150 for "Up Rivers," and $5@75 for Haverstraw according to quality. Pale brick have recovered somewhat from the temporary depression of last week and again sell very close to supply with values well maintained at $3.25, and some of the best worth $3.50 per M. At the yards the output of stock continues without much abatement, and while some of the manufacturers are still threatening to shut down, there is certainly no signs of a concerted action to stop production this month, nor is it thought work will stop so long as the shipments equal the daily make. In front there is a fair average trade doing, and a steady, cheerful market for most of the principal and favorite kinds.

HARDWARE.—Business shows gradually swelling proportions, and the market a corresponding gain of strength. As a rule, however, buyers are adopting a cautious policy, and present indications are not encouraging to the belief that matters can be greatly stimulated. Indeed, many of the Trade are somewhat disappointed that there is "no boom" on the market, and are forced to admit that the safety of business during the fall must be found in the conservative manner in which it is conducted. On local account the distribution is fair, and for standard styles of hardware tends toward an increase. Supplies in first hands are pretty full and tending toward an increase. A. W. Crossman & Son have issued a revised list of edge tools of their manufacture. The manufacturers of Augers and Chisels, and the manufacturers of Blind Trimmings have agreed that former rates shall remain in force. The agents of France's Shutter Holders announce the following reduced list: Japanned 6-inch, $2.40; 7-inch, $2.50; 8-inch, $2.60; 10-inch, $3.20; 12-inch, $4.25 per dozen. Galvanized 6-inch, $3; 7-inch, $3.10; 8-inch, $3.20; 10-inch, $4.25, and 12-inch, $5.75 per doz.—discount 20 per cent, net cash. In sympathy with higher cost of Hemp, manufacturers have advanced list prices of Cordage ½c on Manila and 1c on Sisal. The new list is as follows. Manila Cordage, sizes 12 th'd and hay and hide rope, 12½c; Manila do, 12 th'd (¾ in diam), 13c; Manila do, 6 th'd and 9 th'd (¾ in. and 5 16 in diam.), 13½c; do cordage, bolt rope yarns, 14c; do cordage, holt rope yarns, 6 th'd and 9 th'd, 15c; do whale lines, 14c; tar'd Manila, 12c; fine tar'd Manila, lath yarn, 13½c; Sisal rope, sizes above 12 th'd and hay and hide rope, 10c; do, 12 th'd (¾ in diam.), 10½c; do, 6 th'd and 9 th'd (¼ inch and 5-16 in diam), 11c; tar'd Sisal lath yarn, 9½c.

LATH.—The firmness and confidence of receivers seems to at last obtain endorsement, and the market has commenced to improve. As yet the consumption is not very full, but indications of what will be required are shown, and there is a tendency to prepare for the future. A great many small dealers have shown considerable anxiety, and several of the larger buyers have expressed a desire to secure supplies, affording encouragement to the selling interest from the side of demand, while the indications as to supply continue to point to moderate amounts and rather slow and careful shipments. On spot and to arrive we hear of sales at $1.60@1.65 per M, and still higher figures are in some cases asked at the close.

LIME.—All reports from agents of both Eastern and State stock are of a cheerful character, and the market appears to be quite well sustained. Thus far supply has balanced demand, and prevented any further addition to cost, but there was no surplus cargoes afloat and none expected, for the present at least. The accumulations in second hands is comparatively small, as most recent purchases were for early consumption.

LUMBER.—The average condition of the market is promising. There is an occasional "hitch" in the movement, and extreme pretensions on price are not by any means generally realized; but negotiations are progressive, a larger amount of stock is finding customers, and all the indications appear favorable for a steady and full fall trade. The dissatisfied element on the market is that portion of the trade who have been in search of a "boom," and not finding it ready, to start up a new and unnecessary inflation of values, incline to indulge in a grumble. The very slow form of the improvement, however, is its greatest strength, and if the distribution of supplies proves as good as current indications seem to indicate, values are not likely to go back much, except under unusual influences. The export trade still appears to be somewhat uncertain, but the majority of dealers expect to place an average amount on West India orders at least.

Spruce still rather takes the lead in the showing of strength, and values quite generally are well supported. It of course makes some difference whether the buyer or seller open negotiations, and occasionally the apparent anxiety to dispose of a cargo leads to a trifling shading. There is not much difficulty, however, in finding a customer for anything of attractive quality, while choice is quickly snapped up at full rates. There is a great many calls for specials, but buyers are slow to close in view of the extreme rates asked and the uncertainty about delivery. It is barely possible that a poor special might be obtained at $14, but $14.50@16.50 is the general range, and from the latter figure up to $20.00 per M specials are quoted.

White Pine remains quite firm on the accounts from primary sources. The condition of business here can hardly be called stimulating, but dealers have encouraging expectations for the future, and the majority are either openly or quietly looking up and securing desirable parcels of stock. There has been more export trade of late, principally on West India orders, but we understand it was only accomplished by shading cost somewhat. This reduction, however, has since been recovered, through the chances of a temporary scarcity of export goods, consequent upon the Hunters Point fires, it will probably require several weeks to make good the loss of shipping lumber and bring the stock up to the former amount. In the meantime, however, there is considerable lumber left, both free and bonded, even in the hands of parties who have suffered by the fire, and unless an extraordinary demand should set in there is nothing to warrant much buoyancy. The South American and East India orders amount to very little. We quote $17@19 per M. for West India shipping boards; $23@24 for South American do.; $15.50@16.50 for box boards; $17@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow pine develops an irregular tone. A portion of the trade are inclined to talk staidly and assert that full bids would be required to secure stock, while others still speak rather tamely and admit a want of strength on values. It is probably to a large extent a simple matter of quality, and while a special and difficult offering has a natural extreme limit, average quality and "off grade" favor the buyer. There is said to be quite a full amount of stock here still unsold, and the mills are general anxious for orders. We quote random cargoes at about $24@25 per M.; ordered cargoes, $24@26 do.; green flooring boards, $25@26 do.; and dry do. do. $25@27. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $20@21 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods of seasoned and attractive quality are in demand and will readily command extreme rates, but poor stuff goes begging and has no fixed value. We quote at wholesale rates by carload, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. culls, $18@20 do. cherry, $45@47 do.; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $55@75 for good nearby stock.

Yard trade appears to be flourishing with most dealers and full prices are obtained all around, the general tone of business proving quite cheerful.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br barque, 314 tons, from Guisborough to Liverpool, birch timber, 2,700 net; an Am barque, 605 tons, from Mobile to Rio Janeiro, lumber, private terms; an Am schr, 330 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Rio Janeiro, lumber, $16 net; an Am barque, 474 tons

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending August 10, is reported by the Argus as follows:

We have very active, and a very healthy business to report in the District during the week. The receipts, as the figures below show, continue free; stocks are ample and well assorted. Quotations on all kinds of Pine Lumber are firm, and are without change.

Coarse Lumber is in good supply, and in stiff demand; still the supply does not come forward as fast as it is wanted; some lumber is still being made, but water is sadly wanted at the Northern mills; Spruce boards and plank are advanced in price; Hemlock is firmly held, and is in moderate stock.

The Saginaw markets are very strong; the sales there for the Eastern markets have been very free, and as the receipts at Buffalo indicate shippers seem disposed to take advantage of what they call the present low freights. That remains to be seen. If Wheat should continue to seek the East by rail, as is now the case, instead of lake and canal, and Lumber should be rushed forward thus early, freight for the lake soon would be less plenty than it now is. Meanwhile the Saginaw papers, who ought to be well posted, are full of hope.

"The chief anxiety of manufacturers is to cut, cut, cut, to get up with orders and get some stock ready to meet the fall trade, which, it is generally believed, will be unusually brisk. Indeed, it is difficult to see what can prevent it. It is true there is dulness reported at New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, but at Boston, Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland and Toledo, trade is unusually active for this time of the year, and there is a firm feeling prevalent."

The shipments from Saginaw valley for the first week in August were 14,230,000 feet; for July, 130,776,000 feet, and from the opening of navigation to first of August, 404,189,160 feet.

The Canadian markets are very strong; at Ottawa, the stock for sale is very light. Sales of round lots have been made there this season ahead of anything that has ever been reported. English buyers of Deals at Ottawa are willing to contract for next season at the present high prices; this is a very strong indication of the future of that market.

The receipts of lumber by lake at Buffalo for the week are 14,953,000 feet; by rail, 107 cars. At Oswego, 6,091,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to August 8th, were:

Bds & Setg. ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c.f.	Staves, D
1880..	128,472,500	1,463	5,400

Freights from Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25 per M. feet; from Saginaw, $2.50. From Buffalo to Albany $2.65; from Tonawanda to Albany, $2.50 per M. feet. Lake Ontario freights from Port Hope to Oswego, $1.10 per M. feet, from Toronto to Oswego, 100c., and from Oswego to Albany, $1.80@1.85. From Ottawa to Albany $3.50 per M. feet. River freights are without change.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette,

August 10, 1880.

The condition of this market continues good, although sales not very numerous. It is not the season of great activity in transactions; still there are buyers in the market and inquiries for stock are coming in constantly. It is not the easiest thing to place orders, on account of the large amount of lumber sold ahead. Prices are firmly held and a shade advanced, good stock commanding $7.50@7.50 for culls, $24.50@25 for common, and $30@35 for uppers, with an occasional placing of choice stock at $8, $16 and $36. Fair stock can be bought at $7, $14 and $30.

Shingles are moving firmly at $1.90@2 for clear butts, $2.90@3 for XXX, approved brands, culls at various figures below.

The general outlook for the fall trade is of an encouraging character. The Eastern markets are in good heat and the consumption of lumber is active and increasing. Even New York has abandoned its bear movement, convinced that it cannot affect the market and may itself suffer by waiting too long before dipping in for supplies. Boston and Albany are active and promising.

Large contracts ahead are reported as having been placed among western Michigan mills, and orders coming freely without solicitation.

Lake freights remain unchanged, although charters are not numerous nor easy to obtain. Bay City to Buffalo, $2.25; to Ohio ports $2.

The Northwestern Lumberman in its regular review after summarizing the condition of the market at New York and Albany, proceeds as follows:

Boston and other Eastern points report an increasing activity in trade, with a feeling of uneasiness regarding the supply of coarse stock to be available in the season. Should the Northeast be favored with heavy rain, however, the autumn stocks will be ample. At the South, the prospects are more favorable than for many years. In Louisiana and Texas, particularly, the droughts of several years have mitigated against the supply of surplus stock, but from both sections we have private advices to the effect that copious rainfalls have so raised the streams that a supply sufficient for several years reserve has been brought within reach. Prices, meantime, have not suffered, and the dealers express satisfaction at the outlook for the future as well as the present. In eastern Michigan a lull is reported in trade, largely from the fact that contracts for nearly the entire product of the summer have been entered into, and buyers prefer to wait for awhile before contracting too far into the autumn sawing. Interior Michigan reports an excellent trade upon special orders, coming freely and without solicitation, and maintaining good prices. Western Michigan mills report large contracts ahead; stocks all in boom limits, and the lumber contracted ahead in about the proportion of two thirds of the season's business. Orders for timber and long dimension stuff are plentiful, and in excess of ability to fill. The Wisconsin and Mississippi districts, as a whole, presents a most favorable aspect. The mills in all directions are striving to overcome the disadvantage under which they labored from the recent freshets, and many of them are running nights. The stocks on hand, as represented elsewhere in this issue, are conceded to represent only a transfer of the product from the log to lumber at an earlier date than is usual, and not, to so great an extent as was anticipated, a vastly increased season's production.

At all Western points the volume of trade is reported as large, phenomenally so for the season of the year, with prices firm and advancing. The recent advance in prices at Chicago has proved universally acceptable to the Western trade, whose lists have been corrected to correspond with Chicago. Its effect upon consumption has not been in the slightest degree unfavorable, so far as reported country dealers having been expecting it, and preparing their customers to look forward to it. Still anomalous as it appears, stocks in the country yard are reported but moderate, and in many instances decidedly small, showing that dealers, while expecting an advance, have held off from making their purchases, probably with a vague hope that something might turn up to favor them. In the Southeast, and from Toledo, O., to Louisville, Ky., a brisk trade is advancing prices, with a difficulty in filling orders from lack of well assorted dry stock, seems to be general experience among the dealers. The outlook in all directions is as favorable for a heavy fall trade as could be desired. The foreign demand for white and yellow pine is better than for some years betokening a revival of prosperity elsewhere as we as in the United States.

In another column will be found a communication from La Crosse, Wis., signed "M.," in which the writer states that not more than 50,000,000 feet of lumber will be offered afloat in rafts this season; the class known on the Mississippi River as strict dealers; that the Chippewa stock is out of the market; the Wisconsin dried up, and so forth. To those who may not understand the situation, this needs little qualifying statement that such is the condition of things, not from any particular shortage in the supply, but because the class of operators spoken of have been sharp enough to contract ahead for a goodly amount of stock, "which is why" there may not be more than 50,000,000 to be found during the balance of the season. The manner in which a thing said often conveys a very different meaning from what is intended, or may be the facts. The situation of the Western trade is good enough for all classes of operators, just as it is, without any coloring in either direction. There will be a goodly supply of lumber for sale at all the Western markets—fully as much has ever been sold in one season—and there is just good evidence that every board of it will be called for—and perhaps more.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER,
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., August 5, 1880.

From St. Louis to Clinton the markets are following up the start made at Chicago two weeks since in matter of prices. The situation at the latter place so hopeful that another advance is more than probable at an early date, provided the competing markets on the east and west side of it support the present one. The matter of an advance in prices at the northwestern yards is under discussion. We do not believe there is any mill men in the West who are dissatisfied with the present demand for lumber, in fact they are so well satisfied with it that many hesitate about changing their lists for fear it might intercept the very comfortable business. Notwithstanding this, all concede that in the northwest prices are ten per cent. too low on nearly all grades, measured by the demand and supply, as well as the cost of production; on competing prices the markets of Minnesota and Wisconsin ought to advance prices. The harvest clean to the extreme north are now so nearly assured as to leave no room for excuse on that score. Saginaw prices of to-day show more advance than any other section, so that to her belongs the credit of moving at the head of the column. Her figures compare as follows: Culls $5 to $7, common $10 to $14, uppers $27 to $35.

Bay City, go up ahead and take your sister with you!

THE EAST.

The Boston market is reported as follows:

During the week under review the market for Western Pine has maintained its strength, and there is continued confidence in higher prices on the part of those who are closely watching the course of events. Scattered stocks are being picked up, which fact will leave the market in good position for fall trade. The general verdict is that the demand is good for the season, and certainly better than last year. The unfavorable weather of the past week, however, has tended to check sales. Hardwoods are rather quiet, but some inquiry prevails.

All kinds of Eastern lumber are in good request, the call for large sizes of spruce being especially heavy, and difficult to readily supply. Pine, which has rather favored the buyer of late, is again stiffer. There is nothing to indicate weakness among the Maine lumbermen. At present writing it is too early to determine the effect of the late rains on the streams. Shingles are dull. There is no change in Southern hard pine.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trades' Journal, London, July 31st, contains the following encouraging items:

The tardy fleet from Quebec have at last found their way to our shores, and certainly do not arrive inopportunely, especially to the London market, where they will find a tolerably clear field, the stocks of pine being very moderate. The whole number to hand at the time of going to press is under thirty, out of which thirteen have gone to Liverpool, ten to London, and the rest distributed over the other out-ports.

The pause in the importation of timber, which has been rather remarkable for July, after the heavy importation of the earlier months of the present year, seems to have inspired the trade with confidence in every part of the United Kingdom, and an attentive perusal of our last impression will show that a more hopeful spirit was visible in nearly all our trade reports than could be easily elicited from those of June just gone by.

Our Liverpool correspondent, usually cautious of words and reticent of sanguine views, at length speaks out without reserve, and with a voice of no uncertain sound. "Everything at present," he tells us, "points to higher prices in the future," and he supports his opinion by reasons which tend very much to confirm its correctness. He sees no likelihood of any excessive importation this season, and in its absence there can be no disputing his theory that prices must rise; in fact, they had already risen on some descriptions of timber, and the stock of pitch pine on hand and afloat seemed considerably short of what the demand, estimating it by comparison with past seasons, is likely to require. On those descriptions of wood—spruce, for instance—on which no advance could yet be obtained, merchants preferred storing to selling, as likely to pay them better later on.

The same views seem to be entertained at Hull, whence we learn that "the signs are a firm maintenance of the ruling prices, and a tendency to advance upon all classes of stuff."

At Hartlepool there was less talk of better prices, but improving prospects were not wanting, as may be gathered from the observation that "but few hills of lading are held here at present by merchants, from which it is evident that in the immediate future importations are not likely to be very large."

Our Tyne correspondent, who is also, as a rule, rather chary of encouraging language, preferring to let his facts tell their own tale, informs us that the importation for the last few days had been small. A fleet was expected from Quebec, of whose cargoes considerable sales had been made for arrival of the ships; "no great quantity, therefore, would be thrown on the market on first arrivals." Pitwood and staves were in good demand, and owners of sawn goods appeared "inclined to ask higher rates," but, he added, "as so little demand is felt, it will be somewhat difficult to obtain them."

In Glasgow the importation had been greatly in excess of last year, though not a single cargo of Quebec timber had yet arrived, and only one of deals; but from St. John, N. B., Pensacola, &c., more than double as much as last year. A good deal of business had been doing there in inferior stuff at low rates, but it was likely that the new arrivals from Quebec would attract buyers and obtain good prices.

Turning from the north to the west of England, we still find that if prices are not mending they are not going back in comparison of late sales, and at auction of Messrs. King Bros., on Wednesday, the 21st inst., at Bristol, goods were reserved if fair prices could not be got for them, and an inspection of the list of prices realized will show that some goods went fairly well. The worst, perhaps, was that obtained for 1st bright Quebec pine deals at £18 5s., but the two lots sold at that price might have been in doubtful condition, as it seems, though there were thirteen more lots to sell, these were not to be had at that price.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has sold fairly on the spot and with much liberality for the future, imparting a strong tone to the market and reducing the offerings. We quote at 19@19½ for Lake. Manufactured Copper moderately active and about steady. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper ordinary size over 16 oz per square foot, 28c per lb; do do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz per square foot, 30c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz, per sq foot, 32c per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz per sq foot, 31c per lb; circles less than 8 1/2 inches in diameter, 31c per lb; do 8 1/2 inches in diameter and over, 31c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 31c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 28c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 26c per lb, and Bolt Copper, 28c per lb. IRON.—Scotch Pig, in most cases, continues to be held with a showing of firmness and offerings are carefully made. Demand, however, does not assume full proportions and buyers resist a further advance. We quote at $22 50@26 per ton, according to brand and quantity. American Pig is not "booming" to the extent hoped for. A fair trade takes place and the offering is careful, especially of choice No. 1 brands, but buyers do not submit to an advance and there is an absence of vigor to the demand. Of the ordinary grades a full supply may be found available. We quote at $27.00@28 per ton for No. 1; $23@24 do for No. 2; and $21@22 for forge. Rails have met with a very good demand, and for prompt delivery could have been sold freely at full rates. Manufacturers and holders, however, were indifferent, and, as a rule, seem confident of a still further advance. We quote at $16@18 for iron and $6@6½ for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $27@28 per ton; scrap $28@30. Manufactured Iron is in fair demand, and well maintained in value, the greatest strength shown on structural shapes. We quote Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes at 2 1/2@2 3/4 c. from store, and Refined at 2 1/2@2 5/8 c; wrought beams at 3@3 1/2 c. Fish plates quoted at 2 1/4@2 3/4 c.; track bolt and nuts, 3 1/2@3 3/4 c. railway spikes, 2 1/2 c.; tank, 2 7/8 c.; angle, 2 7/8 c.; best flange, 4@4 1/2 c.; and domestic sheet on the basis of 3 1/4 c. for common Nos. 10@20. Other descriptions at corresponding prices, with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD.—Domestic Pig has not been very active and with comparatively free offerings, the market ruled weak. No danger of a real scarcity seems apprehended. We quote 4 1/2@4 5/8 c. The manufactures of lead are steady and quoted: Bar, 6c; Pipe, 6 1/2 c.; and Sheet, 7c. less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 15c. Block Tin pipe, 40c. on same terms. TIN.—Pig has been somewhat irregular, but the general tone was a trifle easier owing to reduced inclination for speculation and somewhat better prospects for supplies. We quote 20 1/4@20 3/4 c. for Australian, 20 1/2@20 5/8 c. for Straits, 20 1/2@20 5/8 c. for English Refined, 2 1/4@20 1/2 c. for do. Common. Tin Plates have found a more liberal sale, and with the general supplies under good control, the tone on prices was generally firmer. We quote I. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment, $6.25@6.37 1/2 c. for Allaway grade, and $6.37 1/2@6.50 for Melyn grade; I. C. Coke $5.37 1/2@5.50 c. for B. V. grade; $5.37 1/2@5.50 for Yspitty grade; Charcoal terne $5.62 1/2@5.75 for Allaway grade, 14x20; $12@12 25 for do., 20x28; Coke terne, $5.25@5.37 1/2 for Glais grade, 14x20, and $11@11 1/2 c. for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter has sold fairly on the usual consumptive outlet, and with only a small supply offering, prices were held pretty firmly. Quoted 5@5 1/2 c. Sheet Zinc not very active, but remains steady at 7 1/4@7 1/2 c., according to quantity.

AILS.—The market has a somewhat firmer tone, in view of the reduced amount offering, and more general inclination among holders to stand out for a uniform rate. Buyers, however, are not taking supplies to any great extent beyond early wants, and as yet no positive difficulty has been experienced in filling orders.

We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $3.00@3.10; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $3.25; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $3.50; 4d and 5d, common, do per keg, $1.75; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $1.50; 3d, fine, per keg, $5.25; 2d, per keg, $5.25. Cut spiker, all sizes, $3.25. Floor casing and box, $3.75@4.50. Finishing, $4.00@4.75.

CLINCH NAILS.

1 1/2 inch, $5.50@5.65; 1 3/4 inch, $5.25@5.35; 2 inch, $5.00@5.15; 2 1/2 inch, $4.75@4.85; 3 inch and longer, $4.50@4.60.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Some further slight increase is shown in the volume of business, and as the movement of supplies grow, dealers make a gain of confidence in accordance. Thus far the call has covered a fairly general assortment, but the standard goods are adhered to as closely as the necessities of buyers will admit. Stock are not heavy or greatly scattered, and as a rule are pretty firmly held, though Leads continue to show irregularity on the "cutting" of list rates. Linseed Oil continues to sell fairly but shows no unusual movement, and the supply is quite equal to the outlet offered, and holders well inclined to sell. We quote at about 56@60 per gallon from crushers' hands.

PITCH.—Business fairly active and without change from the ordinary form, the call coming from regular sources and based upon immediate necessities. We quote at $2@2 1/2 c. per bbl. for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—About the ordinary jobbing trade doing and prices rule strong with only scant amounts available. The wholesale market has been largely under speculative control, and, with moderate offerings, values were held firmly and kept slowly on the upward turn. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 30@31 1/2 c. per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Demand has been moderately active and calling for about the usual delivery. The stock not very full, giving prices pretty good support at some advance since our last. We quote at $1.50@1.75 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $1.50@1.75 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

NEW YORK, LOOK TO YOUR LAURELS.

A WARNING TO PROPERTY OWNERS—SHALL OUR CAPITAL BE MADE USEFUL ONLY BY THE STURDY YEOMEN OF THE WEST—AN INTERVIEW THAT OUGHT TO BE STUDIED BY ALL OF OUR CAPITALISTS.

The good old principle that "to know thyself is the beginning of all wisdom," ought also to be applied to the knowledge of one's country. Such knowledge certainly is also the beginning of that country's prosperity. How many of our New York property owners of to-day have a correct idea of the vastness and greatness of this country, of which our own city is the metropolis? Few, very few, indeed. Many of them have never gone west of the lakes, and when they travel at all they visit foreign lands and study foreign habits. Men of pluck and enterprise, on the contrary, combine leisure with observation, so as to see for themselves the various channels through which a nation passes to the pinnacle of prosperity. During the summer now about ending, we rejoice to say, that quite a number of successful business men have made extended Western tours, and they have returned wiser if not better men, with more exalted ideas of their country's actual greatness and future prosperity, and, what is more, they return with a knowledge which, if properly diffused, cannot fail to have a salutary influence upon a class of our population too apt to let things take their course. We are led to these remarks owing to the views expressed to the writer by a gentleman of intelligence and observation, who had just returned from a three months Western trip. Having greeted him with the remark: "I suppose you are glad to be back in New York," he replied, "Yes, because this is my home; but, as a business man, I assure you the contrast between this city and some of these Western towns is very striking. There appears to be a lack of snap here, and an air of old fogyism which is just now to me very oppressive."

NEW YORK NOT UP TO THE MARK.

"You are indeed well surfeited with Western ideas," said the writer.

"And why should I not be? I made up my mind to travel with my eyes wide open, to study the country through which I was passing, and to gather ideas from the men residing in the various States, and my general conclusion is that we here in New York are the least enterprising people in the Union. Aside of the 'lack of snap,' to which I have just alluded, as coming under my observation in business circles, it strikes me also that nowhere do the rich and poor drift apart as much as here in New York, and the result is an absence of city pride, which can alone make a city great. In Western cities capitalists and workingmen take pride in their respective cities, and in their various spheres co-operate for the great and good of their particular localities. Where is there here in New York a leader in improvements whom other capitalists are anxious to follow? In fact, there are no leaders at all compared to the sturdy, enterprising men of Chicago, Cincinnati and other places."

HOW OUR CAPITALISTS ARE REGARDED.

"They must have made an exceedingly favorable impression upon you," said the writer.

"So they have. The average Western man has a more intelligent idea of the resources and greatness of this country than your Wall street bankers or up-town property owners. They are, for instance, constantly amused at the mental somersaults of some of New York's financial writers. These Western men are tireless, enthusiastic workers, they see themselves, so to speak, grow over night, they know everything connected with their work, only they do not know how to live. Metaphysics and æsthetics find no room there. These men only attend to politics and business, and business and politics. That is all; and they, per force, become excellent judges of the science of government. They look upon us New Yorkers as a sort of effete class, and say, 'You have what I need, money; I want it for our enterprises out here, and I respect you for it, because you possess it, but that is all you do possess; when it comes to men, we have them out here.' At first such remarks sounded strange to me, but when, in one city as well as another, I was reminded how much nature had done for New York more than for any other city in the Union, and how little men of capital and enterprise had done for it, I held my breath and listened again. 'You have a thousand places fit for amusement along your seaboard and in your suburbs,' I was told, 'any one of which would be a fortune to us if we had it. Coney Island had to invite you for a century before you knew enough to go there. Look at your miserable docks, for instance. Do you imagine that if Western men had charge of the great port of New York they would be in such a scandalous condition, and a water front that is a disgrace to a country which pretends to be a model one, and which really make a painful impression upon a foreign traveler when he lands on these shores?' I could not help but give assent to my Western friends' remarks, and many of them added: 'Never mind, wait awhile, just now we have plenty to do here, but we will shortly come over and do that work for you. Western men have already done big work for you, and they will do more. They are now building your Hudson River Tunnel, Western men have built your elevated roads and your mammoth Rockaway hotels, and the time is not very far distant when we will do some more work for you.' And so from one section of the West to the other I had to listen to criticisms of New York's want of enterprise not at all flattering to our local pride. Wherever I went, except in a few localities, I saw not only progress, but the grit to secure and hold fast to progress.

CHICAGO'S PLUCK.

"Look at Chicago, for instance. It is a beehive. Work, work, incessant work, and a virtual taskmaster for the entire West. Rich or poor, it is one vast community, firmly imbedded upon the cornerstone of labor, and going forward with such mighty strides that I could almost not believe what I saw with my own eyes. I was informed, how correctly I cannot vouch for, that the sales of one dry-goods house this year surpass those of any other dry-goods house in the world. Now what is the result? Where only a few years ago the city of Chicago could with difficulty place her bonds in the Eastern States at 10 per centum, she now has secured a loan from her own capitalists at 4½ per centum, after having refused the same amount from Boston capitalists at 5½. There is, of course, also quite a boom in real estate, and any number of parcels of property have this year been sold at double the price of last year. Everywhere in that city new buildings are going up, and there is no let up to the improvements that follow one another in rapid succession."

CINCINNATI'S COSMOPOLITAN CHARACTER.

"Did you find the same spirit of enterprise prevailing in other Western cities?" asked the writer.

"Yes, I did, in several places, notably in Cincinnati. Here is a city, which, at the outset of the war did not know anything about manufactures. It is to-day besmeared and begrimed with the smoke of her factory chimneys. Her citizens found then that their trade with the South was cut off, and they went to work with a will, resulting in her being to-day, one of the largest manufacturing cities in the West. They have created, in fact, their own industry, and now have public works and improvements brought about by the enterprise of her leading citizens, placing her foremost in the rank of American cities. Everything these men can do, is done to attract attention to their city, and they have succeeded, with their music hall, their fountains and other improvements, remarkably well. Take also Detroit, in Michigan, which has just subscribed $200,000 for the Wabash Road. It is as flourishing, well laid out and well governed a city as can be found anywhere on this continent."

ST. LOUIS NO MATCH FOR CHICAGO.

"How about St. Louis?" asked the writer.

"To tell you the truth, I was disappointed there. We all heard a few years ago that she was to outrival Chicago, but I have seen no signs of it during my recent trip. As I told a leading merchant while there, the city lacked three great features essential to its prosperity, good newspapers, good hotels and good water. The people, too, in a city of nearly 350,000 inhabitants, looked downcast and unhappy. There appeared to be a sort of blight on the city, and I could not see any possible chance of St. Louis ever becoming a rival of Chicago."

"Is St. Louis the only place you were disappointed with?" asked the writer.

"Well, Omaha is virtually standing still now. Its hotels are very poor, and the entire city presents one continuous scene of disappointment. The Union Depot, of which we have heard so much, is greatly overrated, and the locality where it is placed, away from the centre of the city, is a perfect nuisance to travelers, who are sometimes compelled to wait there two or three hours. And yet, Nebraska is a most wonderful State. It provides homes and proffers employment to millions of farming people, and hundreds of cattle raisers."

THE GATEWAY OF THE SOUTHWEST.

"Are these towns the only exceptions you met with on your extended trip, or are there others?" asked the writer.

"Not that I know of. There are Council Bluffs and Kansas City, both places commanding an immense future. Kansas City, in 1860, at the close of the war, had 5,000 inhabitants, to-day it has 62,000, and there are those who predict that twenty years hence it will have 200,000. It is really the gateway to the Southwest, contains a most enterprising population, and has a trade and commerce which is increasing every day. When a man buys a lot of ground in this place, he finds his material for building purposes right on that lot. There is the clay and stone, all of solid appearance, ready for him, and all he requires to purchase is the timber. The result is, that nearly all the houses in this place are built of solid material, and the frame dwelling is virtually unknown there."

OHIO'S RAILROAD ENTERPRISES.

"What did you hear of new railroad enterprises, not spoken of heretofore?" asked the writer.

"Toledo, Ohio, just now, is the champion in that line. Two new roads are being built there tending this way, and which will be finished this fall. One is a narrow gauge road, which is to connect with the narrow gauge line of Southern Ohio and Indiana, and will eventually come East. The other road is from the bituminous coal fields at Sunday Creek Valley to Columbus and Toledo. Of course, these railroad improvements add to the material prosperity of a city, and hence there is considerable building and improvement going on in Toledo."

BUFFALO'S BOOM.

"And when you came back to New York State, what were your impressions?"

"I was exceedingly pleased with the state of affairs in Buffalo. That city had been under a blight for some time, but a boom, caused by the lowering of the canal tolls, and the increased grain business has now set in, which is being felt all over the city. There is the Palace Hotel, in the residence part of the city, which makes Buffalo just now an attractive place for the tourist, situated as it is, opposite a park, and in the centre of grounds most judiciously laid out. The New York Central and Lake Shore roads are building a large depot there, which will be a credit and ornament to our State."

THE WEST VERSUS CORPORATIONS.

"Without desiring to trespass upon the domain of politics, I wish you would, as a careful observer, tell me what is the actual feeling among business men of the West in regard to corporations generally, and their influence upon the trade and commerce of the country at large?"

"To tell the truth, the feeling that has made itself manifest in the adoption of the new California Constitution is slumbering in various Western States, waiting for time to give it utterance. The sturdy men of the West are just now disposed to put up with all the annoyance and insults emanating from the manner in which these corporations are managed, because they think the time for attacking them has not yet arrived. In the meantime they console themselves with the idea that these corporations stand as a bulwark between demagogues and dishonest politicians on the one side, and the common people on the other. They are regarded—whether justly or not I care not to say—as a conservative element that counteracts the power of demagogues, and at the same time act as preservers of liberties, such as we now understand them."

A FINAL SHOT.

The gentleman who had so good naturedly submitted himself to the process of interviewing here called a halt, and, after giving a parting shot by stating that we in the East had not the least conception of the great good which the excellent class of emigration had done this year in the Western States, closed his remarks by stating: "Tell your property owners in New York to take advantage of their splendid possessions, and continue to be pioneers in improvements, unless, indeed, they want Western men to step in, do all the work, and reap the benefits therefrom."

Exception having been taken in regard to remarks made about overcrowding the elevators in certain down-town office buildings, we have since been assured by competent authority that these restrictions ought not to apply to the Boreel Building. The hydraulic elevators in said building, independent as they are of the action of ropes, are fully capable of carrying sixteen passengers. In fact, they cannot fall, and, when containing more than ordinary weight will indicate the addition at once by moving slower than ordinarily, as was tested the other day. So long as they move at all, they can carry all the weight that is offering, and one of them has been constructed for the particular purpose of taking heavy safes to the upper stories.

No taxpayers in the city of New York can read the proceedings of the Park Commissioners, but with shame and humiliation, every line of the minutes of their meetings convincing the reader that not the parks, their maintenance and improvement are paramount, but simply the advantage that can be gained by either Tammany, Anti-Tammany, or some other political "hall." Why can we not, in a city like this, which prides itself on its parks and public places, have a Board or Commission determined to do its very best for the work entrusted to its supervision, regardless of dirty party politics? A lot of ignorant school boys might as well be placed in charge of our parks, and the same results would be obtained. Has ever common sense been more determinedly outraged than by the decision arrived at in regard to the site of the obelisk, away from popular observation, and in a distant corner of the Park? Have these Commissioners any ideas at all in regard to that honest city pride which lingers in the breasts of all New York taxpayers, and which will one of these days teach these politicians a sharp and severe lesson? The next we may hear will be an attempt on the part of some board like this to place the Bartholdi statue on Ward's Island to furnish "light" for the lunatics. It would be in thorough keeping with the idea to place the obelisk on the out-of-the-way knoll near Eighty-fourth street.

TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS IN THE ANNEXED DISTRICT.

CHAPTER 327.

AN ACT in relation to taxes and assessments levied prior to January first, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, in the towns annexed from the county of Westchester, to the city of New York.

Passed May 19, 1880; three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. At any time after the passage of this act the amount of any tax or assessment for local improvements laid or imposed prior to January first, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, upon lands in the towns of West Farms, Morrisania and Kingsbridge, annexed at that date to the city of New York, from the county of Westchester, pursuant to the provisions of chapter six hundred and thirteen of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-three, and which tax or assessment remains unpaid, may be paid to the comptroller of said city with interest at the same rate as is payable by law on taxes or assessments laid or imposed upon lands within said city, and now remaining unpaid; and the lands situated in said towns that have been sold for taxes or assessments laid or imposed thereon prior to that date which have not been redeemed, when the certificates of sale are owned and held by the mayor, aldermen and commonalty of the city of New York, may be redeemed from such sales by the payment to the said comptroller of the amount for which any such lands were sold, as shown by the certificate of sale, with interest thereon at the same rate as is provided by law on the amount of sales for taxes or assessments laid or imposed upon lands within said city which have not been redeemed and are owned and held by the mayor, aldermen and commonalty of the city of New York.

SEC. 2. Upon the surrender to the treasurer of the county of Westchester, of the certificate of any such sale for taxes in said towns, made by him, for which such payment has been made, such treasurer shall cancel such sale upon the records in his office.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

THE LANDS TO BE ACQUIRED FOR THE GANSEVOORT MARKET.

CHAPTER 191.

AN ACT to provide for the establishment and maintenance of a public market place for farmers and market gardeners, in the city of New York, for the acquisition of lands for this purpose, and for the regulation and management of the same.

Passed May 7, 1880; three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The lands situated in the ninth ward of the city of New York, and bounded on the north by Bloomfield street, on the south by Gansevoort street, on the east by West street and Tenth avenue, and on the west by Thirteenth avenue, and the block of ground in said city bounded by Gansevoort, Little West Twelfth, Washington and West streets, and Tenth avenue, are hereby declared to be a public market place for farmers' wagons, whereon farmers and market gardeners bringing their farm and garden produce to the city of New York in wagons may dispose of the same. The mayor, the comptroller, and the three aldermen of said city, elected in the aldermanic district consisting of the eight, ninth, fifteenth and sixteenth wards thereof, are hereby authorized to purchase in the name of the mayor, aldermen and commonalty of the city of New York, such portions of the lands above described as are not the property of the city of New York, at such prices as may be mutually agreed upon by the owners of such lands and said five officers; provided that in no case shall any such lands be purchased, nor any price be agreed upon for the same, without the concurrence of the comptroller. The said mayor, comptroller and aldermen, for and in behalf of the mayor, aldermen and commonalty of the city of New York, are also authorized, in their discretion, to acquire title to the said lands, or any portion thereof, for public use, as and for a public market place, and for that purpose, to verify and present a petition to the Supreme Court, at any general or special term thereof, held in the first judicial district, for appointment of three commissioners of estimate and assessment, which petition shall aver that such lands are necessary for the said public market place, and that the mayor, aldermen and commonalty of the city of New York have not been able to acquire title thereto and the reason of such inability. The petition shall also state the names and places of residence, so far as the same can, by reasonable diligence, be ascertained, of the persons who own or hold or claim to own, or hold estates or interests in the said lands, and if any such persons are infants, their ages as near as may be shall be stated, and if any such persons are idiots or persons of unsound mind, or are unknown the fact shall be stated, together with such allegations of liens or incumbrances as may be proper. A copy of such petition, with notice of the time and place the same will be presented to the Supreme Court, shall be served on all persons whose interests are to be affected by the proceedings at least ten days prior to the presentation of the same to the said court.

SEC. 2. Such proceedings shall be prosecuted on said petition, and such assessments shall be made by the said commissioners of estimate and assessment under the rule of assessment as prescribed in this act, and by the same proceedings, so far as may be consistent with this act, as are provided for in and by chapter eighty-six of the laws of eighteen hundred and thirteen, entitled "An act to reduce several laws relating particularly to the city of New York into one act," in relation to the opening and laying out streets, avenues, squares or public places, and the several acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and such assessments shall be controlled and their collection enforced in the same manner provided for in the said acts, and such assessments when confirmed, shall be a lien on the lands assessed until the same shall be paid, except that the commissioners of estimate and assessment, appointed by the supreme court, shall assess, for the taking of the said lands, all such parties and persons, lands and tenements, as they may deem to be benefited by the establishment and maintenance of said public market place, to the extent which said commissioners deem such parties, persons, lands and tenements benefited thereby, provided, however, that the whole amount so assessed shall not exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the counsel to the corporation of the city of New York to take such proceedings, to acquire title as aforesaid and to perform all legal services required in carrying out the provisions of this act, upon the request of said mayor, comptroller and aldermen, without any additional compensation beyond the salary now provided by law. The said mayor, comptroller and aldermen shall meet and organize within twenty days after the passage of this act, and they, or a majority of them, shall have power to perform any act required to be performed by them under the provisions of this act, but neither of them shall receive any compensation for his services hereunder. After the said lands have been acquired, the commissioner of public works of said city shall prepare the same for occupancy, and shall have power to purchase and erect the necessary appurtenances and structures for the purposes aforesaid under such restrictions as have been, or shall be established by law, for the control of the expenditures of the departments of the said city. The docks, piers and bulk-heads on the Hudson River, from Gansevoort street to Little West Twelfth street, in said city, shall be set apart by the department of docks, or such department as shall have control thereof, and kept for the use of boats, barges and other vessels engaged in the business of transporting farm and garden produce, at such rates of wharfage as have been, or shall be, lawfully established.

SEC. 4. For the purpose of defraying the expense to be incurred in executing the provisions of this act, the said comptroller is hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell, in such amounts and as such times as shall be required, revenue bonds of said city, to an amount not exceeding the sum of two hundred thousand dollars. For the purpose of providing for the payment of said revenue bonds, the board of estimate and apportionment of said city shall appropriate a sum of not exceeding one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which amount shall be included in the final estimate of said board for the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, and shall be raised according to law, and collected by tax upon the estates, real and personal, subject to taxation within the city of New York. The amount assessed, as hereinabove provided, shall be collected and paid into the city treasury, and applied toward the payment of said revenue bonds. If any deficiency shall arise from any cause, and a sufficient amount shall not be realized from such assessment to pay fifty thousand dollars of said revenue bonds, with the interest thereon, such deficiency shall be provided for by the said board of estimate and apportionment, by including the same in the annual appropriation first made, after the amount of such deficiency, if any, shall be ascertained.

SEC. 5. The said mayor, comptroller and aldermen shall have power to call upon any department of the city government, or any officer whose salary is paid out of the city treasury, to furnish any drawings, plans or surveys that may be required, as well as for clerical or other assistance, and the same shall be furnished without expense.

SEC. 6. The lands hereby set apart as a public market place shall be kept for the exclusive use of farmers and market gardeners, and the finance department of said city shall have the exclusive charge and control of said public market place, and the wagons engaged in the business of selling farm and garden produce in said city, and shall have power to make suitable regulations concerning fees, the hours during which the business of selling said produce shall be conducted, and of the general management of the same.

SEC. 7. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 8. This act shall take effect immediately.

OTHER LAWS.

Chapter 557, of the laws of 1880, provides for the improvement of First avenue from Ninety-second to One Hundred and Ninth street.

Chapter 66, confers powers upon the Common Council to complete the restoration of Tompkins Square as a public park.

Chapter 159, facilitates the erection of a new building by the New York Produce Exchange, by authorizing the closing of Marketfield street and the sale of a lot on Stoue street, the property of the city of New York.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

The Exchange Salesroom began to fill up during the past week, notwithstanding the continued absence of numerous prominent brokers. The offerings at auction, however, were very few and created but little interest. In Brooklyn, during the past week, Mr. Thos. A. Kerrigan sold under foreclosure the southerly corner of Ninth avenue and Braxton street, 250x97.10; also, the property on the south side of Butler street 104 feet east of Sixth avenue, 120x100, about eighteen lots in all, for $50,000, to the Knickerbocker Life Insurance Co.

On Tuesday next, Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co. will sell by order of the assignee of Duncan, Sherman & Co., valuable property on Staten Island, Hunter's Point and East Newark. Some eligible water fronts will be offered at this sale well worthy the attention of investors. Full particulars of the various parcels to be sold will be found in our advertising columns.

A partition sale of over seven hundred and forty Brooklyn lots will be held by Auctioneer Eadie during the second week of September, of which we will speak more at length in our next issue. In the meantime, we refer our readers to details as given in another column.

Further on in the month of September Mr. Harnett will sell valuable property, on Twenty-third street near Fifth avenue and in other leading streets, belonging to the estate of the late Sheriff Vultee.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

Enquiry for investment property continues steady but there is an absence of all speculative feeling. The political campaign, which will be in full blast next month, it is feared, may somewhat retard operations, though not to the extent as has been the case in times past, the excellent state of general business throughout the country detracting, this year, considerably from the effect presidential elections usually have upon the consummation of pending transactions.

A contract, by which Mr. John Roach agrees to sell a plot on Montgomery street, extending from South to Water st, to the Glen Cove Starch Manufacturing Company for $85,000, has been placed on record. The dimensions are 140.10x185.10x140x184.10.

Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co. have sold, at private contract, to Mr. Cryder, No. 35 West Nineteenth street, 25 x half the block, for $30,000.

Mr. J. W. Stevens has sold No. 155 West Forty-sixth street, 20x75x100.11, a four-story brown stone house, to Mrs. Tucker, for $22,500. Also a three-story and basement house on Seventy-ninth street, three houses west of Ninth avenue, 16.8x50x100.11, for $8,000, to Thos. A. Dowling.

The six lots on the south side of Seventy-third street, 100 feet east of Tenth avenue, were sold by Mr. James R. Smith for $33,000, not 30,000, as erroneously stated heretofore, the purchaser paying the sewer assessments.

Messrs. Brown & Seymour, of Montague street, Brooklyn, have sold at private contract, No. 81 Pierrepont street, for $40,000.

Mr. George S. Lespinasse, of Pine street, has prepared for the use of the Executive Committee of the World's Fair, accurate maps of the principal sites mentioned in the pamphlet issued by the original Committee on Sites, and he has been requested to cooperate with said committee whenever they are ready to undertake the settlement of the question of sites.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—The improved tone on Common Hards noted last week, has been very well maintained, and the market, as a whole, presents a fairly cheerful appearance. Supplies accumulate afloat to just about a sufficient extent to prevent any further buoyancy, but the surplus is by no means weighty and shows no signs of early increase. Most of the manufacturers continue to ship, and probably more stock would be sent down were it not for a lack of transportation facilities, but a number of vessels are "off" at the moment and this compels the retention of a portion of the supply at the point of production. We understand that at a few of the smaller yards work has already ceased, but no indications of a general stoppage are given. "Up Rivers" are reported at $4@4.75 as to quality, and Haverstraws at $5@5.75 do. The distribution is quite general, though a large proportion of stock is consumed in the heavy down town work. Sales are selling steadily and fairly at about $3@3.25 for odd parcels forming parts of cargoes, and good quality in full cargo has brought as high as $3.75 when customers were found who just happened to want a supply in this shape. Fronts are steady and meeting with a pretty good demand on all the regular brands.

HARDWARE.—A feeling of considerable confidence is to be found in pretty nearly all departments, and the market as a whole has a strong, cheerful tone as compared with the situation when the turn into this half of the year was made. Buyers are not taking quite so much stock as hoped for, and few, if any, can be induced to make up invoices beyond early and positive wants. Still in a steady sending out of small amounts, there is a good aggregate reached and pretty much every thing moved means early consumption. On values there is tendency to firmness for most leading grades, yet this feeling is not universal, and certain existing misunderstandings among manufacturers may eventually lead to considerable irregularity on values.

LATH.—The market continues to improve and the feeling is very strong throughout. As noted last week the indications of increasing consumption are quite positive, and dealers generally manifest a desire to secure supplies against the coming distribution, especially as in many cases the accumulation has been allowed to run low and very few yards now hold even a fair stock. All the arrivals coming in have found a place at higher prices, and on the small amounts offering to arrive a still further advance is asked. At the present writing $1.70@1.75 is quoted with not many sellers at the inside figure. Even at these rates receivers do not appear to consider that they are securing a return in proportion to the rates current on timber and are confident of better terms.

LIME.—A generally strong market is reported again, the sale of supplies keeping quite close up to the offering, and buyers not fully satisfied at that. Consumption has been sufficient to prevent much of an accumulation in second hands, and with every probability that shipments will be made with care, receivers seem to expect a steady market at least. State lime is holding its own with Eastern.

LUMBER.—With the exception of one or two grades supplies are receiving fair attention both for immediate and future delivery, and dealers are not inclined to modify their expectations of retaining the advantage for the balance of the season. They have the support of generally strong primary markets and while supplies are probably not so small as reported, the control of them appears sufficient to prevent any serious pressure to renline. In addition to this there is also a continued good prospect for consumption, and buyers with well assured wants hesitate very little about entering into contracts for the assortments necessary to satisfy them. The accumulation here is increasing, but on most of the principal styles cannot as yet, be called more than fair, and of shipping grades the assortments as somewhat poor. As a rule advantages are with the seller and the position promising.

Spruce continues to be reported with a very firm and confident tone, and the selling interest as a rule evidently calculates upon holding the advantage. The offerings made by manufacturers are very small, the limit of value placed on desirable sizes is full, and it would be difficult, apparently, to secure a shading at the moment. We hear more complaints over the cost than a short time ago, and with the most urgent wants provided for, buyers appear to be developing a trifle more cautious policy. It is, however, rather late in the season to commence "holding off" if goods are wanted, and sellers look upon this policy with indifference. About $14.50@16.50 for random up to $20 for specials of extra difficult cut.

White Pine is well supported in value, and finds a very good general sale. Home wants are growing somewhat larger, and the distribution to the export outlet keeps up to encouraging proportions, with only a fair supply of desirable goods available. We quote $17@19 per M. for West India shipping boards; $23@24 for South American do; $15.50@16.50 for box boards; $17@18 for do. wide and scund do.

Yellow Pine makes no decided improvement in tone. The accumulation keeps full beyond expectations and buyers seeing this are in no hurry to move, while the numerous agents seeking opportunity to contract for the future results in competition, by no means favorable to the selling interest. It looks as though the business had been over done and will require time to fully recuperate. Values are quoted about as before, but all figures must be looked upon as nominal for the present. We quote random cargoes at about $24@25 per M.; ordered cargoes, $24@26 do.; green flooring boards, $25@26 do.; and dry do. do. $25@27. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $20@21 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods continues to sell well where quality is fine at full rates, but buyers will not handle "off" grades except at low figures. Many manufacturers are receiving direct. We quote at wholesale rates by carload about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. cills, $18@20 do. cherry, $45@47 do.; white wood, ½ and ¾ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $55@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles are in good demand on home and export account and prices well maintained. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and to quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch, $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@11.75 for No. 1.

At the yards business continues good and a steady full line of prices obtained without difficulty.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br barque, 611 tons, from Montreal to Buenos Ayres, lumber, $15 net; a new Br brig, about 500 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Caen, deals, 67s. 6d; an Am barque, 314 tons, from Mobile to Port Spain, lumber, $10 and port charges; a Sp barque, 740 tons, from Savannah to Valencia, resawed lumber, $14.50; a barque, 620 tons, hence to Galveston, railroad iron, $4.50, and back from Pensacola or Pascagoula, lumber, $10, or from Ship Island, $10 50; a schr, 150 M lumber, from Doboy to Boston, $8; two schrs, from Richmond to New York, railroad ties, 17c; a schr, from Petersburg to New York, oak timber, $5 per ton; a schr, same voyage, hewn switch ties, 2½c. per lineal ft; a schr, from Newport News, Va., to New York, hewn switch ties, 3c per ft; three schrs, from Norfolk to New York, lumber, $2.75.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.
STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending August 17 is reported by the Argus as follows:

The attendance of buyers since our last report has been large and with the fine and well assorted stock Albany now holds of pine lumber a good fall trade is well assured. Prices at the mills in Michigan and Canada are still firm and likely to continue so. Freights are stiffening up everywhere, with a scarcity of vessels at most points. The disastrous fire at Hunter's Point last week, in which about 15,000,000 feet of lumber was destroyed, cannot but have a beneficial effect on this market.

Coarse lumber is in good demand at the advance in prices, but owing to the scarcity of water not a great deal is being received, and owing to the lateness of the season the total receipts must fall very far short of former years.

The receipts of lumber by lake at Buffalo for the week are 5,310,000 feet; by rail, 96 cars. At Oswego, 7,002,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to August 15th, were:

Bds. & Setg. ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c.f. Staves, D
1880..	201,654,400	1,613	5,400	257,000

Freights from Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25 @ M. feet; from Saginaw, $2.50. From Buffalo to Albany $2.65; from Tonawanda to Albany, $2.50 @ M. feet. Lake Ontario freights from Port Hope to Oswego, $1.10 @ M. feet, from Toronto to Oswego, 100c., and from Oswego to Albany, $1.80 @ 1.85. From Ottawa to Albany $3.50 @ M. feet.

River freights are without change.

THE WEST.

[Special correspondence of REAL ESTATE RECORD].

CHICAGO, Aug. 18, 1880.

The Knight Templars' conclave has occupied public attention in this city to such an extent that business affairs have been greatly interfered with during all the present week and most of last. Our commission men, however, have succeeded in disposing of a number of large fleets since last report, and, what is better, in placing them at former prices. It was feared that with the free arrivals the market would weaken, and perhaps decline somewhat, but, so far, though for a day or two it may have been a trifle less active, there have been no concessions made that warrant the quoting of lower figures. On the contrary, the list below shows that prices are fully up to the standard of a week ago, which shows an improvement over those last published in the RECORD. These rates are maintained in to day's sales, and at this writing—12 o'clock, M.—there are but two or three cargoes unsold on the market. Taking it altogether, sellers have very little to complain of, and are generally pretty cheerful.

The demand for green piece stuff is rather in excess of the supply, a good many producers having used a large part of their common stock in making boards. But the scarcity has had a most excellent effect on the market, looking at it from the seller's standpoint, for it has kept up the price of this staple article, and that in turn has helped to sustain other things that might otherwise have weakened.

Following are the current quotations:

Green joist and scantling	$8 75 @ 9 25
Green boards and strips, common	10 00 @ 11 50
Green boards and strips, medium	12 00 @ 14 00
Green boards and strips, good to choice	15 00 @ 18 00
Standard shingles	2 05 @ 2 25
Lath	1 60 @ 1 85

The receipts of lumber up to this time have been very heavy, the excess being about 50,000,000 feet. It is a question though, whether they will continue to gain in like proportion during the balance of the season. The present prospect is that lake freights will be unusually high this fall, and it is very doubtful when it comes to cost $3 to get a thousand feet of boards from Muskegon to this city, whether the lumber can pay it. If it cannot, as is probable, manufacturers will pile their stock at the mills and winter it there; and in that event the receipts for the season will not exceed last year, and may fall below. There is no question as to the supply tributary to Chicago that is already available. If all the lumber is manufactured that can be from the logs secured and shipped here, the receipts for 1880 will be the heaviest ever known; but the probably heavy cost of transportation may cut them down materially.

Trade at the yards has been good, though orders this week have not been quite so plenty owing to the Masonic celebration. The shipments continue gaining on last year's record, and the reports from the different yards confirm the story they tell of a good trade. The few complaints made are more than offset by the cheerful declarations of the majority. Nothing has occurred yet to discourage the dealers, and so far as they can see now the season just beginning will bring them as much business as they can readily handle.

The list of prices current has not been altered by a price list meeting, but some changes have been made by many of the dealers on their own account. They are mostly on common stuff and dimension lumber, and consist of advances of from fifty cents to $1 on the last union list. The feeling is that another meeting should be held, and, accordingly, one will be called early next week that will undoubtedly issue a new list, advancing nearly everything in the lower grades. The new prices will probably go into effect early next week.

The last exchange report places the amount of lumber on hand here on the 1st inst. at 412,841,039 feet.

The comparisons with the two years previous are as follows:

Lumber	412,841,039	337,328,206	357,564,291
Shingles	164,604,000	166,326,750	158,719,500
Lath	46,519,316	30,986,765	32,139,760
Pickets	1,232,459	997,213	778,620
Cedar posts	154,690	332,456	434,684

The excess of 75,000,000 feet over the stock on hand a year ago seems very large, yet is smaller than was expected from the figures of the previous month. The facts deduced from the comparisons as far as they relate to the business of July are very encouraging as they show that the stock increased only 10,000,000 feet in the face of receipts that were nearly four times as much in excess of those for the corresponding time last year. The trade here do not feel discouraged at the increase, because they remembered that besides the prospective demand for it, there is more capital in the business than there was, and the dealers altogether are in better shape to carry over their surplus stock.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette,

August 17, 1880.

The market has reached a point where nothing but stability may be expected. The season for weakness has passed. No signs of yielding have been visible during the six week from July 1st to the middle of August, and now with the fall trade before it there is little reason to expect any material depreciation in prices, unless there should be a breaking down in the whole fabric of business, which is not probable. There is again a foundation for activity in the gradual accumulation of stock at the mills, although much of the finer stock is picked up as fast as manufactured. There are still quite a number of mills which haven't a board unsold, but it is, nevertheless, probable that there is at this time more unsold lumber on the docks than at any time since the season opened actively. Prices remain firm and at the figures heretofore prevailing. Among the sales are 300,000 at $7.14 and $35,400,000 feet at $7.25, $14.50 and $35, 300,000 feet at $7.50 and $14.50, and 1,000,000 feet at $7.25, $14.25 and $35. No buyers are visible in the market at present, but orders and inquiries are numerous. Manufacturers are confident of a lively fall trade, which the state of the outside market indicates.

Shingles are much sought after, and there is no trouble experienced in getting rid of all manufactured at prices heretofore prevailing, namely, $1.90 @ 2 for clear butts and $2.90 @ 3 for XXX.

Freights unchanged: Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25; to Ohio ports, $1.75. Saginaw to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.50; to Ohio ports, $2.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER,
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.

The lumber trade of the West is in a most satisfactory condition, prices are being averaged up to the figures recently set by Chicago, and the shipments from all points are increasing even in mid-summer when they might be expected to fall off under the pressure of even a slight advance. Stocks are simply good, not superabundant in any line, and are scarce in well seasoned lines of the higher grades. The sawing is proceeding with rather more than usual activity to make up for the time lost by the floods. We note an increasing call for railway timber, and many of our readers are now regretting that they neglected our advice in the spring to let all long contracts for heavy bill stuff alone. Some of them loaded up with orders which they would cheerfully part with and pay a margin. Some complaint is made that some of the mill men are not able to find as many log suitable for making into this class of goods as they anticipated when they accepted orders.

"I was ever thus from childhood's hour."

The lumbermen of Chicago feel so grand over a trade of 4,000,000 feet per day, that even all hands are disposed to stick up to yard quotations on everything. It will not be surprising if they will be ready to go another dollar next month, if so, we predict that their competitors on the west will follow quickly. The seaboard and lake exports are relieving Saginaw of her product as rapidly as vessels can be had at reasonable rates to carry it off. The lake freights are still going up, an advance of twelve and one-half cents at Chicago is noted last week. In railway freights the only change of the week has been a more stringent order in reference to weighing cars at terminal instead of shipping points on all roads leading to Missouri river points.

Pine land holders are talking about a little better prices on standing timber this winter, especially the better class of stumpage. Good pine has seen its lowest figures and will advance steadily. The receipts at St. Louis have been large for the week, and yard business reaching three-quarters of a million per day which goes off at regular quotations and "no grumbling." Southern pine continues to grow in favor, and some of it finds its way into nearly all bills. Log and lumber sales on that river continue fair, with some disposition on the part of sellers to make the mill and yard men divide the recent advance, but so far there is no reported change in figures.

Northwestern harvests are in full progress, and Minnesota promises to turn out fifty millions bushels of wheat, which tells the story of the prospects at Minneapolis, Stillwater and St. Paul.

The following is from the Northwestern Lumberman:

Throughout the country we have reports of a buoyant feeling in the lumber market, unbroken by a single exceptional locality.

At Boston the market is firm with a good demand and light receipts, thick uppers being especially scarce. The demand for Eastern lumber is at least six weeks earlier than usual, with an advance of $1 per thousand on spruce over last year. The streams in Maine are still reported at a low stage of water, and the steam mills are about the only ones running.

Canada markets tributary to the Eastern States report trade large in volume, good lumber meeting ready sales at fair prices and being scarce in quantity. Several of the Canadian points have already shipped more lumber than the entire volume of shipments amounted to in 1879. Toronto now exceeds the shipments of 1879 by over 1,000,000 feet.

Albany, N. Y., reports a good, steady trade at firm prices, although with no advance in quotations. The July trade is reported the largest of any July in ten or twelve years, the receipts being 60,000,000 feet, with no increase of stock, so steady has been the drain.

At Saginaw the mills are running largely on orders ahead, one dealer having contracted for 26,000,000 feet, not a foot of which is now sawed. There is less unsold lumber on the market than at any time in the past ten years. Prices are firm, and many of the dealers look for a further advance in prices, which are now at the highest point ever known for some grades of stock.

At the West, firm markets and a good demand is reported from all quarters, with a feeling freely expressed that higher prices are inevitable in the near future. At some of the retailing points west of the Mississippi, we learn that yard prices are, on average grades, less than the expense of laying down the stock; but this arises simply from local competition, and a desire to emulate the example of the Chicago dealers in their early spring experience.

Reports from 12 large producing points in Michigan show a state of facts which, no doubt, from the uniformity of statement regarding these, will proportionately apply to the entire state. The log product of these 12 points is estimated for the season at 1,254,000,000 feet, of which 756,867,000 feet has been received at the mills to August 1, and 623,000,000 feet has been sawed. Of the season's stock, an average of 65% per cent. is reported sold or contracted, leaving but 33 1/4 per cent. yet to find market. Of the total of logs reported, 93,000,000 feet are reported as hung up, and no portion of them available for this season, and 3,000,000 feet are embraced in the report as "will carry over winter in mill boom." If the reports thus received furnish a true indication, it may be broadly stated that two-thirds of the Michigan logs are already run out of the river booms; that one-half of the season's stock is already sawed out, and that from 60 to 65 per cent. of it has passed out of the hands of the original owners, and that from 200,000,000 to 250,000,000 feet of the result of last year's logging operations will not reach the mills this year. If all the parties to whom inquiry blanks were sent out will kindly respond with the information asked for, we shall be enabled to give our readers details of the entire state, in place of speculations based upon detached figures from a limited number of points.

THE EAST.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin says:

The past week has tended only to strengthen holders of Western lumber and these having stocks of desirable stuff are now even less anxious to sell than a week ago. There is evidently a scarcity of good lumber in first hands. Dealers report a satisfactory business with orders ahead. In Eastern lumber prices are rather nominal, not from a lack of demand, but because desirable cargoes are difficult to obtain. The mills report plenty of orders and are generally disposed to decline work ahead. The arrivals the past week have been largely spruce. Hemlock shows more activity than pine. There is quite a movement in shingles and considerable orders have been placed since the first of the month. Laths are firmer, though without change in price. Southern hard pine moves freely.

FOREIGN.

From the Timber Trades' Journal, London, Aug. 7th, we clip the following entitled, "A Glance West and East."

Notwithstanding the large arrivals from America reported since our last impression was issued, we are glad to see that the confidence of our correspondents on the west coast in the firmness of prices remains unabated. This is particularly remarkable of Liverpool, which has received rather a heavy addition to its summer stock with a ready welcome, as considering that the improvement in the general trade of the country on this side, and the growing disposition to hold out for fairly remunerating prices abroad, and other causes, must have a restraining effect on the importation, and prevent it from damaging the home market, as the season advances.

The likelihood of a small supply of shipping for second Atlantic voyages is also discounted there, and a rise of freights is reckoned on as adverse to speculative engagements, but we do not ourselves place much reliance on these latter causes. If they can get charters, the Norwegians are not likely to let their big timber ships lie idle for the rest of the season—and what else can they do with them?

Their clubs will, we believe, allow them to leave for the westward in all August, and with quick despatch and wanting no repairs, most that have arrived home by the time this is in print will be able to do so, as they can come and go at their own pleasure, without the dread of the British Board of Trade surveyors on their minds, and thus they beat us out of our own markets with our own old ships.

The Atlantic timber ships are too large for the Baltic trade as a rule, the favorite size for our provincial markets from those regions, being from 90 to 120

stds., and steamers now keep down the freight of sailing ships of larger size in that trade. Whether North American freights will go up materially for later voyages we cannot say. For the Baltic they continue very easy as yet; 33s. Hernosand district to coal ports, and from Sundswall 31s. was quoted last week, the very lowest heard of this, or, we believe, any previous season. Double those rates was not uncommon for a second voyage to the Gulf of Bothnia, even within these five years.

Glasgow, the Scottish rival of Liverpool in foreign trade and home manufacture, is not quite so confident. Our correspondent, seeing such a considerable fleet of timber ships crowding into the Clyde from Quebec and the lower ports, thinks the supply quite sufficient for present requirements, probably in connection with a knowledge of a further large quantity afloat for the same market. While the iron and the ship-building trades continue to prosper, Glasgow can put away an immense quantity of timber, but the steady influx from the east coast, by way of Grangemouth, has to be taken into account, for which, in the returns of the Board of Trade, Glasgow has no credit. Thus, while filling, as it were, at both ends, Greenock and Grangemouth stand for the bulk of its importation. We have on more than one occasion this season referred to the very considerable supplies the great west coast ports were prepared to meet, and as yet they are well within the limits of moderation.

On the east coast the trade seems rather more doubtful, but gradually recovering from the scare which the great importation of two months ago threw a portion of it into. The scale of supply has fallen off so materially since then, that the smaller importers have recovered their equanimity. It then seemed as if the leviathans of the trade were about to flood the markets, and deprive the minor capitalists of all chance of turning their money to advantage; but things have resumed their customary order, though trade is reported mostly dull, for which our correspondents endeavor to make the wet weather and the holiday time largely responsible. The arrival of the American spring fleet gives animation to the quays and wharves, but the demand from the interior is said to want spirit.

This week's mail from Havana reports:

White Pine—Several small parcels ex Niagara and City of Washington, New York, and three full cargoes on contract, came in this week; the demand is moderate and we still quote at $32@34 gold, per mille feet, as to assortment.

Pitch Pine—One cargo, arrived this week, was readily disposed of at $39; the demand continues fairly active, at from $38@40 per mille feet, as to class.

NAILS—Stocks are held with a showing of firmness, and the trade generally claim that from regular sources no supply can be reached except at full list rates. Offerings certainly have been smaller of late, and we hear less in the way of cutting than during the early summer.

We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $3.00@3.10; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $3.25; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $3.50; 4d and 5d, common, do per keg, $3.75; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $4.50; 3d, fine, per keg, $5.25; 2d, per keg, $5.25. Cut spikes, all sizes, $3.25. Floor casing and box, $3.75@4.50. Finishing, $4.00@4.75.

CLINCH NAILS.

1½ inch, $5.50@5.65; 1¾ inch, $5.25@5.35; 2 inch, $5.00@5.15; 2¼ inch, $4.75@4.85; 3 inch and longer, $4.50@4.60.

PAINTS AND OILS.—A trifling amount of irregularity is shown on the market for paints, chiefly in a wholesale way, but the average tendency appears to be toward a gain of strength on all the principal descriptions. The consumption is gaining in volume and promises to still further increase, while the supplies are so well under control as to give holders a very fair advantage on pretty much all grades. Even leads show greater regularity and there is less cutting on the list rates. Linseed oil declined early in the week and has not been very active, but still met with a fair demand, and there is now manifestly a better inclination to hold steadily among the majority of sellers. We quote at 56@58c. per gallon from crushers' hands.

PITCH.—A fair, average distribution of supplies take place, with the stock about equal to the outlet, and former prices ruling. We quote at $2@2.12½ per bbl. for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—In jobbing lots there has been a fair movement, without much change on values. Wholesale parcels have been offered with somewhat greater freedom, and while a fair proportion found sale, the increased supply had a depressing influence upon values, and former extreme figures could not be obtained. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 30@31c. per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—A fair, uniform demand reported on regular outlets, and prices about steady. The cost, however, keeps buyers down to actual wants, and supplies commence to accumulate somewhat in first hands. We quote at $3.50@3.75 per bbl. for Newherne and Washington, and $3.50@3.75 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows:
The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corres-

NEW YORK AS A MANUFACTURING CENTRE.

The special agent charged by the general government with obtaining manufacturing statistics in this city for the census of 1880, has issued an open letter to manufacturers and citizens generally, urging them to place all the information he asks for at his command without delay, and to facilitate his labors. In a letter accompanying the blank forms of schedules, he confirms the statements frequently made in these columns that New York city not only contains the largest number of inhabitants, and the greatest amount of wealth, but will prove to be, when the statistics are all gathered, to be the largest manufacturing city in the Union. Men of enterprise and capital who have closely watched the growth of our metropolis have been aware of this fact before this, and they have already invested their money in those localities where "it will do the most good" from a manufacturing standpoint only. They have seen and closely watched the crammed lofts in the Fourteenth, Eighth and Ninth Wards of our city, observed the numerous small industries, all specialties in themselves, requiring the constant employment of hundreds of males, females and youths, all forming part of a laboring army that would astound Lowell, Lawrence and even Pittsburgh. The thousand and one articles forming part of a gentleman's or lady's attire, many of which were imported only a few years ago and sold at a profit in this market, are all being manufactured in this city now, down to the lining that forms so important a part of a lady's bonnet. Each of these articles forms a specialty and each requires the employment of numerous hands. And all of this is not growing by the year but by the month and the week. Where to find even room for all of those engaged in these manufactures has been a puzzle for many an investor, and THE RECORD has time and again called attention to this new factor in metropolitan prosperity. We hail, therefore, with satisfaction the special efforts made by the government in obtaining accurate statistics in regard to the actual state of manufacturing in our midst. Only, as in everything else, the government does not come up to the enterprise of the people. We say this deliberately after carefully studying the blank tables that have been issued containing twenty-nine columns to be filled up by our city manufacturers. The enquiries are well enough as far as they go, but they do not go far enough. The chief statistician having charge of the census should have borne in mind that there are manufacturing firms all through our State, and in the interior of other States, anxious to move their establishments near the shipping point. We regret, therefore, to see that in the number of enquiries there are none demanding an actual exhibit of the expenditures incident to manufacturing, such as rent and real estate taxes. These must be added to the manufactured product and form part of the cost of the article. True, the question of wages has not been overlooked, but does Mr. Hill, who speaks so glowingly of New York's manufacturing prowess, remember that three-fourths of that increased manufacturing in our midst is due to the large amount of female labor? Why not obtain the wages paid to women, and place them side by side of the column of male labor? Hoopskirts, umbrellas, neckties, underwear, shirts and other articles, too numerous to mention are made by female labor. What is the average of wages paid them in this city compared to the same labor performed in the interior? The result then obtained and added to the rent or tax expenses, would enable manufacturers in the interior to judge whether it would pay to go near the shipping point or remain where they are. Again, would it not be well in this connection to obtain the average amount of labor performed by a female operative in the city and in the country, also the average per centum of female work rejected by experts in the city and country? These are questions often asked in this great and growing manufacturing centre. And while the government is engaged in the work it might as well be done intelligently, and in a manner to give those seeking advice the necessary information.

Another and very important enquiry just now, while everything is being done to enhance the value of our manufactured products and to lower the cost of their production, is to ascertain the status and nativity of our workingmen and women. New factories are being started in this section almost every month with skilled labor imported from abroad. There is an impression prevailing that this importation of skilled foreign labor is unnecessary, the supply of that quality on hand being sufficient for all requisite purposes. And yet this impression may be erroneous. Had the Interior Department, in organizing this manufacturing section of the Census Bureau, consulted a man like Mr. Carroll D. Wright, of Boston, there would have indeed emanated from a government bureau information of great value to a numerous class of manufacturers determined to enlarge their business, and other investors anxious to enter upon new enterprises. Nowhere in this country have statistics been brought to such perfection as in the Massachusetts Bureau, and the lessons gathered from the comparative tables there prepared have been a source of profit to the whole of New England. There is no reason why the general government should not work as assiduously in gathering statistics for an entire nation as does a single State for the benefit of its particular section.

THE EXAMINATION OF TITLES.

While, for the present, transactions in real estate are not extensive, there is little doubt that the depression which endured since 1873 has terminated, and that things are adjusting themselves so that in the coming fall or spring there will be an active market.

An idea in connection with the transfer of real estate has been broached and has been cordially received, that certificates of title to real estate should pass as readily as certificates of stock or as other personal property. Lawyers of the old school, respecting the conservative character of real estate securities, would perhaps deplore the introduction of any more of the Wall street methods into the real estate business, and, it is claimed, that without a radical revolution in the laws affecting real estate, it is not practicable to accomplish this easy road to changes of ownership in land.

It is admitted that the expense of searching titles should be reduced. There are too many liens upon real estate; there should be only one—a lien secured by filing a notice of pendency of action in additional cases to those now provided. And, at all events, the period during which a judgment is a lien, should be limited to three years. Were this the law, the expense of searching in the county clerk's office would be greatly reduced. The tax searcher should be a stated clerk in the Department of Finance, and should give a certificate without charge. All this is practicable, and legislation to this end should be furthered.

This being accomplished, the other point of expense is the conveyancer's charge. This has been justly criticized in these columns. In well regulated offices, however—and there are still conservative lawyers like those who advised in regard to real estate thirty years ago—the charge has not materially advanced since 1860, while the labor of examining titles has been increased enormously. The difficulty is, that new dealers or investors have imbibed the new ideas promulgated "since the war." They demand of the lawyer that he shall not alone decide as to the title, but also as to the character of the investment—that he shall promote a system of high charges on loans, and "divide" with the lender (or its agent, if a corporation)—that he shall do the work of the corrupt trader, in fact. The high-minded, conservative lawyer rejects such approaches, but there are men in the profession who are merely counsellors by grace of their diploma and an excessive gift of self-confidence. These are willing to undertake the examination of titles for a purchaser or borrower at nominal rates, because they can make more money indirectly, and because, being themselves unfamiliar with conveyancing and its responsibilities, they commit the labor to poorly paid clerks, giving it a so-called "revision," and trusting to luck and to the work and reputation of preceding conveyances for immunity from danger.

There is, so far as property is concerned, no more responsible duty than that of the lawyer who pronounces upon the title to real estate. He may be confronted, after the lapse of many years with a defect or claim in regard to title passed deliberately and with all the facts and documents before him, and in the interim deaths and the recklessness with which the records are ostensibly "preserved," have put beyond his power the verification of his work. He may find that his decision on a recondite question of law has not been sustained by the courts. He may be held responsible in many ways for alleged mistakes, as he may unfortunately be called upon to suffer for accidental lapses from ordinary caution. He may, by obstinately adhering to a preconceived opinion, or by yielding to the dishonest or timid dictation of a client, cast a slur upon a title and make it unmarketable. He must inevitably subject his client to mischief, loss and often serious damage, by committing to a clerk what he should understand how to do himself.

The conveyancers of thirty years ago, some of whom still adorn the profession, made their own examination of the records or had the help of trained assistants, scarcely trusting them, indeed, and incurring the criticism of needless, excessive attention to details. These "fussy" men of the old school would persist in making the examination of a title the work of weeks. In addition to the few who survive of this class, there are firms who have adopted the careful and methodical work of these gentlemen and whose opinions as to titles have been uniformly regarded with great respect. But it would be necessary to embrace in this list almost exclusively the lawyers who attend to their own work as conveyancers, and who are specially fitted by experience and faithful study in this department to perform their duty properly.

The examination of a title involves necessarily the study of other conveyancer's work, and this ought to be reliable and authoritative. Perhaps the idea of a transfer of certificates of title may not be Utopian when the public have arrived at the conclusion that the certificate of A. & B. signifies that careful conveyancers have given the opinion, and that it is safe to begin a new examination from the date of their decision, and when it is likewise understood that real estate investors will not trust merely "smart" lawyers, who take the chances, as in certain political or corporation combinations. If conveyancers were not, as a class, so modest and conservative, they would at this time renew an understanding as to charges made twenty years ago by all the prominent firms. In the absence of such an agreement, or a guild, investors, and those interested in real estate, would do well to consider the skill, experience and reputation in this particular direction of the lawyer retained to pronounce upon title, and satisfy themselves before entrusting to an incompetent, inexperienced and frequently irresponsible attorney, the duty of investigating the title to a particular piece of property, that they may not at some future day, near or remote, be called upon to face a heavy pecuniary loss, because the gentleman employed by them did not thoroughly understand his business, and passed a title which would have been declined by a more careful and experienced conveyancer.

IRON AND ITS EFFECT UPON REALTY.

It must be a source of gratification to all capitalists that the entire world, notably Europe, is quietly but steadily getting out of that "slough of despond," from which we in this country extricated ourselves now about a year ago. The revival of business here is being slowly followed by a revival of business all the world over, which, in this age of steamers and telegraphs, can only be regarded as another factor in the permanency of our own prosperity. A nation whose foreign commerce amounts to $700,000,000 per annum, in times when depression reigned supreme abroad, cannot but feel the benefit of the salutary change which is quietly creeping over the old countries.

Iron is king to-day in all the markets of the world, to a fuller extent than ever cotton was in this country under the ante-war system, and iron has gone up recently in England, simply because there is an additional demand for home consumption, as well as for France, for Australia and for the Dominion of Canada. Let it be understood that in modern commerce and modern civilization, iron enters into almost everything tending to accelerate the march of manufactures, that thousands of articles for home use and business purposes are made of iron, and the importance of this increased demand will be appreciated at its true value. Let it also be borne in mind that not a ton of this iron, so much sought after by foreign countries, is coming to these United States, and that we have enough of our own for all requisite purposes, and the undisputed fact remains that other countries are slowly recuperating from the depression under which they also have suffered during the past ten years. We leave out of the question to-day the all important fact, that not many years can possibly elapse before the various railways of the civilized world, owing to the expiration of the time allowed for their wear and tear, will have to be reconstructed, thus creating an additional demand for iron. And yet we cannot overlook the fact established by ample data, statistics and experience, that a demand for iron anywhere is the precursor of a demand for everything else. When in this era of our civilization iron falls and is in no demand, look out for depression, panic and misery. Whenever iron is in demand, however, as it is to-day, notably in England, the whole world will be ultimately benefited.

As we have said before, the time has passed that this or any other country can be benefited by business depressions in other sections of the world. Commercially speaking, we are all virtually one confederation of states or nations, and disaster in one corner of the globe now affects all other parts. New York city, standing as it does at the gateway of American enterprise, industry and commerce, has a future before it which no living man can at all appreciate at its true value to-day. New blood, advanced ideas, will ere long endeavor to infuse themselves into channels that lead to the possession of its much valued soil, and present owners, unwilling to improve their property, should lend them a willing ear. Even if they cannot just now sell all of their unimproved property at rates, based upon the calculations of the future, they should part with a portion of their real estate, and reserve the remainder for those not very distant times when, owing to the enterprise of the new generation of workers, they will get as much for a remnant of their property as they now demand for the whole, while they have not the courage to turn even a spade in their numerous vacant lots.

It was only a few weeks ago that we called the attention of our readers to the millions of pound sterling lying idle in the English markets, and we then expressed an opinion that ere long we would hear that a considerable part of that money was being invested in this country. By referring to our lumber market report to-day, it will be seen that an English company has purchased no less than 156,000 acres in southeastern Wisconsin, being a tract of land containing a large amount of hardwood lumber. Doubts are expressed by some whether it will pay these foreign capitalists to secure lumber at such a distance from a convenient shipping point, owing to the lack of railroad facilities. It must be borne in mind, however, that out West such an obstacle is very easily overcome, and, in fact, we already hear of forty miles of a new railway branch being contracted for. Incidentally, it may interest lumbermen to know that not only England, but also France and Germany are now showing a disposition to secure American hardwoods.

The prevailing idea among capitalists seems to be that the World's Fair Commissioners should select a site before the subscription books are opened, so that those desirous of investing can know beforehand where their money is to be used. The question of sites is a prominent one, and should be disposed of without delay. As to the Board of Directors, or the leading minds that ought to control this enterprise, we may have something to say hereafter.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

The assignee's sale of Duncan Sherman & Co's property by E. H. Ludlow & Co., on Tuesday last, was tolerably well attended, but most of the parcels, consisting of suburban property, were disposed of at low figures. Two lots on One Hundred and Forty-third street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, were sold at $1,150 each. The St. Andrew's church property, at Edgewater, Staten Island, and also the lands under water in front of the same, were sold to Mr. F. C. Edson for $1,000 above the mortgage of $70,000. The aggregate yearly rental is $3,128.65. Eight lots of land, bounded by Middlesex and Somerset streets and Seventh avenue, East Newark, N. J., were sold for $280, a purchase price which will return a handsome profit to the buyer, Mr. Carlin.

Some important Brooklyn auction sales, to come off during the beginning of the month, are announced in another column, by Mr. Jas. C. Eadie. Full details can be found in the descriptive advertisements.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

There continues to be an active demand for acre property in the annexed district, and rumors, which have been amply discounted in this column weeks ago, have again been revived in regard to certain transactions which are said to have been consummated within the past few days. We have it from the most authentic sources that all such statements are premature, and that pending negotiations are still in the same condition as they were weeks ago, when they were first alluded to in these columns. There can be no doubt that Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Ward property is looming up, but not at the lightning rate of speed which some persons are anxious to depict for the edification of the investing public. The rumors now prevailing are simply premature; what the times will bring forth is hard to conjecture, but as soon as bona fide negotiations now pending are culminated they will be announced authoritatively in these columns.

While transactions in real estate are few and far between, the loan market has suddenly become more active, and the bond and mortgage departments of the various insurance companies now have considerably more work on hand than at the beginning of the month. In this connection, we desire to call attention to one of the largest loans negotiated for some time past in New York City to a single individual, namely, one of $260,000, on the southeast corner of Broadway and Fourth street, through to Lafayette place, allowed to Henry Mason and wife by the Mutual Life Insurance Company. Mr. C. B. Geissenhainer was the successful broker, in this instance.

On Tuesday next, there will be sold under foreclosure five three-story brick dwellings on the southeast corner of Broome and Attorney streets, 50x100, on which a mortgage for $6,000 was given in 1851 by one Tuers to The Bowery Savings Bank. At least $12,000 has been paid by the owner in interest, etc., since the mortgage was obtained and now that default of interest, amounting to only $166, has been made, the property is to be sold, the total amount due in all being about $6,700.

A private sale of four full lots on One Hundred and Thirty-second and One Hundred and Thirty-third streets, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, at $4,000 each, was reported yesterday.

It is understood that the new Boulevard Railway Company, which is to run from the upper part of the city down to Forty-second street in connection with the cross-town roads, is awaiting impatiently the legal authorization daily expected from the municipal authorities to begin operations and lay the tracks.

The land, upon which the new reservoir dam at Ken-sico, Westchester County, is to be built, has been purchased from the executors of the estate of Elijah Davis for $15,000. It consists of about fifty acres.

The Dominican Convent of Our Lady of the Rosary has purchased four lots, each 25x100.5, on the north side of Sixty-third street 325 feet east of Second avenue, for $8,000. It is intended to erect a large building on these four lots.

Breen & Nason have sold another of their excellent houses, on Sixty-sixth st, between Fifth and Madison avenues, for about $50,000.

The number of buildings in course of construction in the upper part of the city is constantly on the increase. The estate of William Astor is building eight three-story dwellings, each 20x56, on the south side of One Hundred and Thirtieth street, west of Fifth avenue, at a cost of $7,500 each. The Improved Dwelling Association are building thirteen six-story brick stores and dwellings costing each $14,154; twelve three-story brown stone dwellings. 16.6x52, costing $10,500 each are going up on the east side of Lexington avenue, between Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth streets. Plans for a new Music Hall, on West Thirty-fifth street, to cost $20,000 have just been agreed upon.

The Thayer property, at Babylon, L. I., has been sold for $55,000 to parties who intend to construct cottages there for use next summer.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending Aug. 27:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Dealers do not appear to have much to communicate this week in the way of positive news, and the general market for Common Hards has scarcely changed. The arrivals have been about steady, with the supply at times selling closely, and even leaving a few buyers out, and on the other hand occasionally over-running and causing a surplus of a few cargoes, with these changes there has been small fractional fluctuations on value, but always within the range of former quotations, and the position may be called about steady. "Up Rivers" worth about $4@4.75, and Haverstraws $5@5.75 per M., as to quality, the two outside quotations about 25c. above the average top selling rate. Pales have not found very decided demand, and were unsettled. Some of the common lots coming in were particularly difficult to dispose of, and sold as low as $2.50 per M., but really good to choice are considered worth $3@3.25 per M. From the points of production along the "River" advices report the make of brick as still progressing, and the output has been pretty near as large during the week as at any corresponding time this season. Manufacturers, however, do not find quite so many vessels available as they desire, and this compelling them to pile up supplies leads to a stronger desire to quit work for the season. It is likely that shutting down will soon commence without any concerted movement.

GLASS.—A fair amount of business is doing on all the regular outlets, and the prospect is favorable for a steady increase. On prices, however, there is the same old uncertainty owing to the competition going on between the domestic and foreign article, and it is useless to quote discounts, as all figures are nominal. Every dealer simply seems to make the best terms possible. The correspondent of a local contemporary writing from Pittsburg, Pa., says:

At a meeting of the Window Glass Association last week, the proposition of the blowers exacting an advance of 10 per cent. was acceded to, and, at the same time, it was agreed not to start up the factories until the middle of September. The action of the blowers places the manufacturers in an unsatisfactory condition, as business is dull and prices weak, with a decline not improbable, in order to compete with French Glass. American manufacturers, however, are determined to hold their trade, and it is probable they will reduce prices sufficiently to shut out foreign glass, even if for a time they should make no money.

HARDWARE.—Operations continue fair and on the increase for most leading styles of domestic hardware. New sections of the country are represented either by mail orders or the personal attendance of buyers, and while negotiations are conducted with caution the aggregate sale of goods is satisfactory to conservative dealers. A great many are to be found, however, who are unable to conceal their disappointment over the absence of something like a "boom," and who occasionally indulge in somewhat unfavorable reports of the general situation. Supplies have continued ample in quantity and assortment, but, as a rule, available only at full former rates, the tone ruling very firm.

An advance has been made on the price of Iron Pipe to discount 65 per cent., and on Boiler Tubes to discount 45 per cent.

LATH.—The market has either been quite unsettled or else dealers and receivers were a trifle astray in making their quotations last week. We then had sales reported to us at $1.70, but since $1.65 has been accepted, and seems to be the best average bid. This however, does not indicate any weakness, for on the contrary, the average feeling is quite as strong as ever, and much confidence is expressed in the future. A comparatively small product, with an indisposition to ship on the part of manufacturers, and indications of a full average consumption, are in brief the features upon which sellers views are stimulated.

LIME.—Business continues to be reported as in good shape, the sale of supplies keeping full enough to prevent an accumulation, and former rates obtained. Offerings not very large, and manufacturers still grumbling over the rates current.

LUMBER.—This still appears to be about the duldest market on the seaboard, and business moves along without any unusual snap or vigor. All changes of late, however, have been for the better and the quiet progress of affairs is toward a solid and healthy basis apparently. With only a few exceptions our dealers are very poorly stocked in both quantity and assortment considering the near approach of fall, and with firmness reported from primary points the holding off policy does not appear to be profitable. Indeed, there is unquestionably much anxiety to secure supplies, and while buyers make no open showing at the moment, an offering of desirable character would without doubt secure immediate and prompt attention. All present indications point to a full winter consumption by both the building and manufacturing interests, not at any further material addition to cost, but at a living margin on current rates, and dealers, therefore, are willing to stock up gradually in anticipation.

Spruce shows about the same general features. Sellers, in all cases, talk strong and confident and keep their limit of valuation well up, with positive assertions that no shading will take place, except, possibly, on an undesirable cargo. It is claimed that if every log waiting to run should come down it would not now greatly weaken the market, as the mills could scarcely have time to fill even existing orders before the close of navigation. It is very difficult to induce manufacturers to bid upon extra sizes. They can't get the logs to cut from. Randoms worth about $14.50@17, with a good portion of cargoes coming in sold before arrival. Specials $17.50@20.

White pine appears to be quite firm on really desirable parcels of stock, especially such as may be suited to home wants. There is not much here and what there is has strong control, with owners in no way anxious to realize. Quite a trade is doing with small dealers in suburban localities. Exporters are careful and most of the really positive orders are for the West Indies, though this week's clearances show quite an amount for South America. We quote $17@19 per M. for West India shipping boards; $23@24 for South American do $15.50@16.50 for box boards; $17@17.50 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine does not secure much in the way of positive change for the better. Some dealers have quite a cheerful tone to their reports, but are more than counterbalanced by those who express themselves in a directly contrary manner, and with the possible and natural exception of some increase of business, sellers can scarcely hope for much advantage this fall. There is too much stock and less of the general demand of last year or two. We quote random cargoes at about $24@25 per M.; ordered cargoes, $24@26 do.; green flooring boards, $25@26 do.; and dry do. do. $25@27. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $20@21 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods retain the old firm position on the market, and it only seems to require the offering of attractive parcels to find customers ready at full rates. Interior advices are quite strong. We quote at wholesale rates by carload as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. culls, $18@20 do. cherry, $15@17 do.; white wood, 1/4 and 5/8 locb. $25@27.50, and do. inch, $43@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do., for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Yard trade does not make much display, but in one way and another there is a great deal of it doing, and full prices are obtained on all leading kinds of stock

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br brig, 198 tons, hence to the Canary Islands, lumber and general cargo, $1,850; a Br barque, 463 tons, and a Br brig, 299 tons, from Savannah to Montevideo, lumber, $21 net; an Am schooner, 300 tons, from Ferdinandina to San Fernando, lumber, about $12; a Br brig, 280 tons, hence to St. Michaels, Azores, white pine lumber, $2,000; a Br barque, 352 tons, from St. Marys to River Plate, lumber, $20; an Am schr, 221 tons, from Mobile to Cape Hayti, lumber, $9.50, and back North Hatteras, logwood, $5 and port charges; a schr, 100 M lumber, from Portland to New York, $2; a schr, 230 tons, hence to Charleston, fertilizer, $1.75, and back from Jacksonville, lumber, $2.75; a schr, 367 tons, hence to Charleston, railroad iron, $1.87½, and back from St. Marys to a Sound port, lumber, $7.50; a schr, 200 M lumber, from Savannah to Philadelphia, $6.75; a barque, from Mobile to Boston, lumber, $10.25, and timber $12; a schr, 100 M lumber, from Jacksonville to Belfast, $9, option of New York $10, or Boston $11; a schr, 500 tons, from Rockport to Charleston, ice, $1, and back from Ferdinandina to Boston, lumber, $7; a schr, 336 tons, hence to St. Augustine and back from Jacksonville with lumber, $11.75 for the round.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending August 21, is reported by the Argus as follows:

The continued firmness in the Western and Canadian Lumber markets, and in canal and lake freights, save from Saginaw to Tonawanda, which are a shade easier, combine to strengthen prices here, notwithstanding the free receipts. The prospect of an active trade during the fall months is well assured. Buyers have been present in large numbers, and purchases to a considerable extent have been made since our last report, in part to fill up the vacancies caused by the recent fires near New York. Stocks of Michigan and Canada lumber are ample and well assorted, save on 10 in. 13 ft. Canada boards, which are very scarce. The assortment of Dry lumber is very good. We are now near upon 60,000,600 ft. ahead of our receipts to a corresponding date in 1879. The impression is gaining ground that henceforward to the close of the season we shall not come up to our receipts of 1879, which were about 150,000,000 ft.

Coarse lumber is in light stock. Spruce is at a very low figure, and Hemlock is in very light supply. Some receivers report their last boat on the way until there is rain at the northern mills. Prices are a fraction higher on Hemlock boards.

At Saginaw good lumber is wanted, there is more inquiry than stock; there is an impression that the better grades will advance in price. A large sale made at $8.00, $16.00 and $38.00.

The receipts of lumber by lake at Buffalo for the week are 7,301,000 feet; by rail, 78 cars. At Oswego, 7,152,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to August 23d were:

Bds. & Setg. ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c.f.	Staves, M.
1880..	218,228,700	1,673	5,400 257,000

Freights from Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25 @ M. feet; from Saginaw, $2.37. From Buffalo to Albany $2.65; from Tonawanda to Albany, $2.50 @ M. feet. Lake Ontario freights from Port Hope to Oswego, $1.10 @ M. feet, from Toronto to Oswego, 100c., and from Oswego to Albany, $1.80 @ 1.85. From Ottawa to Albany $3.50 @ M. feet.

River freights are without change.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette.

August 24, 1880.

There has been no interruption of the steady confidence prevailing in this market during the season of 1880. The demand for stock continues and all desirable parcels are quickly caught up. The past week has been marked by more transactions than any other during August, and some very good sales have been made: one lot of 400,000 feet $8, $16 and $38; one of 200,000 feet at $7.50, $15 and $35 that averaged $20; 500,000 feet at $7, $14 and $30; 500,000 feet at $7.50, $15 and $35; 400,000 feet at $7.25, $14.50 and $32, together with quite a number of others at a similar range of prices. Some coarse stock has been sold at $6.50, $13.50 and $30. A good sale at Cheboygan and one in Montcalm County are noted elsewhere. There are no signs of any depreciation in prices this season. There will be an overstock, and we are confident the season will close with the stock as closely sold as last year. The shingle market continues active at quotations.

Freights continue steady at $2.25 @ 2.50 from Bay City and East Saginaw to Buffalo and Tonawanda, and $1.75 @ 2 to Ohio ports, outside figures being from Saginaw.

NORTHWESTERN LUMBERMAN, CHICAGO.

We find nothing in the general tone or expression of the markets of the country during the past week to lead to a modification of our views as expressed last week. There is no locality in which firmness does not prevail, with a strong tendency to advance in lists. We hear of no indications of rainfall to relieve the hung up logs of Maine and the upper waters of the Connecticut River, and the prospect of a large supply of spruce and pine from that section to its usual market in eastern Massachusetts and New York is very small for this season. The Boston, Albany and New York markets are firm, with greater buoyancy and an advancing tendency. The bear element in New York has been loth to give way to the conviction that values must advance, but is fast giving way to the inevitable. The heavy fire noted in our last issue as at that time just reported from Hunters Point, destroyed about 21,000,000 feet, principally stock from the Northeast, and has seriously affected the assortment of Eastern pine and spruce, leaving an enlarged market for Western lumber. The stocks of the city are, however, still large, although assortments are reported as badly broken.

In the Williamsport district the mills have, to a large extent, stopped operations for want of water to bring logs within reach of the mills, and will contribute no more stock to the season's quota, even though they succeed in starting up, as is hoped, in September. The shortage in the season's supply will be at least 100,000,000 feet from this locality, and the markets from Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware, etc., will have occasion to look to the Michigan markets for that amount of stock. At Saginaw, contracts are still reported for future sawing at full prices, and it is well understood that nearly all choice stocks are sold ahead, there being but a small amount yet uncontracted, this being held at $3, $16 and $36. It is reported that 1,000,000 feet was offered a few days since at $18 straight; this stock is estimated at 20 per cent. uppers and 15 per cent. culls. At Oswego, N. Y., there is no change in quotations. Trade is reported good. Lumber for distribution and for shipment is going forward rapidly. Canal freights are steady at $1.80 to $1.85 to Albany and $2.65 to New York. Lake freights are higher, having advanced from Lake Ontario ports from 90 cents to $1 and $1.25 from some points. Dealers are carrying large stocks and anticipate an extra good trade during the balance of the season.

The Western markets all report good trade at stiff and advancing quotations. The remarks made by Western men at the meeting, elsewhere reported, are a fair index of the feeling of operators on the Mississippi and its tributaries. It is quite apparent that whatever error may be detected in the figures of the production of lumber in the Northwest, that under no circumstances can a supply be looked for equivalent to the increased demand, which from all points is represented as being from 25 to 40 per cent. above that of last year. The figures of supply for this year are considered high by men from all sections, but will at the close be closely verified, so far as sources of information are open to us.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

We would call the attention of all our readers to the most important table showing the lumber product of the Northwest. These figures are in the hands of a committee for revision, as it is believed by many that there has been an over-estimate of stock in sight, so we caution our friends to accept the figures with caution and remember that the present enormous demand is a much more important factor in the problem than the reported surplus. The sales of lumber may be safely set down at 25 per cent., above the trade of 1879 and is increasing. This in the country represented by the figures means at least a thousand million feet of lumber more than was sold last year. This would not only absorb the reported 400,000,000 excess but make a hole of 600,000,000 feet in the amount to be carried over. It is another item in the account that the lumbermen in this district are many millions of dollars better off in cash, capital and credit than they were one year ago, and consequently so much the better able to carry the stocks over. Manufacturing is progressing all along the line to the extent of the sawing capacity, but from 50 to 60 per cent. is shipped fresh from the saws and the amount left for cross piling but little more than makes good the shipments of dry stocks. In other words, their stocks are being increased but little, if any, by the sawing. Notwithstanding the floods brought out all the logs. The crop of the St. Croix, Black and Chippewa rivers which have about passed the booms are nearly all taken up by mills along the river at fair prices. It is reported that there are almost no logs left at Stillwater, even the short logs which were supposed to be in excess have been cleaned out, so that not over three or four rafts remain unsold.

The lumbermen of Chicago will make another advance this week, probably of $1.00, and the river markets should at once follow this action by a corresponding rise.

An exchange has the following:

The hardwood lumber regions of the South are receiving more and more attention from lumber manufacturers. Of late, English and other companies have entered that market, and are buying timber lands to a large extent. The action of these foreign buyers tends to enhance prices, as they habitually offer for standing timber considerable more than it is selling for in the market. One English company have recently made very extensive purchases in southeastern Wisconsin, one track of land bought by them being no less than 156,000 acres; upon this track is found a large variety of choice hardwoods. It is stated by lumber producers that the difficulty of bringing logs to a proper shipping point will be so great that the cost will be enhanced to a point that will render the venture a losing one. Forty miles of railroad will be required to properly open up the tract, and we are informed that this is now building. Most of the timber cut in both Missouri and Arkansas is floated down the Mississippi to New Orleans, and thence distributed over the world. England is the largest foreign consumer, but there is a rapidly growing demand for American hardwood in Germany and France.

THE EAST.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin says:

The trade in Western lumber is of about the same proportions as last week. There is a steady and satisfactory demand for desirable stuff, and buyers are quite ready to meet the views of bolders. The receipts are light, and stocks are gradually diminishing, which precludes the idea of any weakness in price. We learn that the Export Lumber Company, whose stock was recently burned at New York City, sent an order for 2,000,000 feet of pine lumber to one of our large Boston houses, but the latter were confident of the future strength of the market, and refused to fill it at present ruling prices.

Eastern lumber shares the strength of Western, spruce continuing to maintain its firm position. The scarcity of water in the Down East streams exerts a "bull" influence on the market, and the manufacturers feel that even higher prices must prevail. We advance our quotations on hemlock boards. Spruce clapboards are $1 higher, and laths are bringing better prices. Southern hard pine is active and unchanged.

THE PROVINCES.

The Montreal Journal of Commerce reports:

Lumber keeps firm at the advanced rates, and is in active demand. Freight from Ottawa here are $1 to $1.10, with prospect of an advance. Freight from Ottawa to Burlington $2.50 now, whereas last season lumber was carried at $1.50 M feet. Active preparations in all quarters are being made to get out an extraordinary quantity of saw-logs and timber this winter. Local trade quiet.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has not been very active of late, and the small amounts selling were merely such as might be required for immediate consumption. Prices about steady at 19c. for Lake. Manufactured Copper in good average demand at former rates. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper ordinary size over 16 oz per square foot, 28c. per lb; do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz per square foot, 30c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz, per sq foot, 32c per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz per sq foot, 34c per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 31c per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 34c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 31c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 28c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 26c per lb, and Bolt Copper, 28c per lb. IRON.—Scotch Pig, in store has been quiet, the limit of cost standing too high for buyers limits, but parcels offered a little "off," both from pier and to arrive, found customers to quite a fair extent. We quote at $23 @ 26 per ton, according to brand and quantity. American Pig has been selling very well, and while it commanded full rates readily no active advances were attempted. The home producer is afraid of foreign competition if prices go much higher, as a great deal of imported stock is only awaiting the opportunity to unload upon this market. No. 1 X is still the best sustained. We quote at $27.00 @ 28 per ton for No. 1; $23 @ 24 do for No. 2; and $21 @ 22 for forge. Rails sold quite freely, but from necessity the business was about all for future, the mills being at present over-run with orders for prompt delivery. We quote at $43 @ 48 for iron and $50 @ $53 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails: $27 @ 27.50 per ton; scrap $28 @ 30. Manufactured Iron has met with a better and more general sale, and prices appear on the turn for the higher range. We quote Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes at 22 @ 23c. from store, and Refined at 24 @ 25c.; wrought beams at 30 @ 32c. Fish plates quoted at 24 @ 24½c.; track bolt and nuts, 3½ @ 3¾c. railway spikes, 2½c., tank, 2.7 @ 2.8c.; angle, 2.7c.; best flange, 4 @ 4.1c.; and domestic sheet on the basis of 3½c. for common Nos. 10 @ 20. Other descriptions at corresponding prices, with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD.—Domestic Pig has sold quite freely, but of late the demand slackened up somewhat, and the market again shows a quiet tone. We quote 5 @ 5½c. The manufactures of lead are steady and quoted: Bar, 6c; Pipe, 6½c., and Sheet, 7c., less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 15c. Block Tin pipe, 40c. on same terms. TIN.—Pig has found more or less irregularity under speculative manipulation, both here and abroad, but the actual call for consumption not very heavy. We quote 20½ @ 21c. for Australian, 21 @ 21½ for Straits, 21 @ 21½c. for English Refined 2½ @ 21c. for do. Common. Tin Plates were not so much sought after but received fair attention, and values held up very well. Supplies are now increasing a trifle. We quote I. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment, $6.25 @ 6.37½c. for Allaway grade, and $6.37½ @ 6.50 for Melyn grade; I. C. Coke $5.37½ @ 5.50c. for B. V. grade; $5.37½ @ 5.50 for Yspitty grade; Cbarcoal terme $5.62½ @ 6.25 for Allaway grade, 14x20; $12 @ 12.25 for do., 20x28; Coke terme, $5.25 @ 5.37½ for Glais grade, 14x20, and $11 @ 11.12½ for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter meeting with a fair average demand and ruling about steady in price. Quoted 5 @ 5½c. Sheet Zinc has sold a little more freely and was steady at 7¼ @ 7½c., according to quality.

NAILS.—A careful offering is made from all regular sources and the open supply on the market is small. Demand shows some irregularity, but it is claimed that considerable amounts of stock are going out with buyers, in some instances, inclined to anticipate their wants. Prices remain as before with a somewhat more uniformly firm tone.

We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $3.00@3.10; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $3.25; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $3.50; 4d and 5d, common, do per keg, $1.75; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $1.50; 3d, fine, per keg, $3.25; 2d, per keg, $5.25. Cut spikes, all sizes, $3.25. Floor casing and box, $3.75@4.50. Finishing, $4.00@4.75.

CLINCH NAILS.

1½ inch, $5.50@5.65; 1¾ inch, $5.25@5.35; 2 inch, $5.00@5.15; 2¼ inch, $4.75@4.85; 3 inch and longer, $4.50@4.60.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Business has been a little unsettled again and in some cases not altogether satisfactory. As a general thing, however, the selling interest regard the situation as encouraging and the expectations are that the distribution of supplies will be full this fall and at fairly remunerative returns on all staple grades. Irregularity on prices may occasionally be heard of, but no very violent fluctuations appear to have of late taken place. Linseed Oil has found a moderate and uncertain demand and was rather lacking in strength on prices, though no further important concessions have been allowed. We quote at 56@58 per gallon from crushers' hands.

PITCH.—Business keeps up to about the average and the offering balances the outlet. No surplus, however, is shown, while values rule about steady. We quote at $2@2.12½ per bbl for City delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The jobbing movement was fair and at full rates. On the wholesale market there was a somewhat unsettled tone, but on the whole the advantage was in sellers favor, as the speculative grip upon supplies continues strong and quite an advance in value is shown. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 35@36c. per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—The movement has been fairly active in a jobbing way and at a steady run of prices. On the wholesale market business not very full, and supplies somewhat larger, but former rates in all cases insisted upon. We quote at $3.50@3.75 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $3.50@3.75 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

REAL ESTATE RECORD

AND BUILDERS' GUIDE.

VOL. XXVI.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1880.

No. 651

Published Weekly by

The Real Estate Record Association.

TERMS.

ONE YEAR, in advance....$10.00.

Communications should be addressed to

C. W. SWEET,

No. 137 BROADWAY

We publish to-day, for the information of owners and landlords, those sections of Part Second of the new Code of Procedure relating to summary proceedings to recover the possession of real property. This part of the new Code went into effect on the first of September.

GENERAL GRANT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE WORLD'S FAIR.

With all due respect for the World's Fair Commission as now organized, we nevertheless take the liberty to suggest that a leader is wanted at the head of an enterprise like this which, for the sake of our own metropolis, must necessarily eclipse in grandeur all previous international exhibitions. Such a leader must be an American of world-wide reputation, to whom all sections of our country will look as the organizer of success, and whom the entire civilized world will be anxious to support in his arduous labors.

Such a man is General Ulysses S. Grant, and we therefore nominate him as the President of the Commission of the International World's Fair to be held in this city of New York in the year 1883.

The ex-president is now out of politics, he carries more weight with him among the masses than any other living American. He is, indeed, aside of the President, the first citizen of the Republic. We could well afford to pay him a salary of $50,000 per annum, pending his occupancy of said office, and New York, as well as the entire country, would be benefited by his appointment. Capitalists of all shades of politics would liberally subscribe toward an international exhibition of which General Grant is not only the nominal but active president. Our own manufacturers would vie with each other to place the products of their labor on the most progressive grounds, and nations from all sections of the globe would hail with delight an opportunity to compete for the crown of industry in a contest presided over by an illustrious American whom they know and whom they themselves have honored.

Place General Grant at the head of the World's Fair, and its success is assured beyond a doubt.

WATCH THE RECORDS.

The importance of carefully watching the columns of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD was demonstrated during the past week in the most thorough manner. In THE RECORD of August 28, there appeared three liens against property on Seventh street, as follows:

Aug. 21.—7th st. s s, 256 e 3d av, 52 ft front. Wm. H. Jenkins & Son agt John W. Miller and Adam Klein. . $2,000
Aug. 23.—7th st, Nos. 25 and 27, n s, bet 2d and 3d avs. Wm. Moller agt John W. Miller and Adam Klein. 300
Aug. 23.—Same property. Wm. Hall & Sons agt same. 897

A subscriber, who also had a claim against the property, noticed that the Jenkins lien read Seventh street, south side, while the property is on the north side. He at once went to the County Clerk's Office and found that the transcript of said lien as printed in THE RECORD was correct—and saw his way clear to have his claims take precedence of Jenkins, which he did without delay.

Again, a letter having been received at this office complaining of an inaccurate report of a transfer of property on the northwest corner of One Hundred and Fourteenth street and New avenue, our experts readily ascertained that again THE RECORD was right, but the deed wrong, as the property so transferred is located on the northwest corner of Eight avenue and One Hundred and Fourteenth street, instead of New avenue.

As usual, the Park Commission devoted most of its regular meeting to wrangling over a very small matter. When are the Commissioners going to begin to earn their salaries.—N. Y. Herald.

Two mistakes in four lines. The wrangling as to who should be entrusted with laying out Morningside Park is certainly not "a very small matter." Next, the Herald ought to know that the Park Commissioners do not get any salaries at all, only the President of the Board does.

While on this subject, however, let us advise the two Commissioners who desire to have Mr. Calvert Vaux take charge of the Morningside Park improvement to compromise with the other two Commissioners who desire the appointment of Mr. J. Wrey Mould by "pooling their issues," and request these two gentlemen to co-operate. They are both excellent landscape architects, and will not "wrangle" in regard to an improvement that will tend so much to beautify a most eligible section of our city. As frequently there is "wisdom in the multiplicity of council," perhaps the two gentlemen named might go further, and consult the views of Mr. Frederick Law Olmstead, who, if we are correctly informed, designed some time ago an excellent plan as to the manner in which Morningside should be laid out.

There need be no hesitation on the part of the Improved Dwelling Association in proceeding with the laudable work they have undertaken. Though they may regard the construction of thirteen dwelling houses as a mere experiment, it will not be long before they will regret having called a halt at this number. Not only First avenue, Seventy-first and Seventy-second streets, where the new buildings belonging to this association are now being erected, but the entire district in the immediate vicinity is destined to be filled with just such edifices. The association is not only doing a good, benevolent work, but it has entered upon a paying enterprise, as the constantly increasing population of the Nineteenth Ward will soon demonstrate. Only let the rents be kept at a moderate figure, and the two hundred and eighteen suites at the disposal of the association will soon be occupied by as many families. In fact, capitalists generally now employing their money in the improvement of the upper East Side, find it to their advantage to construct principally what are called modern flat houses, and the time will not be long before New York City, in that section at least, will be covered with apartment houses to a far greater extent than Paris is to day. Lots even on the extreme East Side are too expensive for investors to indulge in the luxury of building small private houses on speculation. It pays them better to build apartment houses for the purposes of resale, as the purchaser knows by intuition that he will get a handsome return for his investment. The Dwelling Association as landlord, therefore, if its property is honestly managed, would get good returns for its enterprise, even if its purposes were not based simply upon benevolence and public spirit.

There are some capitalists who think that, owing to the avalanche of apartment houses in the upper eastern part of the city, private residences at moderate figures will be eagerly sought after by those belonging to the middle classes. Others claim that a district once occupied by apartment houses becomes known as such, and the family looking for a small house will either go further north, say to Harlem, or pay more and cross the Fourth avenue line to the Park. It is now evident that ere long the majority of residences to be erected east of the Fourth avenue, in the Seventies and Eighties, will be apartment houses, and it remains to be proven yet whether the isolated, small house in that section will command, owing to its very scarcity, as good a price as if it were constructed further north or more to the westward.

THE NEW CODE.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO LANDLORDS AND TENANTS.

The following sections of the new Code, which went into operation on last Wednesday, the first of September, are of great importance to landlords and tenants. They furnish the new manner of summary proceedings under which owners can recover possession of real property. We publish to-day as much of Title II., containing this information, as we can find room for, promising to complete the remainder in our next issue :

WHEN TENANT MAY BE REMOVED.

SECTION 2231. In either of the following cases, a tenant or lessee at will, or at sufferance, or for part of a year, or for one or more years, of real property, including a specific or undivided portion of a house, or other dwelling, and his assigns, undertenants, or legal representatives, may be removed therefrom, as prescribed in this title :

1. Where he holds over and continues in possession of the demised premises, or any portion thereof, after the expiration of his term, without the permission of the landlord.

2. Where he holds over, without the like permission, after a default in the payment of rent, pursuant to the agreement under which the demised premises are held, and a demand of the rent has been made, or at least three days' notice in writing, requiring, in the alternative, the payment of the rent, or the possession of the premises, has been served, in behalf of the person entitled to the rent, upon the person owing it, as prescribed in this title for the service of a precept.

3. Where he, being in possession under a lease for a term of three years or less, has, during the term, taken the benefit of an insolvent act, or has been adjudicated a bankrupt, under a bankrupt law of the United States.

4. Where the demised premises, or any part thereof, are used or occupied as a bawdy-house, or house of assignation for lewd persons, or for any illegal trade or manufacture, or other illegal business.

PERSON HOLDING OVER LAND SOLD, ETC., MAY BE REMOVED.

SEC. 2232. In either of the following cases, a person, who holds over and continues in possession of real property, after notice to quit the same has been given, as prescribed in section 2236 of this act, and his assigns, tenants, or legal representatives, may be removed therefrom, as prescribed in this title :

1. Where the property has been sold by virtue of an execution against him, or a person under whom he claims, and a title under the sale has been perfected.

2. Where the property has been duly sold, upon the foreclosure, by proceedings taken as prescribed in title ninth of this chapter, of a mortgage executed by him, or a person under whom he claims, and the title under the foreclosure has been duly perfected.

3. Where he occupies or holds the property, under an agreement with the owner to occupy and cultivate it upon shares, or for a share of the crops, and the time, fixed in the agreement for his occupancy, has expired.

4. Where he, or the person to whom he has succeeded, has intruded into, or squatted upon, a parcel of land, in a city or incorporated village, without the permission of the person entitled to the possession thereof, and the occupancy, thus commenced, has continued without permission from the latter ; or after a permission given by him has been revoked, and notice of the revocation given to the person or persons to be removed.

IN CASE OF FORCIBLE ENTRY OR DETAINER.

SEC. 2233. An entry shall not be made into real property, but in a case where entry is given by law; and, in such a case, only in a peaceable manner, not with strong hand, nor with multitude of people. A person who makes a forcible entry forbidden by this section, or who, having peaceably entered upon real property, holds the possession thereof by force, and his assigns, undertenants, and legal representatives, may be removed therefrom, as prescribed in this title.

APPLICATION; TO WHOM MADE.

SEC. 2234. Application for the removal of a person from real property, as prescribed in this title, may be made to the county judge or special county judge of the county, or a justice of the peace of the city or town, or the mayor or recorder of the city, wherein the real property, or a portion thereof, is situated. Application may also be made, if the property, or a portion thereof, is situated in the city of New York, to the city judge, or judge of the court of general sessions of that city, or to a justice of the marine court of that city, or to the district court of the district within which the property, or a portion thereof, is situated; if in the city of Brooklyn, to a police justice of that city; if in the city of Albany, or the city of Troy, to a justice of the justices' court of that city; if in the city of Yonkers, to the city judge of that city; if in the city of Rochester, to a judge of the municipal court of that city.

PETITION BY PERSON ENTITLED TO POSSESSION.

SEC. 2235. The application may be made by the landlord or lessor of the demised premises; the purchaser upon the execution or foreclosure sale; the person forcibly put out or kept out; the person with whom, as owner, the agreement was made, or the owner of the property occupied under an agreement, to cultivate the property upon shares, or for a share of the crops; or the person lawfully entitled to the possession of the property intruded into or squatted upon, as the case requires; or by the legal representative, agent, or assignee of the landlord, purchaser, or other person, so entitled to apply. The applicant must present to the judge or justice, a written petition, verified in like manner as a verified complaint in an action brought in the supreme court, describing the premises of which the possession is claimed, and the interest therein of the petitioner, or the person whom he represents; stating the facts, which, according to the provisions of this title, authorize the application by the petitioner, and the removal of the person in possession; naming, or otherwise intelligibly designating, the person or persons against whom the special proceeding is instituted, and, if there are two or more such persons, and some are undertenants or assigns, specifying who are principals or tenants, and who are undertenants or assigns; and praying for a final order to remove him or them accordingly.

NOTICE TO BE GIVEN IN CERTAIN CASES.

SEC. 2236. Where the person to be removed is a tenant at will, or at sufferance, the petition must state the facts, showing that the tenancy has been terminated, by giving notice, as required by law. Where the application is made in a case specified in section 2232 of this act, the petition must state that a notice, in behalf of the applicant, requiring all persons occupying the property to quit the same, by a day therein specified, has been either served personally upon the person or persons to be removed, or affixed conspicuously upon the property, at least ten days before the day specified therein.

PETITION BY NEIGHBOR OF BAWDY-HOUSE, ETC.

SEC. 2237. An owner or tenant of real property, in the immediate neighborhood of other demised real property, which is used or occupied as a bawdy-house, or house of assignation for lewd persons, may serve personally upon the owner or landlord of the premises, so used or occupied, or upon his agent, a written notice, requiring the owner or landlord to make an application for the removal of the person so using or occupying the same. If the owner or landlord, or his agent, does not make such an application, within five days thereafter; or, having made it, does not in good faith diligently prosecute it; the person giving the notice may make such an application, stating in his petition, the facts so entitling him to make it. Such an application has the same effect, except as otherwise expressly prescribed in this title, as if the applicant was the landlord or lessor of the premises.

PRECEPT.

SEC. 2238. The judge or justice, to whom a petition is presented, as prescribed in either of the foregoing sections of this title, must thereupon issue a precept, directed to the person or persons designated in the petition as being in possession of the property, and requiring him or them forthwith to remove from the property, describing it, or to show cause, before him, at a time and place specified in the precept, why possession of the property should not be delivered to the petitioner, or, in the case specified in the last section, to the owner or landlord. The precept must be returnable, not less than three nor more than five days after it is issued; except that, where the proceeding is taken, upon the ground that a tenant continues in possession of demised premises, after the expiration of his term, without the permission of his landlord, and the application is made on the day of the expiration of the lease, or on the next day thereafter, the precept may, in the discretion of the judge or justice, be made returnable on the day on which it is issued, at any time after twelve o'clock, noon, and before six o'clock in the afternoon.

IN NEW YORK CITY.

SEC. 2239. In the city of New York, where the application is made to a district court, the petition must be filed with, and the precept must be issued by, the clerk of the court; and the precept must be made returnable before the court, at the place designated, pursuant to law, for holding the court; and all subsequent proceedings in the cause must be had at that place, except as otherwise prescribed in section 2246 of this act. If, upon the return of the precept, or upon an adjourned day, the justice is unable, by reason of absence from the court room or sickness, to hear the cause, or it is shown by affidavit that he is for any reason disqualified to sit in the cause, or is a necessary and material witness for either party, a justice of any other district court of the city may act in his place at the same court room.

HOW SERVED.

SEC. 2240. The precept must be served as follows :

1. By delivering to the person to whom it is directed, or, if it is directed to a corporation, to an officer of the corporation, upon whom a summons, issued out of the supreme court, in an action against the corporation, might be served, a copy of the precept, and at the same time showing him the original.

2. If the person to whom the precept is directed resides in the city or town in which the property is situated, but is absent from his dwelling house, service may be made by delivering a copy thereof at his dwelling house, to a person of suitable age and discretion, who resides there; or, if no such person can, with reasonable diligence, be found there, upon whom to make service, then by delivering a copy of the precept at the property sought to be recovered, either to some person of suitable age and discretion residing there, or if no such person can be found there, to any person of suitable age and discretion employed there.

3. Where service cannot, with reasonable diligence, be made, as prescribed in either of the foregoing subdivisions of this section, by affixing a copy of the precept upon a conspicuous part of the property.

If the precept is returnable on the day on which it is issued, it must be served at least two hours before the hour at which it is returnable; in every other case, it must be served at least two days before the day on which it is returnable.

DUTY OF PERSON TO WHOM COPY OF PRECEPT IS DELIVERED.

SEC. 2241. A person, to whom a copy of a precept, directed to another, is delivered, as prescribed in this title, must, without any avoidable delay, deliver it to the person to whom it is directed if he can be found within the same town or city; or, if he cannot be so found, to his agent therein; and if neither can be so found, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, before the time when the precept is returnable to the judge or justice who issued the same, at the time of the return thereof, with a written statement endorsed thereupon, that he has been unable, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, to find the person to whom the precept is directed, or his agent, within the town or city. A person, who willfully violates any provision of this section, is guilty of a misdemeanor; and, if he is a tenant upon the property, forfeits to his landlord the value of three years' rent of the premises occupied by him. A copy of this section must be indorsed upon each copy of a precept served otherwise than personally upon the person to whom it is directed.

WHEN PRECEPT TO BE SERVED ON LANDLORD OF BAWDY-HOUSE, ETC.

SEC. 2242. Where the case is within section 2237 of this act, the precept must be directed to and served upon the owner or landlord, or his agent, and also upon the tenant or occupant of the property. Either or both of them may, upon the return day, appear and show cause why the tenant or occupant should not be removed from the property.

PROOF OF SERVICE OF PRECEPT.

SEC. 2243. At the time when the precept is returnable, the petitioner must, unless the adverse party appears, make due proof of the service thereof, showing the time, and the place and manner of service; and, unless service was made personally upon the adverse party, or by affixing a copy of the precept, the name of the per son to whom a copy of the precept was delivered. if his name can be ascertained with reasonable diligence. Where service is made by a sheriff, constable or marshal, it may be proved by his certificate, stating the facts.

ANSWER.

SEC. 2244. At the time when the precept is returnable, without waiting as prescribed in an action before a justice of the peace, or in a district court of the city of New York, the person to whom it is directed, or his landlord, or any person in possession or claiming possession of the premises, or a part thereof, may file, with the judge or justice who issued the precept, a written answer, verified in like manner as a verified answer in an action in the supreme court, denying generally the allegations, or specifically any material allegation, of the petition.

ISSUES UPON FORCIBLE ENTRY OR DETAINER.

SEC. 2245. Where the application is founded upon an allegation of forcible entry or forcible holding out, the petitioner must allege and prove that he was peaceably in actual possession of the property, at the time of a forcible entry, or in constructive possession, at the time of a forcible holding out; and the adverse party must either deny the forcible entry, or the forcible holding out, or allege, in his defence, that he, or his ancestor, or those whose interest he claims, had been in quiet possession of the property, for three years together next before the alleged forcible entry or detainer; and that his interest is not ended or determined, at the time of the trial.

IN NEW YORK DISTRICT COURT, CAUSE MAY BE TRANSFERRED TO ANOTHER COURT FOR TRIAL.

SEC. 2246. In a district court of the city of New York, at the time of joining issue, the justice sitting in the cause may, in his discretion, upon motion of either party, or, if no justice is present, the clerk may, by consent of both parties, make an order transferring the cause for trial, to a district court of an adjoining district, which thereupon has the same jurisdiction and power, at its own court house, as if the property was situated within its district.

TRIAL.

SEC. 2247. The issues, joined by the petition and answer, must be tried by the judge or justice; unless a party, or one of two or more parties, answering as prescribed in the last two sections, files, with the answer, a written demand that the issues so joined be tried by a jury; and at the same time pays to the judge or justice, or to the clerk, the fees of the jurors, and of the officer for notifying them. In that case, the issues must be tried by a jury, in like manner as an issue of fact joined in an action, in the court of which the judge or justice, who issued the precept, is the presiding officer; and all the provisions of this act, relating to procuring and empanelling a jury; the trial of an issue of fact by a jury; and the proceedings upon such a trial, including those relating to the mode of compelling the attendance of a witness, and to the punishment of a defaulting witness or juror, in that court, apply to the trial of an issue so joined, except as otherwise expressly prescribed in this title.

THE CITY'S FINANCES.

STATEMENT IN REGARD TO ARREARS OF ASSESSMENT AND ARREARS OF TAXES.

We extract from Comptroller Kelly's annual report only such financial statistics as will interest owners of real estate. The total debt of New York on August 1, 1880, including revenue bonds, is set down at $121,448,474 61 as against $21,878,859.45 at the same date last year.

The cash receipts from all sources during the year, including balance in the city treasury on August 1, 1879, were $66,520,531.98; the disbursements for all purposes during the year have been $63,331,259.30, leaving a cash balance in the city treasury on August 1, 1880, of $1,189,272 68.

In view of the fact that the new board for the revision of assessments is to begin operations in very few days, the following statement furnished by the Comptroller is interesting as showing the total amount of assessments for local improvements confirmed prior to the passage of the act (June 9, 1880), on which arrears are due; also the balance remaining unpaid on April 30, 1880, which is subject to the action of the Assessment Commission, viz:

Total amount of assessments for local improvements confirmed prior to June 9, 1880, on which arrears are due.....	$28,524,761 27
Am't asse'd upon the city.....	$3,237,538 11
Am't vac by the courts.....	2,651,897 85
Am't paid by prop.-own's.....	14,175,428 52
	20,066,913 48

Am't remaining unpaid on April 30, '80.....	$8,457,847 79
---	----------------

The amount of assessments vacated by decree of the courts during the year ending August 1, 1880, was—

In the Bureau for the Collection of Assessments.....	$37,551 49
In the Bureau of Arrears.....	498,560 92

The object of the Assessment Commission previously referred to is, to revise and settle assessments for local improvements on a basis of justice and equity satisfactory to the owners of property, as well as the city, and thus avoid litigation and future vacations of assessments.

A statement is also furnished showing the amount of taxes on real estate and Croton water rents remain in unpaid August 1, 1880, for each year since 1869. The total arrears of taxes are $9,323,478.15, Croton water rents unpaid $133,945 84. The amount of personal taxes remaining unpaid is $11,663,202.76.

BROOKLYN'S DRAINAGE SYSTEM.

At the request of the Common Council of Brooklyn, Engineers Van Buren and Wm. E. Worthen have prepared an interesting report in regard to the drainage system of the city. It appears the districts have been built over, and are, in many instances, fixed at too low a grade. The lower portions of many districts are frequently inundated, causing constant complaints. In many localities there are "pockets," where the grading of the streets concentrates the flow from all directions, and hence it is not possible to use gutters to carry off the excessive storm water. There are streets a mile or more from the water front graded about eight feet above high water level, and entire districts but a little over ten feet above high tide.

The report proposes "a system of interception of the sewage and storm waters of the upper portion of such districts, leaving the lower sewers ample in size to deal with the volume of flow which will then be locally due to them."

The report proposes two main sewers, to relieve not only the flooded districts, but also in general to take the sewage. The largest sewer proposed has been laid to relieve, by a single main, as many districts as possible, and with prospective views of further extension, as the necessities of population may require.

It is to commence at the corner of Marcy avenue and Greene avenue, thence running westerly through Greene avenue to Flatbush avenue, through Fourth avenue to Dean street, thence down Dean and Amity streets to the East River, as shown on plan. A 12-foot sewer is proposed, with a uniform grade of one in 700. From the line of Henry street it will be reduced in height and extended in width till three branches are formed of a little more total area in section than of the 12-foot sewer, so as to discharge at the bulkhead at about the level of high tide, and to secure a suitable sectional area without materially altering the street grade near the outlet.

To prevent offence from the sewage proper, it will be carried by a distinct branch under the main sewer, and extending by a cast-iron pipe through the centre of the slip or along the pier, supported by piles, out into deep water. The estimated cost of this sewer, which is to be 16,000 feet long—7.00 feet in open cutting and 9,000 feet in tunnel—is $700,000 in round numbers. Another sewer to relieve Williamsburg is proposed, to cost $50,000.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

During three days of the past week there were no auction sales at all at the Exchange Salesroom, and on the remaining days the few legal sales were of minor interest. On Long Island, however, some auction sales took place which attracted considerable interest. Several parcels of real estate belonging to the late William Y. Brown, were sold at Greenport at fair prices. Mr. William H. Wickham bought a farm of 120 acres just outside the corporate limits for $10,000, also a plot on Carpenter street for $1,400. Smith & Terry secured the shipyard plot for $5,700.

During the coming week, on Thursday next, the seven hundred lots constituting the Vandervoort farm in Brooklyn, E. D., will be sold by Mr. James C. Eadie, No. 45 Broadway (Williamsburgh). Most of the lots form excellent buildings sites and it is doubtful if the auctioneer can get through the job in one day. The farm is located in the old town of Bushwick and came into the possession of the Vandervoort family by purchase at the beginning of the century. A few years ago about twenty-seven acres of the farm were sold and the remainder, about sixty acres in all, is cut up in city blocks. Large maps showing the dimensions of the property can be had of the auctioneer, and they are well worthy the attention of investors.

Some valuable property in Williamsburgh will be sold on Tuesday next, by Mr. James C. Eadie, by order of Andrew Harmon, Esq. It comprises a valuable corner of Broadway and Ninth street, a fine building on Fourth street near South First street, property on Rodney, Hewes, and Rutledge streets and Tompkins avenue. These parcels are all in excellent condition, and investors are referred to our advertising columns for further particulars.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

While the month of September finds the auction room barren of notable transactions, more activity is already noticeable in the brokers' offices, and those having returned from the various watering places are slowly getting ready for the fray.

The first important sale at private contract during the month is reported by Messrs Scott & Meyers. They have sold, for Mr. Henry L. Douglass, of Tarrytown, the gore block of land lying between Eighth and St. Nicholas avenues, One Hundred and Nineteenth and One Hundred and Twentieth streets, to Dr. Edward P. Huyler, for $51,000 and this year's taxes, which brings the purchase money up to about $52,000. There are 236 feet on One Hundred and Nineteenth street and 112 feet on One Hundred and Twentieth street.

Ex-Mayor Smith Ely, Jr., has just taken title to six full lots on the northwest corner of Second avenue and Ninety ninth street, which he secured a few days ago for $11,000. Three of these lots are recorded this week; the others will follow during the coming week.

Mr. Moritz Bauer has purchased three lots on Fifty-sixth street, between Second and Third avenues, for about $15,000. He secured the lots after they had been excavated, with some of the beams already in position, and, in their present condition, they are ready for immediate further improvement.

A lot on One Hundred and Forty-second street, 275 feet west of Eighth avenue, 25x99.11, has been purchased at private contract by Mr. Edward J. McLean for $1,200.

On Thursday there was recorded in the Register's Office the transfer of four lots on the north side of One Hundred and Ninth street, 70 feet east of Madison avenue, 100.11x118, to the New York Church Extension and Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, for $19,500. A church of grand proportions is to be erected on the property thus acquired, and lot owners in the immediate vicinity hail with delight the society's investment in this locality.

Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co. have sold No. 45 West Forty-fifth street, 18.9x45x100.5, for about $30,000, to Chas. T. Harbeck. Scott & Meyers have sold the brick house and lot, No. 137 East Thirty-ninth street, for $12,000. We also hear of the sale of No. 389 Seventh avenue, 53.9 north of Thirty-first street, 20x100, a five-story brick store and tenement, to John H. Diehl, for $19,000.

No. 81 East Fifty-third street, built by the well-known firm of McCafferty & Buckley, has been sold to Mr. Julius J. Lyons, for $27,500. The sale was made by Mr. Lionel Froehlich, of East Fifty-fourth street.

Comptroller Kelly, having asked for the lowest prices at which the Gansevoort Market Commissioners could acquire the lots within the district set aside for the market, has received the following answers from the various owners: Mr. Littman, three lots, $30,000; Benjamin Wallace, two lots, $14,500 (with improvements); A. S. Rosenbaum, one lot, $10,000; R. J. Sexton, three lots, $18,000; William Collins, three lots (with improvements), $5,000; A. C. Hoe, six lots, $45,500; C. Hagemeyer, three lots, $36,000; Robert Dillon, ten lots, $55,000, making a total of $225,000. The Supreme Court is to be appealed to for the appointment of commissioners to estimate these lots in accordance with the law on this subject recently published in these columns.

We are requested to state that the judgment for $1,300, recorded against John Core as printed in our last issue, does not apply to Mr. John Coar of 100 West Thirty-third street. The pronouncement may be the same, but there is a vast difference nevertheless in the two names.

The stock of the National Stove Works, recently well known in this city, was sold at auction, during the week at Peekskill, to satisfy a judgment of $30,000 held by the Bowery National Bank. The creditors bought the entire stock for $7,000.

The old sugar-house property bounded by Laight, Hubert, Washington and West streets, now occupied by the Government for Appraiser's stores, will shortly be sold under foreclosure, authorization to this effect having been secured from Judge Westbrook by Mr. Russell, receiver of the Six penny Savings Bank, which institution holds a mortgage of $37,500 on the property. The premises belong to Paul N. Spofford. There are other mortgages on this block amounting in the aggregate to over $200,000, but they contain stipulations to the effect that none shall have priority over the other.

It is understood that the directors of the now opera house have requested J. C. Cady, Geo. E. Harney, Potter & Robertson and Geo. B. Post, all architects of this city, to prepare competitive plans for the new Academy of Music that is to ornament Madison and Vanderbilt avenues. Mr. Wm. E. Dodge is about to construct a picture gallery and library, of brick and stone in the old English style, at a cost of $25,000, on the corner of Madison avenue and Thirty-ninth street.

In alluding to the construction of the new warehouses by the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company, in a recent issue, the types made us say Tenth avenue instead of Twelfth avenue, between Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth streets, which we now take occasion to correct.

The trustees of Calvary Cemetery have recently secured a portion of the Mills farm to be added to the cemetery. The property comprises 162 acres and was bought for $53,800.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending Sept. 3:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—On the market for Common Hards there has been some little irregularity, but without much gain for either buyer or seller as current influences were about currently balanced. On the one hand, there has been a falling off in the demand, a portion of the heaviest work being now well advanced, and requiring less stock, and buyers all figure closely to actually reducing the size of their orders. In view of this fact there would no doubt have been quite a surplus accumulation had the arrivals continued as full as last week. Luckily, however, receivers have not been burdened with many extra cargoes, and this has prevented a shading on cost, values on all grades standing about the same as last week. The falling off in the supply is due to a demand from the boatmen for increased rates of transportation, and as the majority of shippers have refused to concede this, only the few who owned their own vessels or submitted to the advance under protest have been forwarding any stock. This, of course, tends to increase the stock in hand at points of production, and storage rooms fill up rapidly with many manufacturers about stopping, and all likely to follow soon. Especially should there be a cold storm. Pales have been moderately active, and the price appears to have settled down to $1 for a top rate except for something extra choice. The orders from the Building Bureau nearly or quite stops the use of this class of stock within our city limits, and the principal outlet is now found on such demand as can be secured from Brooklyn consumers. Fronts are in a little better demand if anything, and prices steady for all really fine stock.

HARDWARE.—There is not much change in the general situation of the market. Some grumbling may occasionally be heard over the absence of sweeping operations, and a general state of excitement, but the major portion of the trade appear to be content with a slow, sure distribution to careful buyers, who will be quite sure to give prompt settlements when due. There is a gradual addition to the number of orders at present, and new sections of the country are daily finding representation in the attendance of buyers, with every indication that larger numbers are close at hand. Some rumors prevail of cutting on price lists, but they are not authenticated, and, so far as positively known, a generally uniform line of values is preserved for all the principal lines of goods.

LATH.—The situation remains just about the same as last week. Receivers generally, are talking with much confidence, and to a certain extent endorse their views as expressed, by making rather light offerings, and insisting upon extreme rates so far as established. As yet, however, they have failed to stimulate any very heavy or rampant demand, and many of the best customers are moving with some caution. Supplies in second hands are moderate, and the prospects for consumption just as good as ever, with advices from the East generally reporting that shipments will be light, but dealers do not hurry themselves, and as yet none appear to be suffering greatly for want of lath. Some small sales are reported as high as $1.75, but $1.70 is full on cargo lots, and sales difficult above $1.65 per M.

LIME.—The market remains in much the same condition as for a week or two past. Demand is not unusually active, but fair enough to prevent any accumulation afloat, and even lead to occasional purchases to arrive, but buyers move without excitement and bid only former rates. These are accepted in most cases quite readily, and appearances indicate a uniform and satisfactory situation for the time being, on both Eastern and State.

LUMBER.—The advantage of the position tends more and more in favor of the selling interest, and our market seems to be crowding up into line with other points where business has been lively for some time. For consumption for shipment, and for accumulation against winter requirements, there is a good demand with an increasing and more positive tendency, and buyers appear keenly alive to the necessity of making a decided move, especially where choice assortments are sought for. No one, however, is going very wild over the situation except some of the alleged commercial journals, whose reporters appear to discover a "boom" in every little increase of demand. Everybody who wants lumber appears ready to buy and many admit a mistake in not doing so long ago, but there is also a large proportion who can withdraw, and they are quite sure to do so should advantage be taken of their necessities beyond a fair and natural limit.

Spruce retains a strong market, the scarcity both of the Northern and Eastern supply being now a pretty well assured matter. Buyers, at least, are willing to accept this theory as having much better foundation than usual, and movements are correspondingly prompt and liberal. Randoms, if anything at all attractive, meet with prompt attention and generally before arrival, while some agents report more of an offering of schedules than manufacturers are, at the moment, willing to handle. On desirable randoms the quotations remain at about $11.50@17, and special $17.50@20.

White Pine has remained quite well up to former values and the tone of the market steady. Supplies have received some additions of late, but the accumulation does not increase rapidly and, with a good general demand, sellers have the advantage on the home trade. The export, however, is not very free at the moment. We quote $17@19 per M. for West India shipping boards; $23@24 for South American do; $15.50@16.50 for box boards; $17@17.50 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow pine remains much the same as last noted. There is some demand for specials, but also quite a little competition to secure the orders, and under this buyers certainly lose no advantage. Randoms are doubtful. There is quite an accumulation already here with scarcely an offsetting demand, and no one cares to buy to arrive, leaving business in a bad position to fairly test values. The general tendency, however, may be considered in buyers favor. We quote random cargoes at about $24@25 per M.; ordered cargoes, $24@26 do.; green flooring boards, $25@26 do.; and dry do. do. $25@27. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $20@21 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods are in good demand and the market firm for all desirable stock. Only really choice walnut is in favor. We quote at wholesale rates by carload about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $33@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. cills, $18@20 do. cherry, $45@47 do.; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do., for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles have gone out to a fair extent to the usual outlets and at about former rates. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $1 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and to quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch, $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No 1; for 21-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@11.75 for No 1.

Yard dealers are doing a good business and obtaining satisfactory prices for their goods, with some stocks running pretty low.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending August 31, is reported by the Argus as follows:

We can report a good business throughout the district during the week. The purchases have been mainly by New York and Southern parties, covering some round lots, one of which, 200,000 feet uppers, is now going aboard schooner for Norfolk, Va. The receipts by canal have not been so free as of late, and it is still thought that henceforward to the close we shall receive less lumber than we did from September 1st to the close in 1879. Prices have not undergone any change of moment. Stock of pine lumber is ample and in good assortment.

The Western and Canadian markets—the latter especially—are very firm.

Coarse lumber market shows no change in tone or condition; it is almost bare of spruce and the stock of hemlock is very light.

The receipts of lumber by lake at Buffalo for the week are 5,507,000 feet; by rail, 96 cars. At Oswego, 6,035,000 feet.

Freights from Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25 per M. feet; from Saginaw, $2.37. From Buffalo to Albany $2.65; from Tonawanda to Albany, $2.50 per M. feet. Lake Ontario freights from Port Hope to Oswego, $1.10 per M. feet, from Toronto to Oswego, $1.25, and from Oswego to Albany, $1.80@1.85. From Ottawa to Albany $3.50 per M. feet.

River freights are without change.

THE WEST.

[Special correspondence of REAL ESTATE RECORD].

CHICAGO, Sept. 1, 1880.

The action of the yard dealers in issuing their last list has had its legitimate effect in strengthening the cargo market, and we note higher figures ruling on some grades than were given in our last report. A large fleet of lumber laden vessels has arrived since Saturday last, and a good proportion of it stopping at the market, the supply for the week has been rather larger than usual. So far, however, it has been handled without difficulty, notwithstanding many dealers are prevented from buying because they have no place on their docks where a vessel can unload. The market is a trifle quiet to-day for this reason, but sales are making occasionally, and the commission men are apparently confident that the fleet can be placed without concessions. The fact is that buyers want the lumber, and are ready to purchase as fast as they can make room for it.

The transactions this morning develop no change in the figures ruling for several days past. Manistee piece stuff is steady and firm at $9.25 and $9.50, while inferior qualities range from $9 to the first unlined figure. The supply of dimension has rather exceeded the demand for a few days, due, however, not so much to larger arrivals as to the fact that dealers will not buy it so readily when they are pressed for room, preferring to handle boards under such circumstances. Inch lumber remains about as previously quoted, the large supply available just now preventing any upward movement. With a less active demand generally; inferior grades of boards would be difficult to dispose of, and concessions on them would probably be made, but under the circumstances existing they have remained fairly steady, and bid fair to do so. Good and choice lumber is in demand at firm figures. Shingles have advanced materially in the last two weeks, standards being quoted at $2.30@2.40, and extras at $1.60@2.70. The last stock report—Aug. 1—showing a very small supply of shingles on hand in proportion to the stock of lumber—smaller, in fact, than that of a year ago—the dealers have since been very anxious to secure them, and everything offered has been quickly taken at prices constantly advancing. In consequence, partly of this free inquiry, many of the shingles sent to market are packed just about as they come from the saw, and the dealers are beginning to complain of them. An effort was made by the Exchange here to regulate the grades and prescribe what should and what should not be packed under certain brands; but the sharp demand for shingles rendered the attempt abortive. The stock of shingles coming forward is said to be small comparatively, and it is not now expected that prices will be any lower this season. Lath are about the same price they were two weeks ago. They are in fair demand, with offerings only moderate.

Cargo prices may be tabulated as follows:

Green joist and scantling.....	$9 00@9 50
Green boards and strips, common.....	10 00@11 50
Green boards and strips, medium.....	12 00@14 50
Green boards and strips, good to choice.....	15 00@18 00
Standard shingles.....	2 3 @ 2 40
Extra shingles.....	2 6 @ 2 70
Lath.....	1 60@1 85

Lake freights are very firm and with a strong upward tendency. Slight advances are made every day, and these will soon be large enough to produce a further advance in lumber or have the effect of checking shipments to some extent. It is believed by some that when the rates go beyond a certain point manufacturers will refuse to pay them, and will keep their lumber at the mills.

The yard dealers met again on the 21st inst. for the purpose of making a new list of prices, their deliberations resulting in a very general advance. Nearly everything on the list was changed, the improvement ranging about $1 on flooring, $1 on uppers and 50 cents on common and dimension lumber. The following condensed list will show what the ruling prices are:

These figures were unanimously agreed upon, and so far as is definitely known, have been closely adhered to in selling by all parties. There is, however, a suspicion current, though it has hardly yet taken definite shape, that some dealers finding their orders slightly reduced after sending out the new lists, have been shading somewhat. A large proportion of the operators here quote "delivered" prices, that is, prices for lumber laid down in the buyer's yard, and in making up such a list they can easily add to the regular prices enough less freight to bring the actual cost of the lumber from 50 cents to $1 below the prices given above. This manner of shading is not directly charged against any one, but it is broadly hinted at as a probability in some cases, and doubtless is to some extent actually practiced. So far the concessions made have not been numerous enough, or material enough to produce a recognized effect upon the market, and it is hoped that any weakness which may affect some of the dealers will speedily give way to a stronger feeling. Whether it does or not depends, of course, on the demand; operators are all willing to get a good price for their stuff, and, indeed, fully as anxious to do so as is anybody to have them; but they feel that they have a large amount on hand, and that it will be better for them to sell what they can of it this fall at a fair profit, than to carry over a large quantity and lose money on it in the spring. Many of them tried it last season and the result demonstrated that one dollar safely landed in the pocket is worth two or more that there may be a possible chance of getting by and by. A lively appreciation of this simple truth makes many conservative about advancing prices, and will tend to check very quickly any disposition to force prices above a safe point.

It cannot be said that the demand has been affected by the recent advance, nor yet that it has not in some degree. Occasional complaints are heard of a falling off in orders, but it does not appear that it is not due to other causes than the change in prices; and opposed to these are the statements of other dealers that they can discover no difference in the volume of their business. The shipments exhibit no falling off, the figures for the last week showing about the same proportionate gain over those for the corresponding time last year as has been previously noted. But this is no proof that there is as much doing in the way of new orders, as all the yards have old ones enough on their books to keep the shipments up for some time to come. The fact that the probable demand for purposes of consumption is everywhere estimated at a higher figure than that of last year, and is by many placed beyond the total supply for this season, gives operators strong reason to believe that the fears of a reduction in the demand are unfounded. If such proves to be the case, and the trade goes on increasing, or even holds its own as compared with last year, we may look for other changes later on. The manufacturers located here would probably be satisfied with the list as it is now, the lumber they sell paying them a good profit; but the strictly dealers, who are in the majority, find cargo prices crowding too closely upon the yard list to admit of their making much profit, and in the event of cargo lumber advancing, as it is likely to, they will be compelled to make another revision of the list as a measure of self defence.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette,

August 31, 1880.

There is no change to note in the market on the river, except it be in the direction of greater strength and a firmer feeling. It may almost be said that prices have advanced although it is not quite true as regards all qualities of lumber. For the choicer lots some holders are asking $8, $16 and $8, and some lumber has changed hands at the figures. Other sales have been made at $7.25, $14.50 and $35, and others at 25 cents and 50 cents advance on the two lower grades. Sales have not been very numerous, but trade is considered satisfactory.

Advices from the leading markets of the country are of a pleasing nature. Trade is reported good everywhere, the general tenor of advices being that the consumption of lumber is larger this year than last, and that the demand will require all the stock within reach to supply it. A flood in the Susquehanna River has brought down an abundant supply of logs to Lock Haven and Williamsport, Pa., and the idle mills at those points have been set at work. But their stock is too small to affect the market. There has been a small advance in prices in nearly all the markets.

The shipments of forest products from the river by water during the week ending August 23, aggregate as follows:

Lumber.....	19,852,000
Lath.....	164,100
Shingles.....	576,000
Timber, cubic feet.....	19,000
Salt, bbls.....	14,431

Lake freights remain the same, viz: From Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25; from Saginaw to same ports, $2.50; Bay City to Ohio ports, $1.75; Saginaw to same ports, $2. It is generally believed that there is more lumber on the docks already sold than can go forward this fall.

Car trade is good and the local retail trade was never better.

The situation is reviewed as follows by the North-western Lumbermen:

The markets of the whole country have seemingly become imbued with the feeling that lumber is not higher—if as high—as circumstances of supply and demand will warrant. In the East, receipts are spoken of as fair, but not excessive, while in those markets where a bearish feeling has been manifest, the conviction is gaining ground that now is a better time to obtain stock than will prevail at any subsequent period of the season. In New York, therefore, we learn of an increased activity in pine, and of complaint both as regards the volume and price of spruce, confirming our previous assertions that the drought in the northeastern lumber producing districts had been seriously felt at the great distributing and consuming centers. At Albany, the receipts are large, but prices have not advanced since our last report, and a feeling prevails that they have nearly or quite reached their highest point in pine, an opinion likely to be modified by the experiences of a later date. Coarse stocks of one inch and one and one fourth inch are reported as accumulating. Trade is reported good, and likely to continue so. At Burlington, Vt., a good trade is reported, with a promising outlook for the future, and this may be said generally of all the Eastern market dependent to a greater or less extent upon Canadian supplies.

Canadian advices report trade better than for many years, with good prices prevailing. Some large sales are reported at Ottawa, and nearly the entire cut of the season is said to be already placed, the mills being engaged in filling contracts at the rate of 1,400,000 feet per day of sawing. In Quebec, the timber market is reported quiet, with purchasers hardly showing so much anxiety. Wane board pine is held at high figures, with no transactions. St. John, N. B., reports a considerable advance in logs and deals, with a great scarcity of offerings, and a most encouraging outlook for European demand.

Turning westward, we find strong markets reported everywhere. Detroit is enjoying a good demand, with stiffening prices, dry lumber being in good request, with a disposition on the part of buyers to accept even the stock which cannot be called dry at full quotations; hardwoods showing an advance of $5 on prices of two months past. Toledo reports the same condition with a decided shortage of dry finishing grades and uppers, and an encroachment upon this season's sawing supply orders. In coarser grades, the stock of dry lumber is still fair. At Saginaw and the Huron shore, the mills are still engaged on contracts, which will occupy them for some weeks to come. Strictly No. 1 stocks are hardly to be had, either in logs or lumber, and sellers dictate their own terms. The reports from this section have in no season in the past presented so favorable an aspect to the manufacturer. Our Saginaw correspondent notes a sale at $8, $16 and $38, prices which have been reached only once before in the history of the valley, and speaks of no expectancy that still higher prices will be reached.

The influence of the price list meeting, held in this city on Saturday last, upon the markets more directly in competition with it, is becoming more marked every day. Upon the whole line of the Mississippi, prices have been advanced, and a healthy trade is being enjoyed. Hannibal reports more trade than is really wanted, at figures corresponding to the recent advance in this city, with stocks 20 per cent, lower than usual.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER,
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. }

It is now an ascertained fact that there will be nearly 300,000,000 feet less lumber produced this year than in 1879 in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. It is also true that the demand for lumber has been at least 25 per cent. greater than last year from January to August, and promises to be still greater for the rest of the year. Reducing this to a simple form, we have this proposition. The business of last year was approximately 4,000,000,000. The business of 1880 will be 5,100,000,000, which is just about the entire amount manufactured in the three states, as will be seen by the figures found in another column showing total production. Under such circumstances, it is not to be wondered at that the tendency is upward and all markets making advances in prices. Cargoes on the lake and rafts on the river follow closely on yard movements, and this will prevent any falling off or cutting prices at the yards. The log markets of the West never have been firmer, at an advance on the average figures of last year. The advance of fifty cents on common and dimension, and from one to three dollars on better grades at Chicago is the big event of the week. We give notice to our readers that a further advance of 50 cents will be made at Chicago on common as soon as the river markets have had time to change their lists (which they will quickly do).

St. Louis sits serenely enjoying a trade of about 5,000,000 per week, at the best prices realized in the West, and is filling up her stocks from South, East and North, wherever she can find a lot for sale.

Hannibal is also a little anxious about supplies, and has been making many heavy purchases.

Clinton has only a minimum stock which is being increased very slowly, for the shipments take it almost as fast as they can saw it, and they do not indulge in raft lumber.

Dubuque sustains the late advance and is preparing to make another soon.

Minneapolis is abnormally nervous and slow to act in the matter of prices ever since they put lumber $1 too high, three years since. She has as yet made no move toward better prices. This of course prevents Stillwater, St. Paul and railroad mills of Wisconsin from moving.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trades Journal to August 21st is at hand, from which we obtain the following:

LONDON.

At Messrs. Simson & Mason's sale at the Baltic, on Wednesday, a good assortment of timber, deals, and battens, as well as boards, lathwood and laths, was offered for competition in 528 lots, of which only 44 were unreserved, and, with the exception of these, the sale may be said to have been very dull and unsatisfactory, for it was seldom a bid could be got on the upset price of any of the rest of the parcels submitted.

Spruce, however, stood its ground well, and may be considered as favorable stock to deal in just at this juncture; but we should not advise any one to rely on the market for any length of time, at least till the present demand shows itself more favorably. The first lot of spruce at this sale went cheap, and seemed to augur badly for the rest. A handy parcel of 3x7 unsorted from St. John, about 400 pcs. 12 to 14 ft., ought surely, if there were any life in trade, to have found favor at a better price than £6 5s. This was proved to be a bargain by what followed, for the lots offered ex Gimso from Miramichi, also unsorted, and only batten sizes, went to £2 a standard more, and one handy lot of scantling, 2x4, a size that has lately come into great favor, fetched £8 15s., which compares advantageously with the prices lately obtainable.

LIVERPOOL.

Pitch pine timber is in the same position as other woods, with this exception, that shipments to arrive during this year will realize prices that twelve months ago would have been looked upon as chimerical, and for early shipments next year prices are asked and paid at least 20 per cent. over the rates at which business was done last year at this time.

On the 13th instant Messrs. Alfred Dobell & Co. offered for sale by auction a cargo of sawn pitch pine timber and planks from Pensacola, but although there was a good attendance of buyers, there was little competition; the high reserves placed upon the various lots stopped business, and we can only show how firm the sellers were by instancing the fact that 21d. was bid for 18 in. wood, and this offer was promptly declined. The planks were sold privately at about 17½d. per foot.

On the 18th inst., at Glasgow, Messrs. Singleton, Dunn & Co., brokers: Quebec 1st pine deals, 294 pcs, 13 to 15 ft, 11x3, 2s 11d c ft. Quebec 1st ends, 294 pcs, 7ft 11x3, 2s 3d c ft. Latest mail advices from Rio Janeiro (A. C. Nathan & Co.) report as follows:

Pitch Pine Deals.—The only arrival we have to note is the Albatros, from St. Thomas, W. I., with the cargo ex Kate Upham, from Brunswick, transshippe.

at this port; this cargo has been sold at 37$000 per dozen 3x9x14, at which figure the market closes steady.

Spruce Pine Deals.—We have no arrivals to report. It is quoted at 34$000 per dozen.

White Pine Lumber.—The arrivals consist of 79,870 feet per Estella, and 21,509 feet per Alice, both from Baltimore, the former sold at 100 reis per foot and the latter at 105 reis per foot, 1,8,000 feet per Ernst Ludwig Holtz, from Philadelphia remain unsold as do also the 135,936 feet per Sir Henry Havelock, just entering from New York. We quote 100 reis per foot. Market flat.

NAILS.—Stocks continue to be dealt out sparingly from first hands and the evident effort is to control the market by a scant supply. This so far is proving successful, as the current wants of buyers are no more than satisfied and prices have a firm tone all around at an advance of 15c per keg over recent list rates. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $3.15@3.25; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $3.40@3.50; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $3.65@3.75; 4d and 5d, common, do per keg, $3.90@4.00; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $4.65@4.75; 3d, fine, per keg, $5.40@5.50; 2d, per keg, $5.40@5.50. Cut spikes, all sizes, $3.40@3.50. Floor casing and box, $3.90@4.65. Finishing, $4.15@4.90.

CLINCH NAILS.

1½ inch, $5.65@5.90; 1¾ inch, $5.40@5.50; 2 inch, $5.15@5.30; 2½ inch, $4.90@5.00; 3 inch and longer, $4.65@4.75.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Most dealers report a fair total of business reached. Some little irregularity has been shown in the distribution, but the aggregate full enough to afford encouragement, and as many customers have yet to be heard from the outlook is accepted as promising. The amounts held in the interior are said to be quite small, and with the prospect of additional transportation charges, buyers, it is thought, will be inclined to hurry matters somewhat. A considerable amount of stock is also wanted on local account, and generally the outlook is encouraging. Linseed oil does not improve. There is a fair business, but plenty of stock and much competition, and this keeps the advantage in buyers favor. We quote at 56@58c. per gallon from crushers hands.

PITCH.—A fair general demand prevailing with no great excess of supply, and the position held about steady at former figures. We quote at $.@2.12½ per bbl. for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TUBPENTINE.—Jobbers have found a fair distribution for their goods and maintained values very well. In a wholesale way there was a drop on price owing to considerable outside offerings, but as the surplus was gradually brought under control the position strengthened again and now stands about steady. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 34@35c. per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—From regular consumptive sources the demand has continued about up to the average, with at times a little quickening. Supplies offering not large, and holders quite firmly insisting upon full former figures all round. We quote at $3.50@3.75 per bbl. for Newherne and Washington, and $3.50@3.75 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

C. W. SWEET,

No. 137 BROADWAY

The subscription books for the International World's Fair will not be opened on the fifteenth instant, as was originally agreed upon, the executive committee having decided to defer their opening for a month. This decision, we are informed, was arrived at by the committee, after thoroughly canvassing the situation and ascertaining that many persons anxious to aid the enterprise would be absent from the city until that date. In the meantime the suggestion heretofore made by THE REAL ESTATE RECORD not to ask for money subscriptions until the site is selected, has also had its due weight with the executive committee, and there is hardly any doubt now but the wisdom of this suggestion has been endorsed by a majority of the executive committee. If capitalists and property owners know, before they put down their money, where the exhibition is to be located, matters will run on smoothly immediately after. Let us know the locality and money without stint will be forthcoming; until this question is settled the entire matter will be bereft of the proper spirit of local enterprise. At the same time we urge once more upon the projectors of this enterprise the importance of placing General Grant at the head of the Board of Officers. His name alone will be worth thousands of dollars to those who desire to see the World's Fair of New York eclipse all of its predecessors.

HOW NEW YORK IS TO BE HEATED.

The franchise granted by the city authorities, and now approved by the Mayor, to the Prall Heating Company, is not for the purpose of conveying heat and power by steam, but by means of superheated water. The mains will range from three to six inches in diameter, will be covered with packing and enclosed in a wooden box, thus preventing loss of heat by radiation. The temperature of the water will be maintained from 350 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit, and by means of converters and dissipating valves, will be regulated to make steam at whatever pressure may be desired by the various buildings using the system, which would average about five pounds for private houses. Before the Mayor signed the ordinance he conferred with Commissioner Campbell, and that official consulted Mr. G. S. Chesbrough, of Chicago, one of the most eminent engineers in the country, who declared the Prall system to be "very satisfactory and economical for heating buildings, cooking, etc." Experiments made in Harrisburg, have been very successful, and the conversion of the superheated water in the converting chamber into steam appears to be all that can be desired for the supply of power and heat. A large manufacturing concern in said city speaks in the highest terms of the experiments there made. Mr. Robert Cartwright, of Rochester, a gentleman well known in connection with the lighting and watering of towns, considers the Prall system far superior to any other, for heating purposes, and is anxious to cooperate with the new organization. In a very few weeks the Prall Union Heating Company will be placed more prominently before the public, the conditions imposed upon the company by the authorities will be complied with, and shortly after work will be begun upon the first square mile of streets lying north of Fourteenth street.

PRESERVATION OF TIMBER LANDS.

The fact that foreign countries are endeavoring to get possession of our hardwood timber, as was shown the other day in these columns, by the purchase of 150,000 acres in Wisconsin, by an English company, and the increased consumption of this material in this country, for furniture purposes—now amounting to two thousand million feet—has revived the discussion in regard to preserving and cultivating our forest supplies. In addition to this, the periodical destruction of timber by forest fires, in various sections of the country, has given strength to the arguments of those who insist that some legislation is necessary to protect future supplies. In various European countries, governments of states and municipalities, now publicly express their regrets that in times past no legislative enactments, preventing the destruction of forests, were engrafted on their statute books. Here, in what may be called a virgin country, we find a body like the American Association for the Advancement of Science, already preparing a memorial to the governors of States calling their attention to the danger of a decreased forest supply in the future. This action cannot be called premature, now that we have the experience of European countries before us, and that we see the enormous destruction of forests going on all over the Union. It will be shown ere long, however, that this subject of forest preservation must be studied like everything else, not in accordance with the precedents of the past, but in accordance with the demands of an ever increasing civilization. For instance, neither England nor any other country, would to-day be so anxious to possess themselves of American hardwoods, if, during the last twenty years, they had not seen abroad the excellent furniture made from our American timber. Not only at the universal exhibitions held in London, Paris and Vienna, have Europeans seen and studied the merits of these hardwoods, but in Glasgow, Edinburgh and London there are to-day branch houses of American furniture factories which sell our products in that line with profit and advantage. It is singular, however, that just about the time that Europe, attracted by the excellent walnut used to great advantage in our American dwellings for years past, is trying to imitate us by securing the greater part of our hardwood products, that at the same time our own builders and architects are turning more and more their attention to mahogany, which is slowly but steadily taking the place of the walnut of the past. This, however, shows only the more how the equilibrium of consumption is steadily kept up, by either local preference or foreign taste, and this changeable demand does not detract in the least from the effort sought after by the American Society for the Advancement of Sciences to inaugurate some legislation that will put a stop to the destruction of our forests.

The Department of Public Parks, not having complied with the provisions of the law enacted last winter calling for the filing of plans for the improvement of Morningside Park within a specified time, the West Side Association, under the lead of its energetic president, Dwight H. Ohnstead, is now preparing to take action against the Commissioners in the civil as well as in the criminal courts, for non-performance of their official duties.

A marked contrast to the neglect of the Park Department has been displayed during the present season by the Department of Public Works. Encouraged by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, Mr. Allan Campbell has placed a number of up-town streets in excellent condition for immediate building improvements. The West Side has been greatly benefited by this, the absence of these public works having been the main obstacle to building operations in the past. Now the good result of such work is already in part before us, and Mr. Edward Clark's example is being steadily followed by other owners, who are beginning to show an active interest in West Side improvements. In addition to Mr. Clark's mammoth structure on Seventy-second street, Mr. Cammann is building on Eighty-third street and Tenth avenue. Mr. Christian Blinn, we understand, is about to begin the construction of five houses on Seventy-ninth street and Ninth avenue, and the lots on Seventy-third street, near the Tenth avenue, only recently sold by Mr. J. R. Smith, are already being built upon.

Again the same old story of injustice to our city by the State Board of Equalization reaches us from Albany, and the metropolitan goose continues to be plucked with the same effrontery as it has been in the past. Tax Commissioner Wheeler might as well have spared himself the labor of explaining how unjust is this increased assessment of New York City real estate, but what do the State Assessors care for equity or equalization? They simply laugh at what they call New York's chronic complaint, and add on the $125,279,950 increase in city real estate valuation, the very contrary of the actual state of affairs. At the same time thirty-eight counties are favored with enormous reductions, Erie County, for instance, has its assessments reduced over $36,000,000, Onondaga $22,000,000, Ontario $11,000,000, and so on to the end of the chapter. The metropolis and its suburbs, comprising Kings, Queens, Suffolk and Richmond counties, have to pay up for this bogus attempt at equalization, and we rather opine that, unjustly as she is being constantly dealt with by the State authorities, she will nevertheless loyally pay the money demanded from her. The State Board of Equalization, however, can find no fault with those who place no faith in its tabulated valuations. We have a better opinion of the prosperity of the interior of the State than this showing establishes, and are satisfied that there exists no reason whatever for reducing valuations in and around Saratoga, in and around Buffalo, Poughkeepsie, or other places which are exceedingly flourishing and have been so for years.

We complete to-day the extracts from the new Code affecting landlords and tenants.

SECTION 2248. At the time when issue is joined, the judge or justice may, in his discretion, at the request of either party, and upon proof to his satisfaction, by affidavit or orally, that an adjournment is necessary, to enable the applicant to procure his necessary witnesses, or by consent of all the parties who appear, adjourn the trial of the issue, but not more than ten days; except by consent of all parties.

FINAL ORDER UPON TRIAL.

SEC. 2249. If sufficient cause is not shown upon the return of the precept; or if the verdict of the jury, or the decision of the judge or justice, upon a trial without a jury, is in favor of the petitioner; the judge or justice must make a final order, awarding to the petitioner the delivery of the possession of the property; except that, where the case is within section 2237 of this act, the final order must direct the removal of the occupant. In either case, the final order must award to the petitioner the costs of the special proceeding. If the verdict or decision is in favor of the person answering, the judge or justice must make a final order accordingly, and awarding to him the costs of the special proceeding.

AMOUNT OF COSTS; HOW COLLECTED.

SEC. 2250. Costs, when allowed, and the fees of officers, except where a fee is specially given in chapter 21 of this act, must be at the rate allowed by law in an action in a justice's court, or, in the city of New York, in a district court, and are limited in like manner; unless the application is founded upon an allegation of forcible entry or forcible holding out; in which case, the judge or justice may award to the successful party a fixed sum as costs, not exceeding fifty dollars, in addition to his disbursements. The final order awarding costs may be docketed, and an execution may be issued to collect the costs awarded thereby, in like manner as if the final order was a judgment, rendered in the court, of which the judge or justice is the presiding officer.

WARRANT TO DISPOSSESS DEFENDANT.

SEC. 2251. Where the final order is in favor of the petitioner, the judge or justice must thereupon issue a warrant, under his hand, directed to the sheriff of the county, or to any constable or marshal of the city or town, in which the property, or a portion thereof, is situated, describing the property, and commanding the officer to remove all persons therefrom, and also, except where the case is within section 2237 of this act, to put the petitioner into the full possession thereof.

EXECUTION OF WARRANT.

SEC. 2252. The officer, to whom the warrant is directed and delivered, must execute it, according to the command thereof, between the hours of sunrise and sunset.

WHEN WARRANT CANCELS LEASE; EXCEPTION.

SEC. 2253. The issuing of a warrant, for the removal of a tenant from demised premises, cancels the agreement for the use of the premises, if any, under which the person removed held them; and annuls accordingly the relation of landlord and tenant, except that it does not prevent a landlord from recovering, by action, any sum of money, which was, at the time when the precept was issued, payable by the terms of the agreement, as rent for the premises; or the reasonable value of the use and occupation thereof, to the time when the warrant was issued, for any period of time, with respect to which the agreement does not make any special provision for payment of rent.

WARRANT; WHEN AND HOW STAYED.

SEC. 2254. The party, against whom a final order is made, requiring the delivery of possession to the petitioner, may, at any time before a warrant is issued, stay the issuing thereof; and also stay an execution to collect the costs, as follows:

1. Where the final order establishes that a lessee or tenant holds over, after a default in the payment of rent, he may effect a stay, by payment of the rent due, and the costs of the special proceeding; or by delivering to the judge or justice, or the clerk of the court, his undertaking to the petitioner, in such a sum and with such sureties as the judge or justice approves, to the effect, that he will pay the rent and costs, within ten days; at the expiration of which time a warrant may issue, unless he produces to the judge or justice satisfactory evidence of the payment.

2. Where the final order establishes that a lessee or tenant has taken the benefit of an insolvent act, or has been adjudicated a bankrupt, he may effect a stay, by paying the costs of the special proceeding, and by delivering to the judge or justice, or the clerk of the court, his undertaking to the petitioner, in such a sum and with such sureties as the judge or justice approves, to the effect, that he will pay the rent of the premises, as it has become, or thereafter becomes due.

3. Where the final order establishes that the person, against whom it is made, continues in possession of real property, which has been sold by virtue of an execution against his property, he may effect a stay, by paying the costs of the special proceeding, and delivering to the judge or justice, or the clerk of the court, an affidavit, that he claims the possession of the property, by virtue of a right or title, acquired after the sale, or as guardian or trustee for another; together with his undertaking to the petitioner, in such a sum and with such sureties as the judge or justice approves, to the effect, that he will pay any costs and damages, which may be recovered against him, in an action of ejectment to recover the property, brought against him by the petitioner within six months thereafter; and that he will not commit any waste upon or injury to the property, during his occupation thereof.

UNDERTAKING; HOW DISPOSED OF.

SEC. 2255. Where an undertaking is given, in a case specified in subdivision first of the last section, the judge or justice must deliver it to the person against whom the final order was made, upon his producing the evidence of payment, mentioned in that subdivision. If he does not produce such evidence within ten days, the judge or justice must deliver it to the petitioner. In every other case specified in the last section, the judge or justice must deliver the undertaking to the petitioner, immediately after his approval thereof.

REDEMPTION BY LESSEE.

SEC. 2256. Where the special proceeding is founded upon an allegation that a lessee holds over, after a default in the payment of rent, and the unexpired term of the lease, under which the premises are held, exceeds five years, at the time when the warrant is issued; the lessee, his executor, administrator, or assignee, may, at any time within one year after the execution of the warrant, pay or tender to the petitioner, his heir, executor, administrator, or assignee, or if, within five days before the expiration of the year, he cannot, with reasonable diligence, be found within the city or town, wherein the property, or a portion thereof, is situated, then to the judge or justice who issued the warrant, or his successor in office, all rent in arrear at the time of the payment or tender, with interest thereupon, and the costs and charges incurred by the petitioner. Thereupon the person, making the payment or tender, shall be entitled to the possession of the demised premises, under the lease, and may hold and enjoy the same, according to the terms of the original demise, except as otherwise prescribed in the next section but one.

ID.; BY CREDITOR OR LESSEE.

SEC. 2257. In a case specified in the last section, a judgment creditor of the lessee, whose judgment was docketed in the county, before the precept was issued, or a mortgagee of the lease, whose mortgage was duly recorded, in the county, before the precept was issued, may at any time before the expiration of one year after the execution of the warrant, unless a redemption has been made as prescribed in the last section, file with the judge or justice who issued the warrant, or with his successor in office, a notice, specifying his interest and the sum due to him; describing the premises; and stating that it is his intention to redeem, as prescribed in this section. If a redemption is not made by the lessee, his executor, administrator, or assignee, within a year after the execution of the warrant, the person so filing a notice, or, if two or more persons have filed such notices, the one who holds the first lien, may, at any time before two o'clock of the day, not a Sunday or a public holiday, next succeeding the last day of the year, redeem for his own benefit, in like manner as the lessee, his executor, administrator or assignee might have so redeemed. Where two or more judgment creditors or mortgagees have filed such notices, the holders of the second lien may so redeem, at any time before two o'clock of the day, not a Sunday or a public holiday, next succeeding that in which the holder of the first lien might have redeemed; and the holder of the third and each subsequent lien, may redeem, in like manner, at any time before two o'clock of the day, not a Sunday or a public holiday, next succeeding that in which his predecessor might have redeemed. But a second or subsequent redemption is not valid, unless the person redeeming pays or tenders to each of his predecessors who has redeemed, the sum paid by him to redeem, and also the sum due upon his judgment of mortgage; or deposits those sums with the judge or justice, for the benefit of his predecessor or predecessors.

THE LAST TWO SECTIONS QUALIFIED.

SEC. 2258. Where a redemption is made, as prescribed in either of the last two sections, the rights of the person redeeming are subject to a lease, if any, executed by the petitioner, since the warrant was issued, so far that the new lessee, his assigns, undertenants, or other representatives, may, upon complying with the terms of the lease, hold the premises so leased until twelve o'clock, noon, of the first day of May, next succeeding the redemption. And, in all other respects, the person so redeeming, his assigns and representatives, succeed to all the rights and liabilities of the petitioner, under such a lease.

ORDER TO BE MADE THEREUPON; LIABILITY OF PERSON REDEMING.

SEC. 2259. The person redeeming, as prescribed in the last three sections, or the owner of the property so redeemed, may present to the judge or justice who issued the warrant, or to his successor in office, a petition, duly verified, setting forth the facts of the redemption, and praying for an order, establishing the rights and liabilities of the parties upon the redemption. Whereupon the judge or justice must make an order, requiring the other party to the redemption to show cause before him, at a time and place therein specified, why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. The order to show cause must be made returnable, not less than two nor more than ten days, after it is granted; and it must be served at least two days before it is returnable. Upon the return thereof, the judge or justice must hear the allegations and proofs of the parties, and must make such a final order as justice requires. The costs and expenses must be paid by the petitioner. The final order, or a certified copy thereof, may be recorded in like manner as a deed. A person, other than the lessee, who redeems as prescribed in the last three sections, succeeds to all the duties and liabilities of the lessee, accruing after the redemption, as if he was named as lessee in the lease.

APPEAL.

SEC. 2260. An appeal may be taken from a final order, made as prescribed in this title, to the same court, within the same time, and in the same manner, as where an appeal is taken from a judgment rendered in the court, of which the judge or justice is the presiding officer, and with like effect; except as otherwise prescribed in the next two sections.

EFFECT OF APPEAL LIMITED IN CERTAIN CASES.

SEC. 2261. The issuing or execution of the warrant cannot be stayed by such an appeal, or by the giving of an undertaking thereupon, otherwise than as prescribed in the next section. An appeal cannot be taken to the court of appeals, from a final determination of the general term of the supreme court or of a superior city court, upon such an appeal unless the latter court, by an order, made at the general term where the final order is made, or the next general term thereafter, allows it to be taken.

WARRANT; HOW STAYED ON APPEAL.

SEC. 2262. Where an appeal is taken from a final order, awarding delivery of possession to the petitioner, which establishes that a lessee or tenant holds over, after a default in the payment of rent, the issuing and execution of the warrant may, except in the city and county of New York, be stayed by the order of the county judge. Such an order can be made only upon the appellant's giving the security required to perfect the appeal, and to stay the execution of the order appealed from, and also an undertaking to the petitioner, in a sum, and with sureties, approved by the county judge, to the effect, that if, upon the appeal, a final determination is rendered against the appellant, he will pay all rent accruing or to accrue upon the premises, or, if there is no lease thereof, the value of the use and occupation of the premises, subsequent to the institution of the special proceeding.

APPELLATE COURT MAY AWARD RESTITUTION; ACTION FOR DAMAGES.

SEC. 2263. If the final order is reversed upon the appeal, the appellate court may award restitution to the party injured, with costs; and it may make any order, or issue any other mandate, necessary to carry its determination into effect. The person dispossessed may also maintain an action, to recover the damages which he has sustained by the dispossession.

APPLICATION OF THIS TITLE; EFFECT OF FINAL ORDER.

SEC. 2264. This title does not impair the rights of a landlord, lessor, or tenant, in a case not therein provided for. Where a special statutory provision confers a right to take proceedings, in the manner heretofore prescribed by law, for the summary removal of a person in possession of real property, the proceedings thereunder must be taken as prescribed in this title. A final order, made in a special proceeding, taken as prescribed in this title, is not a bar to an action of ejectment, to recover the property affected thereby.

HOW PROCEEDINGS UNDER THIS TITLE TO BE STAYED.

SEC. 2265. Where a petition is presented, as prescribed in this title, the proceedings thereupon before the final order, and, if the final order awards delivery of the possession to the petitioner, the issuing or execution of the warrant thereupon, cannot be stayed or suspended by any court or judge, except in one of the following methods:

1. By an order made, or an undertaking filed, upon an appeal, in a case and in the manner specially prescribed for that purpose in this title.
2. By an injunction order, granted in an action against the petitioner. Such an injunction shall not be granted before the final order in the special proceeding, except in a case where an injunction would be granted to stay the proceedings, in an action of ejectment, brought by the petitioner, and upon the like terms; or after the final order, except in a case where an injunction would be granted to stay the execution of the final judgment in such an action, and upon the like terms.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages IV and V of advertisements.

The auction sales announced for the Eastern District of Brooklyn during the past week were well attended, but most of the property disposed of fell into the hands of parties in interest, but not without considerable bidding on the part of outsiders. The sales on Tuesday, as well as those on Thursday and Friday, held by Mr. Eadie created considerable interest, notably the sale of the Vandervoort Farm of which a number of lots were disposed of on Thursday at an aggregate of $23,766. The heirs bought in most of the property, the prices ranging from $50 to $200 per lot, most of it, however, being meadow land. The first plot offered was that which consisted of three lots at the corner of Myrtle street and Hamburg avenue, the dimensions being 181 feet on Myrtle street and 81 feet on Hamburg avenue. It was sold to A. Burr for $300. The property was free and clear from all incumbrances. Other lots on Myrtle street, Suydam street, Vandervoort avenue and Johnson street followed at prices ranging from $100 to $200. A strip of meadow land bounded by Ten Eyck street, Scott avenue, Gardner avenue and by Cross, Austin & Co.'s property, was sold for $390 to D. F. White. The gore on Ten Eyck street, fronting on Metropolitan avenue, and a small strip opposite on Scott avenue, brought $700 for the two parcels. The buyer was Henry Ward. The partially submerged strip bounded by Gardner and Scott avenue, Metropolitan avenue and Meadow street, was sold for $450 to A. E. Burr. The block bounded by Ten Eyck street, Stewart avenue, Gardner avenue and Meadow street, 400x200, a portion of which is under the creek, was sold to W. G. Olstrum for $70.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

Several brokers assert that during the past week there have been an increased number of offers for vacant property on the upper West Side, but the demands of holders being so exceedingly firm, there is continued delay in the closing of contracts.

Mr. Edward Clarke has purchased from I. & S. Wormser ten lots on the North side of Eighty-fifth street, three hundred feet west of Eight avenue, for $70,000 cash. He now owns the entire block bounded by Eighth and Ninth avenues, Eighty-fifth and Eighty-sixth streets.

Scott & Myers have sold at private contract for John A. Monsell, ten lots on the south side of Seventieth street, 200 feet east of Ninth avenue, for $60,000.

Four lots on the northeast corner of Eighty-second street and Park avenue, 102.2x100, have been sold for $35,000, all cash, to Mr. Albert Hall for a Presbyterian Church.

Mr. George C. Scofield, has effected a sale of twenty-three houses for Mr. A. E. Davis to Mr. S. H. Thayer, in exchange for a large plot of property at Babylon, L. I., and for cash. Twelve of these houses are 16.8x45, each on the west side of Lexington avenue, between One Hundred and Fourth and One Hundred and Fifth streets, eight houses on the other side of the avenue, 16x45, and three houses in the rear on One Hundred and Fifth street.

Mr. Vernon K. Stevenson, Jr., has sold the forty-story high stoop brown stone dwelling, No. 55 East Fifty-third street, between Madison and Park avenues, 20x60x100, to Mr. Wm. P. Hays, for $36,000.

The sale of Water and South street property by John Roach, to the Glen Cove Manufacturing Company, heretofore alluded to in this column, was effected by Ruland & Whiting, the consideration being $150,000.

Mr. A. Lustig, who purchased a twenty acre farm on Jerome avenue, Yonkers, at auction, in June last, for $6,100, yesterday sold the same for $12,500.

Rapid progress is being made with the construction of the Forty-second Street, Manhattanville & St.

Nicholas Avenue Railroad Company. The double track along Forty-second street, from Tenth to Seventh avenue, is already completed.

The latest projected apartment house, 100x100, is to be located on Seventy-ninth street, between Lexington and Third avenues. The owner is Mr. Wm. Mathews, and the architects the Messrs. Jardine. The latter have just prepared plans for seven brown stone front houses to be erected on Sixty-fourth street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues.

The Underground Railroad Company have effected an organization, by the election of General Geo. B. McClellan as President. The plans for the construction of the proposed underground road have been submitted to the President, with power to approve them, if in his judgment they were such as ought to be adopted, and he was further requested to report his decision at his earliest convenience.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Common Hards have not found a very promising market, and the changes for the week are principally in buyers favor. Consumption appears to be falling off still without any corresponding shrinkage in the supply, thus forming a combination of influences under which it would be difficult to support values. There is not, however, a serious decline nor has the surplus accumulation been unwieldy beyond fair management. The most plentiful supply came from Havestraw Bay and this class of stock may be considered worth about $5@5.50 p-r M. "Up Rivers" have arrived slowly and sold close to the offering mostly at $4.37½@4.62½. The production has continued steadily outside of such stoppages as may have been forced by the elements and it is evidently not considered time to shut down as yet. The boatman's strike is ended and shipments are steadily taking place. Pale brick have continued to find a steady and pretty full Brooklyn demand and the supply does not accumulate, while prices rule steady. On the bulk of the stock $2.75@3 may be quoted, but some choice lots occasionally command 12½@25c per M more. Fronts steady and in average demand.

GLASS.—Importers have advanced the cost of French to 50 and 10 per cent. on first bracket single thick, 50 and 20 on other and 60 and 20 on double thick. This helps the market for domestic, and generally the position is encouraging, with the demand on the increase if anything.

HARDWARE.—A steady movement of seasonable goods continues, and the condition of the market is cheerful and promising, according to the reports from most sources. A great many of the buyers in town advise a small accumulation at home, and they add only enough for early wants, but the number of the orders is sufficient to make a full business, and there is a steady increase. Supplies are full enough and sufficiently well assorted to meet the requirements of the market but show no great surplus and production is not allowed to flag. Prices generally rule quite firm and no weakness is anticipated. At recent meetings the manufacturers of Strap and T Hinges, and also the manufacturers of Augers, Bits and Chisels and Drawing Knives confirmed previous rates.

LATH.—Not much, if any, positive changes are reported up to the present writing. About $1.70 per M appears to be all that can as yet be obtained, with buyers, in many cases, apparently quite cautious, and calls generally made on the basis of early necessity alone. Receivers, however, do not appear to abate in the least from previous expectations, and, taking into account the high rates on timber, and the increasing cost of transportation, it is difficult to see how prices for lath can go back to any extent.

LIME.—About the only new feature since our last is the addition to the arrivals, which have been quite full. The demand was equal to the offering, however, and full former rates are maintained without much difficulty.

LUMBER.—All changes on the general market appear to be for the better, and the undertone is cheerful. Some grumbling may occasionally be heard, and a few buyers still claim to be standing off in hopes of better terms, but this is the decided exception, and appears to have no influence. Indeed, with the evidences of positive scarcity of some grades, and the firmness shown at primary points where other qualities can be reached in fair amount, coupled with a seasonable prospect of advanced freight charges, it is difficult to understand delay on the part of buyers who really require stocks. No tendency to any remarkable activity or "boom" on prices is claimed, but the prospect for a full, healthy winter trade is quite as encouraging as ever, and there is no reason to doubt that consumers are prepared to submit to a fair line of prices. Shippers are somewhat cautious in their movements, but appear to have more orders, and a few good-sized negotiations are under way.

Spruce show much the same general features noted for some little time past. Now and then a sale is heard of, at what appears to be a shading on cost, but when quality, delivery or some other special influence are understood, it is generally found that the buyer has gained no advantage. In fact it is accepted as a settled thing that all the really attractive stock likely to be got out this season will be wanted, and possibly more than can be delivered, and manufacturers and their agents are correspondingly firm and confident. It is difficult to find any good random now offering below $16 while the best specials are held at $19@20 and some talked of as high as $21 per M.

White Pine continues to meet with a fair demand on home account and qualities suited to this outlet show a pretty firm position. The distribution is to the usual local sources of consumption, and some of the larger dealers are making very fair trade with small operators at, nearly points who are compelled to purchase lighter amounts and in different form of assortment from that obtainable on the interior points of supply. Shipping grades are a little irregular, and the buyer secures some advantage through this fact, though no quotable change on price is reached. We quote $17@19 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@24 for South American do; $15.5@16.50 for box boards; $17@17.50 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine of choice quality is steady as little of this comes here, except on contract, and the accumulation amounts to nothing, while there is also a fair call for specials. For the average run of stock, however, the demand is not very brisk, and the tone somewhat unsettled. We quote random cargoes at about $24@25 per M.; ordered cargoes, $24@26 do.; green flooring boards, $25@26 do.; and dry do. do. $25@27. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $20@21 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods are well maintained in price and wanted, but the quality must be first class before buyers will consent to name anything like a full bid. Through shipments continue full. We quote at wholesale rates by carload about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. culls, $18@20 do. cherry, $45@47 do.; white wood, ½ and ¾ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do., for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

At the yards operations continue satisfactory with a tendency toward an increase in volume, and values naturally have good support on all desirable grades.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

An Am brig, 500 tons, hence to Rio Janeiro, white pine lumber, $15; a schr, 481 tons, same voyage, lumber, case petroleum, &c, supposed $15 per M and 15c. per ft; a barque, 547 tons, from Brunswick to Montevideo, for orders, lumber, $20 net; a Br brig, 457 tons, from Montreal to Montevideo or Buenos Ayres, lumber, $16 net; an Am barque, 576 tons, from Savannah to Montevideo or Buenos Ayres, lumber, $21 net; a schr, 204 tons, from Wilmington N C, to Port de Paix, Hayti, lumber, $9, and back to New York, logwood, $5 and port charges; a Br brig, 193 tons, from Pensacola to Vera Cruz, lumber, $13; an Am schr, 316 tons, from Pensacola to Matanzas, lumber, $10; a Br brig, 390 tons, hence to Rio Janeiro, lumber, private terms, a barque, 400 M lumber, from Apalachicola to Boston $11, vessel take 100 tons cargo from Philadelphia to Apalachicola free; a schr, 300 M lumber, from Brunswick to New York, $7; a barque, 375 M lumber and timber, from Savannah to New York, $7 and $8; a schr, 287 tons, from Belfast to Jacksonville and back to Baltimore, resawed lumber, $9, option of New York $10, or Boston $11; a schr, 105 M lumber, from Jacksonville to New York, $8.50; a schr, 330 M lumber, from Pascagoula to Boston, $10; two schrs. from Richmond to New York, oak ties, 17c; a schr, 17½ tons, from Woodstock Mills to Philadelphia, lumber, $7.25.

The question of the future timber supply is again becoming a matter of discussion, and, from among other articles upon the subject, we give place to the following, from the Philadelphia Trade Journal:

The lumbering interest of the Northwest is reported to be in a very flourishing condition. There is a growing demand, more capital is needed to extend the business, etc., etc., all of which is good news, or would be good news if it was not extremely probable that the lumbermen, in their desire to extend their operations, will "kill the goose that lays the golden egg." What are the lumbermen doing to replace the forests that they destroy? Very little, if anything, it may be safely said; and yet, in the lifetime of some of them, the desirability, if not necessity, for the culture of forest trees is sure to be made manifest. The Lumbermen's Association should take this matter up, and secure, through its members, protection for the timber lands, so that they shall be thinned out rather than destroyed, and given an opportunity to make fresh growths from year to year. Some legislation may be needed in the public interest for the protection of the forest against the cupidity of men, anxious only about present profits, and the Lumbermen's Association ought to be able to suggest measures that will be fair to all interests. There is scarcely a nation in Europe that does not to-day regret its neglect to provide in time for forest culture, though nearly all now have laws on the subject. The existing laws in this country are really applicable only in the far Western states, where there are public lands which might be worth obtaining for forest culture. In the states now most in need of growing forests, there is very little tree planting, but the waste goes on at a great rate.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending September 7, is reported by the Argus as follows:

With a good attendance of buyers and increasing orders by mail, we have an active trade to report among dealers in Pine Lumber. Steady shipments and favorable indications for an active fall trade are very apparent. The continued firmness on the part of Canada and Michigan manufacturers, the advance in prices in the Chicago market, to be followed in the course of the week by a further advance, leave no hope for weakening there or here. Certain grades have a strengthening tendency; the general opinion is that uppers and intermediate grades above box will bring advanced figures before the season closes. Canada boards and planks, running well to clear, also good culls are selling freely.

The business in Bay City shows great firmness; holders of choice lots ask and obtain $16 and $38.00; the trade is very satisfactory.

The railroads doing lumber business in Michigan and running into Ohio, Indiana, etc, propose advancing rates on October 1st.

Coarse Lumber is in nominal receipt by canal and is taken as fast as it arrives; large parcels have been sold ahead; a plentiful and continued supply of water at the Northern mills would keep the Champlain canal busy transporting Lumber to the close of the season.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to September 1st were:

Bds. & Sctg. ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c.f.	Staves, D
1879..	172,819,300	5,913	5,400
1880..	235,583,520	1,873	257,000

The receipts of lumber by lake at Buffalo for the week are 8,190,800 feet; by rail, 119 cars. At Oswego, 4,520,000 feet.

Freights from Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25 @ M. feet; from Saginaw, $2.37. From Buffalo to Albany $2.50; from Tonawanda to Albany, $2.40 @ M. feet. Lake Ontario freights from Port Hope to Oswego, $1.25 @ M. feet, from Toronto to Oswego, $1.35, and from Oswego to Albany, $1.80. From Ottawa to Albany $3.50 @ M. feet.

River freights are without change.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette.

Bay City, Sept. 7, 1880.

There is nothing of an unusual character to note in the market of the Valley. Manufacturers feel that their faith in it is built upon sure foundation, the prosperity of the country and its rapid development, which has received a new impetus with the return of better times. There are no more intelligent men engaged in the lumber business anywhere than those now in it in the Saginaw valley. There are men who keep posted, and with clear minds and sound judgment, backed by correct information, they seldom mistake the signs of the times. They have had faith that their lumber would be needed, and have stood as firm as a rock throughout the season. They have had good reason for their confidence, however, aside from their judgment of what was inevitable; they have had an actual demand unprecedented in the history of the trade, which has helped to keep their spinal columns rigid. The amount of business done this season is indicated in another column, in the statement of shipments by water during August and the season to date.

Prices are maintained and sales are numerous enough to keep the stock of desirable lumber on sale light. Numerous parcels of ordinary stock, averaging several million feet, have been disposed of at $7. $14@30; good to choice stock fetches $7.25, $14.50@32, to $7.50, $15 and $35 and better.

Shingles are in demand and selling at quotations, at the best brands commanding outside figures.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.

All the elements seem to indicate increasing prosperity in all branches of trade. All classes of society are losing their disposition to growl, and cheerfulness takes the place of despondency. The tramps and beggars have all found work. The mechanic and farmer are busy and happy. The merchant and speculator for once seems content, and all of them are getting ready to build new houses, barns and fences. The enormous traffic which has sprung up has set the railroad managers wild with big schemes, and given them command of unlimited capital to prosecute them, and every mile of these new roads means a new demand for a 100,000 feet of lumber, the bulk of which must come from the pineries of the Northwest. The crops are all beyond rains reach, and vast quantities of money are beginning to flow West to buy the world's supplies. This condition of things cannot change until we have a failure of crops, which possibly is too remote for calculation. If the sale of lumber at the present figures (which are reasonable only by comparison with the starvation prices of the last three years) yields any satisfaction, all the fraternity should be in a state of rejoicing, for the reports from every market on the continent shows a large and increasing demand, with advancing prices and light supplies when the volume of trade is taken into account. All the markets west of Buffalo have advanced prices, except Minneapolis and Stillwater, here some of the heavy dealers are free to express to us their opposition to any attempted raise in prices for fear of interrupting the demand, which is somewhat interfered with by the small railway mills scattered over northwestern Wisconsin and Minnesota. The condition of the log market is told elsewhere in the paper. The difficulty and expense of rafting and running lumber during the low water season will force up raft lumber on the river.

The general situation is reviewed as follows by the Northwestern Lumberman:

While there is but little to note in the way of change in the general markets of the country, since our last report, it is true of the East that prices are firm and business good, and of the West, that in every locality business is increasing in volume under the stimulus of advancing prices. Moderate rains in the north-eastern portion of the land, are reported to have, to some slight extent, assisted the mill men of Maine to obtain a portion of their hung up stock while affording the needful head of water to run their mills. That this has not been very general in the East is evident from the fact that the operators on the Connecticut River have been compelled to either suspend operations entirely, or to run on short time, and an agreement has been made among them, looking toward a curtailment, and mutual benefit in the utilization of both logs and water. The stocks of spruce, hemlock and pine, which go so far to supply Massachusetts markets, and as well eastern New York can now hardly be made available for this season, under the most favorable circumstances.

The Williamsport district, as noted last week, is in better luck, and of the 100,000,000 feet which was hung up, full 50,000,000 has recently been run to the booms, and the mills of Lock Haven, Williamsport and the neighborhood, are again in full blast, and will supply the Philadelphia and Delaware markets with a fair proportion of their usual stock. While the lateness of the sawing will militate against its ready use this fall, the lumber from this section will be in shipping condition, at least as quickly as the fall sawing of the West, and the demand upon Saginaw and other Lake Huron ports, which it was thought would become necessary to compensate for the loss of the Pennsylvania stock, will be less than was anticipated. The indications point to a large demand through the fall and winter, and a candid examination of the markets of the West must convince our New York friends that their future purchases in this direction will be at increased rather than decreased rates. Albany reports receipts to August 24, of 60,000,000 feet in excess of the corresponding date in 1879, but is looking forward to lighter receipts during the balance of the season. An active full trade is considered well assured, and prices are strengthening. Stocks of Michigan and Canada timber are ample and well assorted, except on 10 inch 13 feet Canada piece plank which is very scarce. Coarse lumber is in light stock, spruce is at a low figure, and hemlock in very light supply with advancing prices. Some houses have received their last boats, until the rains shall again enable the northern mills to start. Canadian advices report lumber firm at advanced rates; freights are advancing, being now $2.50 from Ottawa to Burlington, Vt., against $1.50 at this time last year. Active preparations are being made all through the Canadian districts to do an extraordinary amount of lumbering the coming winter.

In the West we have but one indication to report. From Chicago to Minneapolis and to St. Louis, the wholesalers have more trade than they really want, with an indication of increase from week to week. This means, of course, firm prices on everything. The recent advance in yard prices in this city, so far from checking the demand, seems fairly to have stimulated it, and while dealers endeavor to fill all orders which come to them, it is manifest that they would be satisfied with a smaller number of them at present, and until the prices are adjusted at figures to which in the opinion of all they must soon go. Hardwoods are at last taking the prominent position which they have deserved but never attained. The recent purchase of a large tract, 150,000 acres in Wisconsin by an English company, is well calculated to lead our farming community to hesitate are they continue the ruinous policy of destroying the valuable hardwoods which in clearing their farms they have considered of no value and have consigned to the log heap. Every white, red and black oak, ash, maple, rock elm, hickory and haw wood tree now standing in the Northwest is wanted for commercial uses. England and Germany demand them of us, and a wilful destruction, such as has hitherto prevailed in the clearing of forest farms, is as wasteful and extravagant as it is subversive of the financial interests of the destroyer. The furniture trade of our own country will in a few years demand all the hardwood it can obtain, and we speak within bounds in saying that the present consumption by this class of manufacturers already reaches not less than 2,000,000,000—two thousand million—feet. The samples of American furniture which have crossed the ocean, have attracted an attention and excited an admiration, which is shown in the endeavor on the part of foreign capitalists to secure possession and control of the standing timber. Fashions are tending toward light colors, and oak, maple and ash furniture will soon be all the rage on the continent of Europe as well as in this country. Hardwood lumber is firm and advancing in the principal markets of this country, being worth an average of fully $5 per thousand more than a year ago.

FOREIGN.

LONDON.

Amongst the oddments sold last Thursday at the Baltic sale room, were some American elm staves that seem to have served the purpose of oil casks at some time or another. What affinity there is between sugar refinery and oil casks is not easily understood by those outside the trade. These were sold as on the Thames Sugar Refinery's premises at Silvertown, and realized the moderate price of 23s. for 1,200 pieces. There was also a parcel of patent elm hoops (everything seems patented in the States), that might possibly have belonged to the staves, that fared even worse than the others, fetching only 3s. 9d. and 4s. 3d. per 1,000. The buyer of the staves, strange to say, did not care for the hoops, or he would have had all the appliances for casks ready to hand.

GLASGOW.

As will be observed from the Clyde import list, the arrivals of timber for the past week have been on a very reduced scale compared with some weeks back, when berth-room for discharging could scarcely be had. Now that these cargoes are stored in the yards, or gone to the mills to be put into consumption, there is an impression that the market is not yet by any means fully stocked, or up to the mark of former years for this time; and from what can be gathered from the various shipping ports abroad, it does not appear likely that we shall have a heavy import in the fall. On that account prices for all kinds of wood will most probably be fully sustained.

LIVERPOOL.

The trade of this port continues good, and shrewd buyers are apparently awakening to the new state of affairs, and are buying freely, as they now realize the different position matters are likely to assume from that to which they have been so long accustomed—that is to say, for so many years past, when consumers have had sales pretty much in their own hands, and found very ready sellers even at prices where little, if any, margin was left to the importer.

Now a new order of things has set in, and sellers are not anxious to close unless they can get their own prices, which, by the way, still continue moderate, considering the great advances made abroad in almost every article.

Thus, for instance, in some Canadian goods the rise has been so rapid that prices have there gone up within the last month from 25 to 30 per cent., and this has had a great effect, not only upon this market, but upon every other.

The cry of "dried-up rivers," especially in the Nova Scotian and other spruce deal producing districts, seems, from advices received from nearly every source, to be well founded; and we hear everywhere of mills being shut up, and, consequently, a dearth of logs suitable for cutting into deals.

This week's mail from Havana, Cuba, reports:

White Pine—Active demand at higher prices the last cargo sold obtained $37 gold, with 5 per cent. D. and 90 d/c.

Pitch Pine—The demand continues fairly active, at from $38@40 per mille, feet, as to close.

Cooperage Stock—Box Shooks, Market continues heavily supplied and without demand, prices rule nominal.

Hhd. do—Large stock of those for sugar that find no buyer, prices entirely nominal; those for molasses although less abundant, are also without demand.

Empty Casks—Several hundred for sale obtain no acceptable offer.

Hoops—Stock continues exceedingly heavy and entirely neglected at nominal quotations.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has founds very little demand outside the ordinary run of jobbing orders, and the market ruled dull. Supplies ample for current wants and about former rates asked. We quote at 19c for Lake. Manufactured Copper selling moderately and commanding about former rates. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper ordinary size over 16 oz per square foot, 28c. per lb; do do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz per square foot, 30c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz, per sq foot, 32c per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz per sq foot, 31c per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 31c per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 34c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 31c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 28c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 26c per lb and Bolt Copper, 28c per lb. Iron—Scotch Pig, in most cases is hauled only in small lots as wanted for early use and the tone of the market is easy. Stock in store is held with a showing of steadiness, but parcels afloat and from pier, can be obtained at quite a shading. We quote at $22@25 per ton according to brand delivery and quantity. American has sold rather slowly and while some few of the companies make a show of steadiness other are quietly seeking business at a concession, and the undertone of the market is heavy. Supplies are ample and production exceeds the outlet. We quote at $27.00@27.50 per ton for No. 1; $23@24 do for No. 2; and $31@22 for forge. Rails have been contracted for liberally for this and next years delivery and the cost is maintained. Steel rails, however, show the greatest firmness as these are principally sought after. We quote at $45@48 for iron and $60@65 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $27@27.50 per ton; scrap $27@28.00. Manufactured Iron has had rather an irregular market with considerable animation at times, but of late the sale was not quite so free. Prices held steadily. We quote Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes at 23@24c. from store, and Refined at 25@26c.; wrought beams at 34c. Fish plates quoted at 23@24c.; track bolt and nuts, 34@34c. railway spikes, 34c., tank, 3@31c.; angle, 3c.; best flange, 6c.; and domestic sheet on the basis of 34c. for common Nos. 10@16. Other descriptions at corresponding prices, with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD—Domestic Pig has found only a limited and uncertain demand with more or less irregularity on values, but as a rule the turn was in buyers favor. The supply fair, and most holders quite willing to offer it. We quote 47@54c. The manufactures of lead are steady and quoted: Bar, 6c; Pipe, 64c., and Sheet, 7c., less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 15c. Block Tin pipe, 40c. on same terms. TIN—Pig has not been much sought after, and with the general influences unfavorable prices weakened on most grades. We quote 19@194c. for Australian, 194@195c. for Straits, 194@195c. for English Refined, 19@194c. for do. Common. Tin Plates have found only a slow and uncertain demand, and, with holders inclined to urge business, a weakness developed on prices all around. We quote 1. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment, $6.25@6.374c. for Allaway grade, and $6.374@6.50 for Melyn grade; I. C. Coke $5.25@5.374c. for B. V. grade; $5.374@5.50 for Yspitty grade; Charcoal terne $5.50@5.874c. for Allaway grade, 14x20; $11 50@11 75 for do., 20x28; Coke terne, $5.124@5.25 for Glais grade, 14x20, and $11@11.124 for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter without much animation, and prices, as a rule, easy. Quoted 54@54c. Sheet Zinc selling moderately, and ruling about steady at 74@744c. according to quality.

NAILS.—Offerings have been fair, and all orders so far as developed, were supplied. The amount available, however, has not been allowed to show an excess, and values were held fairly steady on the former line. The recent addition to cost has to some extent checked demand, and most of the current purchases are for immediate necessities. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $3.15@3.25; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $3.40@3.50; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $3.65@3.75; 4d and 5d, common, do per keg, $3.90@4.00; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $1.65@1.75; 3d, fine, per keg, $5.40@5.50; 2d, per keg, $5.40@5.50. Cut spikes, all sizes, $3.40@3.50. Floor casing and box, $3.90@4.65. Finishing, $4.15@4.90.

CLINCH NAILS.

14 inch, $5.65@5.80; 134 inch, $5.40@5.50; 2 inch, $5.15@5.30; 24@244 inch, $4.90@5.00; 3 inch and longer, $4.65@4.75.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Reports are not uniform in character, and business appears to fluctuate somewhat. As a whole, however, the movement is pretty full and the general market shows quite as much character as other lines of merchandise. Out of town orders are increasing gradually with a prospect for a good fall trade and dealers as a rule are confident. Prices generally hold their own and there appear to be a tendency to greater uniformity on Leads, as the pressure from outside lots is reduced and the regular list rates less frequently shaded. Linseed oil without much change. Wholesale movements are rather slow but a fair jobbing movement takes place and about former rates can be obtained. The general supply is fair. We quote at 54@56 per gallon from crushers' hands.

PITCH.—Business moves along in the usual steady forms, with stock enough for the outlet, but no great excess, and values without much variation. We quote at $1.90@2.00 per bbl. for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—About the usual jobbing movement has taken place, with some little advance in cost. On the wholesale market, the speculative element is still dominant, causing some irregularity on values, but with the advantage principally in sellers favor until lately, when extreme figures were shaded a trifle. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 36@37c per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—A fairly active movement of supplies toward all regular sources, and the limit of value kept up to about the former line on small lots, but in a wholesale way, the market is lower. We quote at $2.25@2.75 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.50@2.75 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows:
 The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

HINTS TO THE PROMOTERS OF THE WORLD'S FAIR.

See to it, that Ulysses S. Grant is offered the chief executive position in the company organized to manage it.

Choose a site as soon as possible, and let there be no scandal in the way of real estate speculation in the choice of a location.

Arrange immediately for proper legislation next winter at Washington and Albany, to advance the objects of the exhibition.

Put live young men in all positions where active work is required. There are too many old, broken-down and over-busy men connected with the enterprise as at present organized.

Appoint a special committee of very bright men to receive and consider suggestions from any quarter, having in view the introduction of taking novelties into the scheme for holding this Fair.

Let the buildings be entirely unlike any other International Fair ever held. Why not have the several edifices represent distinct types of architecture, Egyptian, Doric, Corinthian, Gothic, Moorish and Modern, so that the inspection of the various structures would be in itself an art education?

Have calls issued for all manner of World's Conventions, to be held in New York during the progress of the Fair.

Have provision made for exhibitions of all the national games of the world, horse races, bicycle contests, cricket, base ball, athletic sports, in short, let these fairs reproduce in modern life the Olympian games of the Greeks.

THE MORAL OF THE MAINE ELECTION.

The Fusion victory in Maine was a genuine surprise to the whole country. The result of the Vermont election seemed to show that the old parties held their own; that, if anything, the Republicans made some gains, as compared with the votes in former elections. It was supposed that the prosperous state of the country insured a Republican success. That party was blamed for the panic of 1873. Mr. Tilden received 250,000 more votes than Mr. Hayes because of the hard times. But when good times came, it was naturally supposed that the voters would return to their old allegiance, and would cast their ballots for the regular nominees of the Republican party.

What, then, is the significance of the Maine as compared with the Vermont election?

It must be borne in mind that there is very little difference in the platforms of the two great parties. There is a look askance at free trade in the Democratic Platform, and at some revision of the tariff for the benefit of the foreign commerce of the country. But in all other respects there is literally no point at issue, except the possession of the offices. And the Vermont voters decided that from that point of view they preferred the Republicans to the Democrats.

But in Maine a very different state of affairs exists. The so-called Greenback-Labor party had, in that State, divided the Democratic party, and had received many additions from the Republican party. It is unquestionably true that Maine has not been as prosperous as the rest of the country. Its fisheries have suffered; its shipbuilding has long been under a cloud, and the increase of its population has been very slight. Then the plank in the Democratic Platform which seemed to favor the development of our commerce must have been particularly attractive to the business interest as well as to the working people of Maine. But the Fusion majority brought to the fore new issues. In Vermont it was the old Republican party against the old Democratic party, marching under banners that bore the old cries, and with a programme on each side which did not greatly differ. But the Fusionists in Maine brought to the front vital questions, some of which have been agitating the country for years past, but which have not as yet found expression in the platforms of any great national party. In looking over the programme of the Greenback-Labor party, it will be noticed that the Greenback issue is kept in the rear. This new party is anti-monopoly. It looks with disfavor upon the control exercised over the nation by the railway magnates and the great corporations. It shows extreme jealousy of the money power as embodied in our National Bank system. It wants the Government to issue as well as to stamp all currency, whether gold, silver or paper. It wants the interest of labor to be looked after. It demands fuller statistics; new bureaus, having in view the welfare of the common people. It so far discredits the old Democratic Platform, that it looks to the Government to cure many of the ills which fall to the lot of the poorer classes. It is remarkable that at the meeting held on a stormy night in Cooper Institute in New York, the Greenback candidate for the Presidency had an immense and enthusiastic audience. He was cheered to the echo in his denunciations of the state of things which gave us such overgrown capitalists as Vanderbilt and Jay Gould. The newspapers belittled the meeting and dismissed it with a paragraph, but the Maine election and the crowds which follow Weaver in all parts of the country show that he has a following and a future which is not to be despised. It is a warning to the Democratic party if it wishes to succeed that it must take more radical ground; it must come to the front as the champion of the common people; it must discard its old Jeffersonian notions of non-interference by the Government. The danger to the Republican party in the Maine contest is its effect upon Indiana. That state also is a hot bed for these new ideas. After Maine, Indiana polls the largest Greenback vote and has the greatest number of influential men supporting the Greenback ticket. Should the fusion be complete between the anti-monopolists and the Democrats, Indiana may follow the example of Maine and the moral and political effect upon the November election would necessarily be very great.

One thing is, however, sure. The capitalist class—those who have wealth or expect to gain competence, are generally on the side of the Republican party. Whatever may be said about certain episodes in Mr. Garfield's career, as a representative, a perusal of his speeches will show any one that he is a man of signal ability, a statesman in the truest sense of the word, a man of wide culture and liberal views, and there can be scarcely a doubt but that if elected he would make a President superior in nearly every respect to many who have preceded him.

But suppose the Democrats should succeed?

We have no fears of the country. General Hancock's record is a good one. All he has written is greatly to his credit. He seems to be a man of unimpeachable honor, of strict integrity and of strong common sense. He would add dignity to the Presidential office. Still, it must be confessed, the break in stocks that followed the Maine election, the gloomy feeling which seems to hang over the business of the country, is not complimentary to the Democratic party. It would seem as if the wealthy class have taken alarm at this Fusion victory in Maine, and it may be with some reason. There can be no danger of any such trouble as occurred in the last Presidential election. There are no inter-state contests; no rival Legislatures and Governors demanding recognition. And hence the fear of civil war, which certainly existed four years ago, and from which we were saved by the electoral commission, is not likely to trouble us as the result of the contest in November. The electoral commission has settled the precedent that it will not do to go behind the returns. What ever electoral vote bears the great seal of the state it comes from must be counted at Washington, and hence there can be no contest in that court of final resort. There should not be any apprehension of a business disturbance in the event of the election of General Hancock. It is not improbable that there may be elected with him a Republican House of Representatives. We have had a Democratic House for two terms, a Democratic Senate for one term, and the country has prospered. During the session which commences next December, there can be no radical change in our financial policy. President Hayes holds over until the fourth of March, the new Congress does not set until December, 1881, and during all that time the country, we firmly believe, will be prosperous. There will be some changes in the personnel of the office-holders, but that will do no great harm. Of course we are reasoning from the possibility of General Hancock's election. He may not be elected. So far this has been a campaign of surprises. The nomination of Garfield was a surprise; that of Hancock was unexpected; the increase of the Republican vote in Vermont was not foreseen; while the Fusion victory in Maine was a thunderclap in a clear sky. Perhaps another surprise is in store for us in the Indiana election, as well as after the general contest in November.

UNDERGROUND RAILROADS AND OUR SEWERAGE SYSTEM.

There is one feature connected with the proposed construction of the New York Underground Railway Company which must, before long, interest all those owning property in the lower part of the city, namely, the possible rearrangement of the sewerage system. Though the entire underground enterprise appears to the public eye in an embryo state, and may not for years to come lead to practical results, the great question of defective sewers in the lower part of the city cannot much longer be overlooked, and if this underground railway undertaking means business, as its projectors profess it does, the sewers, gas and water pipes will have to be relaid so as to accommodate not only the railway but the various stations. The opportunity offered may be incidentally used as a bid on the part of the company, of which General McClellan is President, to obtain municipal aid for the accomplishment of the gigantic work, but conditions more rigid than these have been heretofore imposed by the city upon corporations seeking franchises than might be asked of this new concern if required, while constructing their road, to also replace the old by new sewers. That there exists a necessity for such reconstruction of sewers, is evident by the reports frequently made by Mr. Allan Campbell, Commissioner of Public Works. He has repeatedly called attention to the defective condition of many of the old sewers. Only in his last quarterly report he said, "for the defects of past generations in the important matter of sewerage, we cannot be held responsible, but it is a present duty to remedy the same by reasonable outlays yearly until the sewers in the oldest portions are made safe and of proper capacity." He then asks for an appropriation of $125,000 for this purpose, and we say, right here, that if the Underground Railway Company intend to dig at all under our streets, they, and they only, should be called upon to do this work as part of a return for a franchise that will prove exceedingly valuable to them.

General Egbert L. Viele, the best known expert as to New York's topography, was quite emphatic, when asked as to his views about the future of rapid transit. He said, "I have no doubt that, if properly managed, the underground system will prove a success. I have never changed my mind on this subject, and still hold that there is a period of limitation to the elevated system. Now that these underground men appear determined to go ahead, they ought to be told to look also after our sewerage system. There is no question but the defective system extends over a great portion of the older part of the city, and that a great deal of ill health and domestic discomfort results in these sections by reason of the overflow of sewers in stormy weather, and by the action of the tides in causing an influx into the cellars of sewerage water and a general derangement of the system. The construction of an underground railway through the lower portion of the city will afford the necessary facilities for remedying the evils now existing from imperfect sewerage, by enabling the reconstruction of that system in connection with the building of the road. Again, the great amount of earth which will have to be excavated in the construction of this road, will furnish ample material for raising the bed of Canal street, that always has been and always will be unfit for commercial purposes until raised, although superficially it is the broadest and finest commercial avenue in the city of New York or any other city. This unfortunate character of Canal street was exhibited in dollars and cents at the sale of the Jay estate, at the northeast corner of Broadway, which would have brought $200,000 more in money if there could have been four feet more depth in the cellars, now under the influence of rains and tide."

It is to be regretted that renewed obstacles are being placed in the way of the Forty-second Street Railway, now being constructed for the accommodation of thousands of passengers who require the use of this cross-town road in going to and coming from the Grand Central Depot. With rapid transit flanking both sides of the island, and enabling persons to move quickly from South to North, and vice versa, the construction of cross-town surface roads in the wide up-town cross streets, has virtually become a matter of necessity. There is no reason why Thirty-fourth and Forty-second streets should not already to-day offer the same facilities, to those requiring to go across town, as Twenty-third and Fourteenth streets. The proprietor of the Hotel Bristol, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, in applying for an injunction, may consider this road "a nuisance," so far as his property is concerned, but we have passed that era in New York's progressive development, when the presumed rights of an individual owner can for any length of time interfere with any enterprise, the completion of which is demanded by thousands of citizens. Litigation of that character has been heard ad nauseam in our courts when the elevated roads had to fight their way through the prejudices of property owners. Though the technical grounds upon which the injunction in this instance is continued may be legally correct, we are nevertheless surprised that at this late day any owner of prominence can be found determined to fight an enterprise, which, after all, is sure to succeed in the course of a few months, after the waste of valuable time and considerable money.

EVOLUTION OF OUR ELEVATED ROAD SYSTEM.

Measures are on foot for adding greatly to the uses of our elevated road system. As soon as the consolidation is completed, it is understood that the new directory will be called on to pass upon some very important propositions.

Cheap fare will be first in order. There are conflicting views on this matter, but some concessions will be made to those who wish to add to the hours when five cents will be charged, but for long distances it must not be expected that railways will be content with the minimum fare. A passenger cannot be carried, with a profit, from the Battery to High Bridge for five cents, and it barely pays to convey one person from the Battery to the Harlem River on the Third Avenue Road for that sum.

Another proposition is, to build a great union depot somewhere in the neighborhood of High Bridge, to be used not only by the elevated roads but by other roads which will enter the city at that point. One is the New York and Northern, already partly constructed and running up Saw Mill Valley to Brewster's Station, where it will connect with a road to Boston. This union depot, it is expected, will be of gigantic proportions and will be used for freight as well as for passengers.

In connection with this great depot it is proposed to build a market for the wholesale distribution of meats, fish and vegetables throughout the city. The waters of the Harlem River will, in a few years, be navigable for large vessels. It is supposed that not only the provisions which come down the Hudson, New Haven, New York and Northern and other roads will find the natural depot at High Bridge, but that the abattoirs in Jersey City will send their meats by water to this new market. But the novelty of the scheme is the proposed distribution of meats and provisions to the retail provision dealers throughout the city by means of the elevated roads. Washington Market has become a nuisance. It is out of the way; it consumes the time of the grocers needlessly. Manhattan Market, just burned down, was also located inconveniently for butchers and grocers wagons. But the elevated roads can serve their customers in the early morning by dealing directly with them on the Second, Third, Sixth and Ninth avenues. These roads are having branches made to all the ferries and not only passengers but light freight, including provisions, can be conveyed to every available point on Manhattan Island.

An express business will also be developed. The packages now conveyed in wagons from Macy's, Stewart's, Thurber's, Park & Tilford's, will be carried by the elevated roads, a company having already, as we understand, been formed to do this business. Light freight also, of every kind, will be delivered over the elevated roads. Within two years, it is believed, that through trains will be running on the Second and Sixth avenues. This will be for the accommodation of the New Haven Road on the east side and of the other roads which will enter the union depot at High Bridge on the other. It is inevitable that the time will come when passengers who wish to reach the lower part of the city from the upper will not be forced to stop at every station. There will be through trains as well as way trains on our elevated roads.

It will thus be seen that our city steam roads are as yet in their infancy. When they cheapen fare they will carry more passengers. The extensions to the ferries will add to their traffic in every respect. The market business in the early morning hours for the conveyance of meats and provisions will add largely to their receipts. The light package business will utilize the tracks at night while the through freight will add very largely to their revenues. In short, there is no property dealt in on our exchanges which has such immense possibilities as the elevated roads of New York City. Great as has been the profits of its promoters it is not unlikely that there are still larger returns to be made by those who will profit by the new uses which will be found for the elevated roads. There is but one drawback—the very great cost of the renewal of these elevated roads. They are, in fact, vast bridges, and will require constant and costly repairs.

The project of amalgamating the New York, Metropolitan and Manhattan Elevated Companies into one concern, ought to be resisted by the Manhattan shareholders with all the means and influence at their command. It should not be forgotten that there are actions for damages instituted by various property owners, pending against both the Metropolitan and New York roads, which will have to be settled one of these days, and which are not, and ought not to be any of the Manhattan's "funeral." The latter company has been constituted solely for the purpose of running the roads built by the two companies above mentioned. It acts virtually as an executive manager of these two concerns, without being in the least responsible for any faults of commission or omission committed by the parent roads. The sins of the parents, in this instance, at least, should not be fastened upon its vigorous child, and block its onward march to success. Far better would it be for the Manhattan shareholders to pay up any assessment that may be laid upon them, so as to conform to the provisions of the original lease, than to surrender their rights and be merged into a whirlpool, from which even long and tedious litigations, such as will be instituted by many property owners along the two lines, can never extricate them, except at the loss of considerable capital, and what is equally significant, the loss of their tan Railway Company.

Whenever political surprises—and we must be prepared for them just now—disturb the speculative markets, property owners in New York City, at least, can afford to look on with complacency. The city of New York and its suburbs, constitute an empire, so-called, in themselves, and the growth and prosperity of this section are not so easily affected by passing events, except that they are of local origin. Having for years differed politically, so far as its voting population is concerned, not only from the rest of the State, but of adjoining States, the metropolis, nevertheless, has continued to prosper, and is to-day, notwithstanding this difference, the virtual arbiter of financial operations and commercial movements throughout the length and breadth of the Republic. While State upon State was drenched in blood and devastated, and Northern homesteads, even, were invaded during the civil war, our own, imperial city never for a single instant even felt the first inkling of ruin that stared our sister communities in the face. Proud and pre-eminent in her financial and commercial resources, New York City, to-day, more than ever, looks with disdain upon anyone desirous of making capital out of a dubious political situation. She knows her power and strength, and while Wall street brokers may take hold of a straw in order to demonstrate which way the wind is going to blow, according to their notions, the vast commercial interests of our city, founded as they are on a sound financial basis, are not in the least affected by political surprises—even such as came from Maine the other day. We can say this the more readily since we have conversed with many holders of property since Tuesday last, not one of whom showed the least disposition to part with his lots at a lower figure than he did on the previous week. Commercially speaking, we here in New York are virtually a "free city," as we are not in the least affected by the political changes that may come at any time over the State or even the Nation. New York's geographical position, her commercial wealth, her fund of resources, her constant increase of population forbid any permanent interference with the value of her soil, whatever may be the number of political bugaboos that may increase round and about Manhattan Island.

THE TRUTH ABOUT MINES.

A great deal of the matter published in the newspapers about mines, is not only untrustworthy and misleading, but is very often printed with the intention to deceive investors. We propose in this column to tell the facts about mines, and to try and save the investing public from losing money. If the temper of this department is somewhat critical and suspicious, it is because we prefer that attitude towards all mining investments. There are plenty of laudatory prospectuses and highly colored statements by superintendents and officers. But so far there has been no journal which has made it a business to give the unsatisfactory side of mining enterprises. The business is one in itself deceptive and misleading; for there are a thousand failures to one really great success.

THE DUNDERBURG.

This mine is situated in Colorado, near Georgetown, and lies adjacent to the Terrible Mine, which has been worked without any profit for years past by an English company. We have reason to believe that the management of the Dunderburg is entirely honest. The stock was issued in good faith, and the officers and their friends have, we judge, been the principal losers. The property has been worked honestly, economically and intelligently. But the difficulty with this region is the hardness of the rock. The silver ore is there, but after it is extracted there is no profit for the stockholders. The Terrible Mine did make profit enough to build a mill, but the English shareholders have had very few, if any, dividends. The stock of the Dunderburg is rarely dealt in, as there is no market for it. We question whether it will ever pay more than a few scattering dividends.

SILVER CLIFF.

This mine has great possibilities, as any one will understand who has read Mr. White's intelligent letters in the Tribune. The Silver Cliff region has immense deposits of low grade silver ore. Mr. White, we believe, has unintentionally overrated the value of the ore. The Silver Cliff region has been aptly termed a "white metal Black Hills." The famous Deadwood mines are of low grade gold, and require, for economical working, expensive machinery. The Homestake Mine has two hundred and forty stamps, and crushes nearly seven hundred tons per day, but it does not declare more than thirty cents per share, per month, dividend. The Silver Cliff Mine has had trouble with its mill; more stamps are being erected, and the officers claim that by next spring there will be one hundred stamps in operation, but there is no hope for dividends before next summer. The stock was floated about two years since for $7.50 per share. Its present market value is about one-half that sum. We believe the mine is a good one, and likely to be permanent, but we cannot endorse the management. Several of the persons who figure as directors, will, when the mine becomes paying, think more of their own interest than of the stockholders. It is not enough that a mine is good; the management should be above suspicion, and this is not the case with the Silver Cliff.

BODIE TUNNEL.

We cannot advise the purchase of stock of this company. We believe it to be "cat" of the worst kind. The persons who deal in this stock are also manipulators of the Goodshaw, which is an excellent property—not to have anything to do with.

THE CONSOLIDATED PACIFIC.

We cannot recommend this property, neither mine nor management. It is on the west side of Bodie Bluff, but as all the veins dip easterly, the further the shaft is sunk in the Consolidated Pacific, the more distant it will be from the ore body. All the great shafts of the Bodie region are being located to the east. The new Bodie-Mono shaft is on the Double Standard ground, some seven hundred feet east of the Bodie line. The Consolidated Oro and the Consolidated Paris are far to the east of the present workings. The Consolidated Pacific has no merit. The Boston Consolidated, owned by the same persons, is reputed to be an excellent prospect. The past career of the Consolidated Pacific has not been satisfactory to those who dealt in the stock.

CHRYSOLITE.

This mine is a puzzle. Its output is enormous, yet the stock continues weak, under the impression that the mine is being gutted, and that no new developments are making. In other words, that its story is that of the Little Pittsburg and Little Chief over again. Yet there are people, who claim to have inside information, who are confidently buying the stock. The new management consists of Messrs. Hewett, Larned, Platt, Raymond, Gurnee, and their friends say that the mine is to be honestly managed; that the debt contracted by the Roberts management is about paid up; that they will now accumulate a surplus of $250,000; that the mine is to be prospected in every direction, and when dividends are rendered they will be permanent. But these must not be expected until next spring or summer. The mine is to be run as a regular business, and not as a stock speculation. We do not wish to be understood as advising anyone to buy Chrysolite, after the bitter experience of investors in Leadville properties. He will be a bold man who will put much money in mines where the ore, however rich, is not lasting.

LITTLE CHIEF.

A great deal of money has been lost by those who invested in this mine. It is reported that Pullman, of the Palace Car Company, and Mr. Bostwick, the great petroleum operator, with their friends, were "let in" to the original syndicate to the tune of $12 to $17 per share. But the bubble burst on the failure of Little Pittsburg, and the stock of Little Chief fell on the street to about $8 per share. In order to re-establish the value of the stock, George Daly was appointed superintendent upon the express understanding that he should "gut" the mine—that is to say, he should exhaust all the reserves and not attempt to look for other ore bodies. The Little Chief kept on paying heavy dividends, and the point was given out last April and May that the stock would be put up to $15 and $18, so that the originators of the enterprise could get out of their high-priced stock. But there was treachery among the members of the original syndicate, and the larger the dividends, the lower went the stock. According to Mr. White of the Tribune, who has recently visited the mine, it is to-day worthless. Some portions of it may contain ore, but there is none in sight. Little Chief will never again be sold at high figures.

THE MINES OF BODIE.

Shall I invest in the shares of the Bodie Mining District?

Don't—wait a year.

Why wait a year?

Because the Bodie region has just begun to be developed by great shafts. It should be borne in mind that only two mines have been of any value as dividend payers—that is, the Standard and the Bodie. The work elsewhere in the district, while costly to the assessed stockholders, has not been productive of dividends to anyone. Rich ore has been found, but not in paying quantities.

But now a new era has been entered upon in Bodie, and the lower depths of that district are about to be prospected thoroughly. But it will take time to do it, and a great deal of money. The Standard mine has the advantage of others in being down nearly a thousand feet, with a property developed in all its upper levels. But the shafts which are to show what Bodie contains have only just been begun. The mines that are about to be prospected thoroughly are the Tioga, Bechtel, Bodie and Mono, Paris Consolidated, Oro Consolidated, and the two Noondays.

We venture the opinion that there are no other mines in the district whose stock is worth holding; and perhaps not more than two of those we have pointed at will yet prove great mines.

Of course the Standard is to be regarded as the phenomenal mine of the district, and likely to remain so for several years to come. It must be borne in mind that all the veins of the Standard are not equally rich; some of the ore worked does not pay. Indeed, if we are rightly informed, there is only one vein very rich, that on the 400 foot level, which extends into the Bodie mine, and which is, in fact a continuation of the first bonanza found in that "mine of surprises." The insiders say there is ore enough on this one level to pay the present dividends for over four years. The ore body discovered on the 700 foot level has been drifted upon for several months past, but as yet there has been no authoritative statement of the value of the ore in that level. The owners of this and the other leading Bodie mines have faith in the theory that somewhere in the lower levels will be found a mother vein—and the formation would seem to justify this theory; for the veins resemble the fingers of an outstretched hand, which seem as if at some point below they must converge, and from which centre came the rich gold streaks, mixed with silver, which have proved so profitable in the Standard and Bodie mines. The Standard is ahead in the race for this mother lode or vein. It is down a thousand feet and will soon be cross-cutting. The Tioga is down eight or nine hundred feet; the Bechtel not so far.

Mr. William Irwin the superintendent of the Standard, has been in town recently, and he gives glowing accounts of the mine. He declares upon his honor that there is $40 net, ore in sight for every share of stock. He admits that all the very rich ore is on the 400 foot level. Only two men are working upon this vein, the ore from which runs up to $500 per ton. It is mixed with the lower grade ores. In private conversation Mr. Irwin declares, that if it was needed, he could take out a million dollars worth of gold in one month. The ore on the 700 foot cross cut looks promising, and on the 1,000 foot level which will be reached in November, Mr. Irwin hopes to strike the so-called "mother lode." The same authority gives it as his belief that were the Standard mine on the Comstock, it would sell for $500 per share. The stock is active, has advanced in price, and a dollar a month is promised for a dividend on and after October.

The new and important shafts are three in number. One, the Bodie and Mono, the Paris Consolidated, and the Oro Consolidated. The Noondays have a very fine shaft now down some six hundred feet, but the owners of that promising property are sinking still another shaft on the Red Cloud ground, far to the east of their present location. These new shafts are situated far to the east, it having been found that the dip of the veins were all in that direction. The old works in the Bodie and Mono have been abandoned, and the new shaft is located on the Double Standard ground, several hundred feet east of the Bodie line. The Paris Consolidated is a new combination of mines or prospects on the rise of Silver Hill, near the gully or chasm which separates Bodie Bluff from Silver and Queen Bee Hills. The Oro Consolidated is to the east of the Noondays, and is in very promising ground, but the great shafts in these properties—that is the Bodie-Mono, the Paris Consolidated, and the Oro Consolidated—have only just been commenced, and it will be a year before anything in the way of returns can be expected.

It must be remembered that, so costly is the running of the mines of Bodie, that no ore will pay under $20 a ton. If $12 or $15 ore could be profitably worked, Bodie could pour a stream of bullion into San Francisco that would equal the returns of the Black Hills.

About one-half of the quoted stocks of Bodie are pure swindles. They are mere locations, mostly unworked.

We should be happy to answer questions for anyone who wants to know more about the mines of Bodie.

THE FATHER DE SMET MINE.

Last spring we paid some attention to mining matters, our object being to warn investors against putting their money into deceptive properties. In one of the articles published last April, we uttered the following about the Father De Smet, which was then being marketed by the New York agency of the Bank of California at $20 per share, we quote:

We have every reason to believe that this is one of the finest properties in the Black Hills, but nevertheless we warn the investing public that there is a risk in purchasing it. There are three factors to be considered in purchasing the shares of a mining company. In the first place the property must be a good one. In the next, it must be wisely and economically handled, and, last, but not least, it must be honestly managed.

We have admitted that this property is a good one. We do not know that it is dishonestly or unwisely managed, but in view of the fact that it is a California property, in the hands of Californians, that it is selling for a much higher price in New York than it ever could command in the State where it is organized, and also from the fact that it is an assessable property, we would advise our readers to keep clear of it. The Father De Smet is owned mainly by "Archie" Borland, a shrewd and lucky Pacific coast operator, originally a working miner, who has made his money by driving good bargains, by understanding his business, and, like most rich men of the Pacific coast, by getting the best of those with whom he had dealings. People who purchase the Father De Smet should remember that it is managed by Pacific coast operators, and that it is assessable stock, organized under the laws of California. They should remember that sometime or other all California stocks are assessed. No matter how good the mine, the assessment comes sooner or later.

In a subsequent issue of April 6th, we again warned the public as follows: "The Father De Smet is undeniably an excellent property; but what is the record of Archie Borland and Bob Graves? They are rich men without a question; but in their various operations with the public, which side has made the most? Not the public we apprehend."

In the Tribune of the 18th of August, appears the following despatch:

SAN FRANCISCO, August 17.—Large holders here of Father De Smet have been greatly agitated since Saturday, over an alleged fraudulent purchase of Wyoming Water Company, in which Archibald Borland is heavily interested. It is claimed that the decision in the suit between the Homestake and the De Smet left this interest of little or no value, and hence the attempt to saddle the loss on the De Smet stockholders. To accomplish this it is said, Borland and Harmon resigned, and had two straw men appointed as trustees in their places, and, controlling another, made the purchase for the De Smet, agreeing to pay $200,000 and to assume an indebtedness of nearly as much more. D. O. Mills and Thomas Bell are actively engaged trying to prevent the purchase, and have telegraphed East to secure a sufficient number of holders to join in legal proceedings for that purpose. Borland, it is said, promised on Saturday to have the action rescinded, but now refuses to do so.

Is it any wonder that the stock which the Bank of California Agency, did its best to float at $20, is now selling for $6? The dividends have been stopped, and we presume the assessment is now in order. Is not an explanation in order from the agent of the Bank of California, who knew Borland's reputation quite as well as the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD.

At the time the above warning was given we published a great deal of news about the mines on the New York market, which was prophetic of the fate which has since overtaken them. But the public did not care for the truth just then; it preferred the rosy stories of strikes and fabulous prospects which the mining press and the daily papers were serving up for an excited and gullible public.

THE SITUATION.

With the view of getting the very best opinion of the "Street" on the situation of the stock market, a representative of THE RECORD called on some of the leading operators in Wall street yesterday. If we could give their names it would be seen there are few persons in the financial world whose judgments are so much respected.

A gentleman once connected with the South Western railroads said: "I am out of the market. The bears have tried to talk prices down and have failed—they have hammered stocks only to see them rebound. It is quite out of the question for all the operators of the street combined to make a bear market—still the situation is so uncertain; due to political causes, that I do not see any margin for a marked advance this year. Suppose Garfield should be elected, that would bring us to November, and bull markets are not in order during that month, owing to the liquidation that then takes place all over the country. It is in November that the taxes are paid, and that calls for a vast amount of money. While I expect to see stocks very high before next spring, I doubt whether we will have an excited market until the "January rise" is in order. Lake Shore, at present prices, is a splendid investment; but it is dealt in by speculators and it may be sold down to par sometime this fall. The Wabash properties are potentially valuable; but insiders on the street know that the friends of Wabash, the Goulds, Fields, Dillons and their followers, are out of those stocks. They have been quietly feeding the market for a year past. When they get ready to buy again, perhaps we may all take a hand in the deal. For the present I do not care to buy and I should be afraid to sell."

Said a gentleman, once a great power in Pacific Mail: "This will be a broker's market until after the election. I do not believe the market will be five points either way from now till the 3d of November."

Said a millionaire capitalist: "The temper of the brokers has been bearish, and repeated attempts have been made to break the market. Everyone believes in higher prices during the year, but a heavy break was expected before the rise was inaugurated. I think the key to the situation is the war between the Wabash and the Burlington systems. The two companies' magnates are now conferring; and if they should come to terms, I expect to see a great upward surge in the Wabash securities, which would help the whole market. But if Gould and his friends have sold out, as it is suspected they have done, he may keep up a bitter fight, so as to knock down the price of the so-called Gould stocks, so that he can buy them back before the compromise, which will finally be made, and which will set all the stocks booming."

Said a retired capitalist, formerly connected with a leading banking house: "I am a bull. With gold coming from Europe, immense crops, great exports, a large emigration and remarkable business activity, there cannot but be a rising market. It was supposed there would be a falling off in railroad receipts, when the time came for comparisons with the phenomenal advances of last year. But, so far, the returns show a heavy increase upon the unprecedented figures of the fall of 1879. I believe in Lake Shore—it is making more than 1 per cent. a month—will pay 5 per cent. at its next semi-annual dividend and carry over a large surplus. The Lake Shore is making no extensions, is leasing no new roads; but all it earns will be for the benefit of the stockholders. There will, I judge, be some disappointment among the stockholders of Northwest, St. Paul and Iron Mountain securities when they peruse the construction accounts. The increased earnings of these Western roads are very great; but then their expenses for new work, repairs, depots, bridges, tracks and rolling stock will be found extraordinarily heavy. I can see no cloud in the financial sky."

We believe the above news represents the best judgments of the Street.

We call the attention of West Side lot owners to the views of Mr. E. H. Ludlow, as given in our market report to-day. The supply of suitable houses for renting purposes is not equal to the demand in our city to-day, most of those recently constructed at Lenox Hill and vicinity being for sale, not to let. Mr. Edward Clark's example must be followed soon by other owners, if they understand their own interest. His West Seventy-third street houses are occupied by some excellent families, all of whom are satisfied not only with the houses proper, but with the locality. True, there is yet a partial lack of marketing facilities in that vicinity, but that will soon be remedied when other owners show a disposition to provide homes where there are now vacant lots. In the meantime, the Metropolitan road enables householders to go forward and backward from that locality so rapidly, that even this absence of the ordinary grocer and butcher shop is considered more of a luxury than a drawback for that neighborhood.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

There were but few sales at auction during the past week, and several of those announced were adjourned. Mr. Harnett sold under foreclosure, on Thursday, the northeast corner of Sixth avenue and One Hundred and Fifteenth street, 25.7x100, for $6,500, and Van Tassel & Kearney disposed of the northeast corner of Seventh avenue and One Hundred and Nineteenth street, 100.11x125, for $18,000.

The total result of the Vandervoort sale in Brooklyn, E. D., as given by the auctioneer, foots up about $100,000. A portion of the property was sold subject to taxes. Full particulars will be found below—the parties in interest buying all property where purchasers names are omitted.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

While auctioneers have been growling at the absence of any orders to sell, most of the brokers engaged in the manipulation of sales at private contract have been full of vim and energy during the past week. Offers for property—improved as well as unimproved—when presented to owners, based upon the lower prices of the past few months, have been steadily refused, and hence a number of negotiations that were ripening at the close of the previous week have fallen through during the week just closed. We know positively of a large transaction in choice real estate, which was upset by outside Wall street influence. It is against the views of men who daily gamble on what they believe to be "the future," that the real estate market is warned to-day. When once those who have money to invest begin to understand that real estate is not a "gamble," but has solid reasons for its rise and decline, aye, even for its permanency of values, regardless of what novices, who here and there possess a stray lot of ground may say —then will this market resume the activity which rightfully belongs to it. The possession of our soil, not an inch of which can be duplicated, ought not to depend upon the dicta of men whose whole lives are made up of hobbies, schemes and speculations, and who ultimately find their graves already dug out for them in the purlieus of Wall street. Men of sound, commercial views, those accustomed to the plain drudgery of mercantile life are the parties who will invest their hard earned dollars in the real estate of Manhattan Island, regardless of a temporary Wall street influence, and irrespective of the views of those men, who believe that fortunes ought to grow like mushrooms, in the course of a single night. The above were the views most prevalent during the week not only in and around Pine street, but also in the parlors of financial institutions, where, for the purpose of loaning money on bond and mortgage, no less than five to seven hundred titles are passed upon during the year.

Messes. L. J. & I. Phillips sold, about four months ago, the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Seventy-fourth street, 100x150, to Mr. Kenyon Cox for $200,000. Mr. Cox, we understand, has now resold that plot to Mr. Wilhelm Pickhard for $217,500.

Mr. J. W. Stevens has sold, on the south side of Fifty-first street, 125 feet east of the Ninth avenue, 30 x100, to Mr. James Pruden for $9,500. The purchaser intends to build a flat on said lot.

Mr. Vernon K. Stevenson, Jr., has sold, at private contract, the four-story brown stone high stoop house, 42 West Fifty-third street, 22x55x100, to Rev. Dr. Coe for $32,500, also the four-story high stoop brown stone dwelling, No. 113 East Fifty-fourth street, 17x50x100, including fixtures, to Mr. L. W. Waddell for $12,250.

Mr. Morris Steinhard has commenced excavating the cellars for six buildings on the south side of Eighty-third street, west of Tenth avenue toward the Boulevard. A flat, thirty feet front, has just been begun on the north side of Eighty-third street just east of the Boulevard.

It will be remembered that twelve lots on One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, were sold for $2,850, each, in July last and subsequently resold for $3,250 to Mr. Burchell. The latter gentleman has since sold them with loans at $4,200, each, to four different parties, two to Samuel Lynch, four to Mr. Wright, two to Mr. Gault, and four to John S. Smith. All of these purchasers have already begun to build there, the intention being to improve the block with brown stone houses averaging a frontage of 16.3.

Our readers will have noticed in our last week's RECORD the transfer of No. 21 to 25 East Thirteenth by Mr. Wm. Jennings Demorest to James McCreery for $47,000, and a leasehold conveyance by the former to the latter of 70 feet front on East Fourteenth, for $68,000. Mr. Demorest came into the possession of the Arlington property, running through to Thirteenth street, in February last at a cost of $80,000. Up to that time the property had been encumbered with numerous mortgages, leases, etc., which were all removed. Since, it has been let at a profit of over $5,000, and, as the transfers above alluded to indicate, has been sold to Mr. James McCreery for $115,000, making a net profit of $40,000 within eight months. Mr. McCreery is now designing a six-story iron building to cover the entire plot. This large structure together with three adjoining houses shortly to be erected by Demorest will materially change the appearance of Fourteenth street. Mr. Demorest has also just bought of Mr. W. H. Appleton the lot on Thirteenth street, immediately in the rear of No. 6 West Fourteenth street, which latter property was recently purchased by Mr. Demorest, and in connection with No. 4 has two first class stores now in course of erection. This building will run through the block, and the first floor store is already leased at a rental of $9,000 per annum. It is expected that the two buildings when finished will command a rental of at least $20,000. The demand for stores on Fourteenth street is just now quite active.

Speaking of the rent market, Mr. E. H. Ludlow said yesterday: "There is somewhat of a halt in transactions, especially as to furnished houses. The owners of first class residences are willing to dispose of them by the year, but most people looking for those class of houses only want them for the season—say from September till May. As to second class furnished houses, most of them are in a condition not fit for first class tenants, and hence they are more difficult to be disposed of. There continues to be a steady demand for unfurnished houses, but the supply is not equal to this demand. True, any number of buildings have been constructed, and are now ready for occupancy, in the central and eastern sections of the city, but most of these houses belong to builders and are for sale, not to let. Builders need the money they have invested in these houses, so as to keep at work on new structures. If lot owners generally would only follow Mr. Edward Clark's example, and build houses for the occupancy of good tenants, they would soon find a handsome return for their investment. Between the unwillingness of builders to let their houses, and the refusal of owners of furnished houses to make any other terms than by the year, the rent market is more stagnant than it ought to be at this season."

Mr. Homer Morgan confirms in every detail the views expressed by Mr. Ludlow, and simply adds that the demand for houses to rent is extraordinary, and cannot be filled. As an instance of this, we might state that a certain broker was making out the lease of a house on Thursday, no less than ten different parties standing ready to take it.

It is learned indirectly from the contractors having in charge the completion of the new docks, between Sixty-fifth and Seventy second streets, for the Hudson River Railroad Company, that rock blasting and excavating can now be done on the West Side, above Fifty-ninth street, more cheaply than ever before. There seems to be, just now, great demand for rock or stone for dock filling.

It will be seen by an announcement in another column, that the Emigrant Industrial Savings' Bank intends to reduce, on and after January first next, its rate of interest on bonds and mortgages to five per centum. This applies not only to new loans, but to all the mortgages held by the bank on and after that date. It is understood that the system inaugurated by the Emigrant Industrial will be followed by other banks before the close of the year.

SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS.

FIRST DECISION UNDER THE NEW CODE BY JUDGE MCADAM.

The following is an opinion of Justice David McAdam, of the Marine Court, wherein exparte application was made under section 3279 of the Code of Civil Procedure, by the tenant to require the landlord to file security for costs and for a stay in the meantime, the landlord being a non-resident, but owning property in the City and County of New York.

Edward Hasler, landlord, against Susan B. Johnston—McAdam, J. The tenant applies, under section 3279 of the Code of Civil Procedure, for an order requiring the landlord, who is said to be a non-resident, to file security for costs and for a stay of all proceedings until the same be fully perfected and approved. The proposed order to show cause is made returnable on the 21st of September, 1880, at 11 A. M., while the precept under which the tenant is summoned before me is returnable to-morrow morning (the 11th inst.) Section 3279, Supra, 7, provides that the provisions of the statute in regard to security for costs, shall apply to a special proceeding instituted in a Court of Record, in like manner as to an action.

The question presented, therefore, reduces itself to this, is the present such a special proceeding instituted in a Court of Record as is contemplated by said section. The provision of the title (2) conferring jurisdiction of summary proceedings grants power to the district courts of the city of New York, but in every other instance, confers it upon certain officers therein specified. For example, if the property be situated in the city of New York, the application may be made to the city judge, or judge of the Court of General Sessions, or to a justice of the Marine Court of the city of New York. The precept in such an instance is to be issued by one of the magistrates named and the proceedings are to be conducted by the magistrates as such. In the district courts, the precept is to be issued by the clerks thereof, and the justices of the district courts, are to dispose of such proceedings as they hear and determine ordinary civil actions in their respective courts. Section 2265 provides that the proceedings before such magistrates shall not be stayed either before or after judgment except as therein provided, and a stay until security for costs is filed is not one of the cases provided for by said section. Section 3272, in reference to security for costs, on the other hand authorizes a stay until the security be given, or a special deposit of $250 in lieu thereof be made.

In summary proceedings, the costs allowable to a tenant, can in no event exceed $10 and disbursements. (Code of Civil Procedure, sec. 2250). Can it be possible, therefore, that the Legislature intended to stay the summary proceedings of the landlord (who is in most instances the owner of the property), until he deposits $20 in court to secure the tenant (if successful), the payment of $10 costs, or unless he gives an undertaking in $250, to secure the payment of the same. These proceedings were intended to be, as expressed in the title of the statute, summary in their nature, and the various sections of the act relating thereto, are repugnant to those in reference to security for costs; so that the one cannot be made to apply to the other. (See, also, sec. 2248). The district courts may award to a successful tenant the same amount of costs which a justice of the Marine Court may award (sec. 2250), and yet no security for costs can be required in the district courts. Will it be seriously contended, that while a stay on security for costs is denied in the district court, that the Legislature intended that it should (under precisely similar circumstances) be granted in like proceedings commenced before a Marine Court justice. I think not. The application for the order to show cause, and for a stay, will therefore be denied.

DEEDS FOR REAL ESTATE SET ASIDE.

Judge Choate, in the United States District Court, on Wednesday, handed down his opinion in the matter of Henry King and Simeon Hyde, bankrupts. In those cases in bankruptcy, under the bankrupt law of 1941, applications were made to set aside and declare null and void certain deeds made, or claimed to have been made, by Mr. Waddell, the official assignee under orders of the court entered in the years 1838 and 1859 and 1862, authorizing him to sell at private sale certain alleged interests vested in him, as such assignee, in certain real estate in the city of Chicago. The ground on which the vacating of the deeds is sought by the petitioners, the executors of one Ogden, is that long prior to the date thereof, the testator was in the actual possession of the real estate in question, claiming title thereto as assignee or grantee of the interest, whatever it was, that had belonged to the bankrupts; and that the deeds now in question were not deeds for any valuable consideration, but that they were, in fact, gifts, as far as the estates of the bankrupts was concerned, which the court neither authorized nor had any power to authorize; that if not mere gifts, the deeds were void because the interest of the bankrupts had been previously sold and disposed of under prior orders of the court, and that the deeds were procured by false and fraudulent representations of matters of fact whereby the court was deceived and misled into making the orders under which the deeds purport to have been given, and by which alone the giving of them could be justified. The respondent, Chapman, who claims to be the bona fide purchaser for value of the titles made under these deeds, and who alone appears to object to the prayer of the petition, has commenced a suit, based in whole or in part on these deeds, or some of them, against the petitioners, as his executors; in which suit said Chapman claims an accounting for the rents and profits of that interest in the said lands formerly of the bankrupts and alleged to be held by said Ogden, as trustee for said Chapman. His Honor says he thinks it is clear that the petitioners, though not parties to the bankruptcy proceedings, have such an interest in the matter that they can maintain this petition. After a full review of the case, Judge Choate says: "The deeds must be set aside as inadvertently and illegally made by the assignee, on the grounds referred to; and let an order be entered that no further sale or conveyance of any of the assets of the bankrupts be made under the authority of any previous order of this court, without further application to the court."

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Early in the week the market for Common Hards was a trifle tame, but later the tone has improved and there is now a stronger showing all around, with the selling interest in a comparatively cheerful mood. Arrivals have been pretty full, but the demand keeps up well enough to exhaust the desirable offering about as fast as it is offered, and instead of cargoes seeking customers, most of the receivers have orders from regular buyers to report their stock as it comes in, with business almost sure to follow. Consumers who have positive wants anywhere near at hand appear to have made up their minds that cost is about as low as it is safe to expect it at this season of the year and are therefore giving up the holding off policy and negotiating for supplies against contemplated operations. This naturally affords basis for advantage to the selling interest and cost commences to stiffen. "Up Rivers" are still most in favor, and are best supported on a general range of $1.37½@4.62½ with extra lots at $4.75, and favorite makers commanding even a fracture more, while Haverstraws are quoted at $5.00@5.50 per M., on the average run of stock. Some few Jerseys are reported sold at $1.25@1.50, but some of the best are selling at a higher rate. Pale bricks in fair demand at $2.75@3.00 for the ordinary run of quality, and very fine, 2½c more. The Haverstraw manufacturers have been taking active measures to bring about a general suspension of production in their vicinity, and it is understood, have about all agreed to a stoppage on the 2d proximo. Front Brick are meeting with a good proportionate sale at full prices, and we understand that the Philadelphia manufacturers have advanced the cost to $16.00 per M., delivered there.

HARDWARE.—Some little irregularity in tone has been expressed by a portion of the trade, but as a rule the business appears to be in very good position. Buyers certainly are not taking quite such full amounts as was expected of them, but invoices seem fair, and the average distribution does not decrease on any regular outlet, while with many there is a decided growth. Values continue to receive good solid support, and, if anything, are on the upward turn. At a recent meeting of the Axe Manufacturers' Association it was unanimously resolved that the association reaffirm the action of January 7, 1880, whereby the prices of Axes were made $10 per dozen for 4½ to 5½ lbs and under, and $10.50 per dozen for 4½ to 6 lbs and upward. Beveled Axes to be 5 c. per dozen extra. The time for which these prices were established was extended to February 1, 1881. The principal manufacturers announce discount on Padlocks and Padlock Keys at 40 per cent, instead 45 per cent as heretofore.

LATH.—The general condition of this market continues strong, and rather on the upward turn, with receivers speaking confidently of still greater advantages to come. The supply offering has been only fair; and while the demand is not sharp or excited, is large enough, and of a sufficiently anxious form, to exhaust the arrivals and submit to the additional cost asked. Up to the present writing, the highest cargo rate we have learned of is $1.85, and this is certainly as low as anything can now be reached, while, in some cases, there is a refusal to negotiate except at a still higher figure. The accounts from primary points represent manufacturers as still in a very confident mood, and asserting that even the return now obtained is below what they are willing to continue shipments.

LIME.—Receivers generally speak firmly and confidently over the situation, and insist upon extreme rates for all kinds, both Eastern and State. Some arrivals have taken place, but little, if anything, in excess of what could be used to immediate advantage, and the accumulation afloat is very small, with only light amounts held in second hands. Advices from the points of supply do not seem to indicate that manufacturers are prepared to ship with much freedom.

LUMBER.—The general character of the market is much the same as for a week or two past. A very fair attendance of buyers may be found and many are quite ready to negotiate on anything at all attractive, with a great deal of stuff sought after from day to day, and the outlook promising for a continuation or expansion of the volume of business. As before noted the accumulation on hand is by no means full or remarkably well assorted, and, so far as home wants are concerned, everything now points to good full winter consumption, while dealers who cater to the export trade speak hopefully. Yet for some reason there appears a slight drag on the business which prevents it taking the generally vigorous and stimulating form noted at other points. A great many buyers appear to be still hanging back, and hopeful that better terms will be offered, but upon what basis is not very clear. No signs of weakening are shown. At primary points the cost of moving lumber is more likely to increase than decrease, and desirable supplies are not abundant.

Spruce retains a good strong market, and no attempts to negotiate contracts on a reduced line of cost have been successful. Manufacturers appear to be well satisfied that they have the position in hand for the balance of the season and do not propose to lose any of the advantage. The only irregularity is shown on randoms, and this simply amounts to such natural variations as may occur on the different assortments offered, terms and place of delivery, etc. About $16 is the very lowest for anything, with sales at $18@19 for randoms, and specials $19@20 up to $21, and it is rumored $22 for extra difficult.

White Pine is still a somewhat doubtful article, and reports are at variance. Some dealers speak quite firmly, but they appear to have secured about all they intend to handle for quite a little time, indeed a few have nearly completed the seasons' purchases. Others, however, report matters as very tame, and these are considerably short of supplies. General business in the way of distribution is fair, however, and about former rates obtained. We quote $17@19 per M. for West India shipping boards; $23@24 for South American do; $15.50@16.50 for box boards; $17@17.50 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine finds some call still on special orders, and there is also more or less demand from shippers for cargoes to go forward direct from primary points. Local wants, however, are not very full, and supplies, not showing the most attractive conditions, are very difficult to dispose of, even when offered at a considerable concession. We quote random cargoes at about $24@25 per M.; ordered cargoes, $24@26 do.; green flooring boards, $25@26 do.; and dry do. do. $25@27. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $20@21 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods are selling readily when quality is fine and attractive, but very slowly where the condition is poor. On the general range about former rates current. We quote at wholesale rates by carload about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. cills, $18@20 do. cherry, $45@47 do.; white wood, ½ and ¾ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do., for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles not quite so active on home account, but the shipping orders reported fair and prices well maintained. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and to quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch, $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@11.75 for No. 1.

Among the yards the movement is fair at full former rates, and the tone healthy and cheerful.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br barque, 609 tons, from St. Johns, N. B. to Bristol Channel, deals, 56s.; a Br barque, 593 tons, same voyage. 57s. 6d., c. d.; a Nor barque, 345 tons, from Philadelphia to Oporto, staves, $29; a Br barque, 600 M lumber, from Montreal to Montevideo or Buenos Ayres, $13.50 net; a Br barque, from Brunswick to Rio Janeiro, lumber, $20 net; a Br brig, 287 tons, from Brunswick to Montevideo or Buenos Ayres, lumber, $20 net; a Nor barque, 300 M lumber, from Savannah to Cadiz, $17; a schr, from River Herbert to New York, spiling, 3c per foot; an Am brig, 249 tons, from Wilmington, N. GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending September 14, is reported by the Argus as follows:

We have rather a quiet market to report at firm and unchanged quotations. The attendance of buyers has been fair, but no sales of round lots are reported. Stocks are ample and are in good assortment. For the first time this season we report a falling off in receipts for the corresponding time last year, the first week of September reporting less than the corresponding week in 1879.

In regard to Coarse Lumber we have nothing new to report. The Northern mills are still idle for want of water. Prices are steady.

A large fleet of vessels is on the way out from England to Quebec for square timber; they will find, on arrival, that there will be more vessels than timber; freights, to the advantage of the holders of square timber, will rule low.

In the Saginaw valley trade continues very good and at steady prices; extra choice lots running up to $38.00.

We have not any change in up lake freights to note; yesterday, from Tonawanda to Albany canal freights were weaker; from Oswego, where the docks are now covered with lumber, freights were higher.

The receipts of lumber by lake at Buffalo for the week are 4,732,000 feet; by rail, 72 cars. At Oswego, 10,193,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to September 8th were:

Bds. & Sctg. ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c.f.	Staves, D
1880..	248,627,900	2,233	257,000

Freights from Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25 @ M. feet; from Saginaw, $2.37. From Buffalo to Albany $2.50; from Tonawanda to Albany, $2.30@2.40 @ M. feet. Lake Ontario freights from Port Hope to Oswego, $1.25 @ M. feet, from Toronto to Oswego, $1.50, and from Oswego to Albany, $2.00. From Ottawa to Albany $3.50 @ M. feet.

River freights are without change.

THE WEST.

[Special correspondence of REAL ESTATE RECORD].

CHICAGO, Sept. 15, 1880.

Last week the offerings at the cargo market were pretty liberal, and, in consequence of the accumulation at the yard docks, the demand was only moderate; so that the movement was generally slow, though the sale of the entire fleet was accomplished by Saturday night, without any material reduction in prices. For the past three days there has been but little on the market, a head wind keeping back the fleet. Everything offered is taken without much urging, at prices which differ in no important respect from those quoted two weeks ago. There is, in fact, no room for a change in prices now, either one way or the other. The dealers feel that they cannot stand an advance with yard prices where they are, and they do not bear down very strongly for concessions, for fear that a break at the docks will affect their own lists unfavorably. An advance in Lake freights would undoubtedly bring about a change, but it is uncertain when this will occur. Prices may be quoted without change. Nearly everything on the list is in good demand, dealers being anxious to buy as fast as they can get room in their docks to handle the lumber. The inquiry from city dealers is pretty strong to-day, and no doubt a large fleet could be placed if it was here. Some sales have been made "to arrive," but not so many that the number is regarded as an unusual one. The current quotations are given below, including, of course, the figures for lumber afloat only:

Cargo prices may be tabulated as follows:

Green joist and scantling.....	$9 00@ 9 50
Green boards and strips, common.....	10 00@11 50
Green boards and strips, medium.....	12 00@14 50
Green boards and strips, good to choice.	15 00@18 00
Standard shingles.....	2 30@ 2 40
Extra shingles.....	2 60@ 2 70
Lath.....	1 60@ 1 85

Nearly all the lumber carrying fleet is now out, and the last of this week, and the early part of next, large arrivals may be looked for. That they will have a weakening influence upon the market is not expected, as the dealers will then be in better shape to take care of the stuff, and will therefore buy more readily. The prevailing belief is that there will be little, if any, change in prices.

The market for vessel freights is quiet and reasonably firm, though not by any means displaying as much strength as it was expected to show at this time. With the grain rates to Buffalo ruling as low as 3½ and 4¼ cents respectively for corn and wheat, there is little temptation for vessels to withdraw from the lumber trade, and hence there is an abundance of capacity offering. The demand from the commission men is generally for small vessels, as they prefer cargoes of from 100,000 to 200,000 feet, being more easily sold than larger ones. The prospect of an advance in vessel rates does not appear so probable as it did a few weeks ago, though an increase in the movement of grain, which is likely to occur at any time, would bring it about very quickly.

Most of the dealers, or rather all of them, report a brisk business doing at the yards, and the statement is confirmed by the shipments, which show a daily average of from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 feet. The sales are mostly to retailers at interior points in the West, though the movement of lumber to the East from this market is by no means inconsiderable. One operator, whose trade in this direction is ordinarily not very extensive, reported sales last week for shipment to points in Massachusetts aggregating nearly 200,000 feet. Some difficulty is experienced in finding transportation for stuff as fast as it is ordered, but so far, this annoyance has not been as serious as it was a year ago, the facilities for moving freight being greater than they were then. Orders accumulate rapidly, however, in spite of all the dealers can do in the way of filling them promptly, and many yards are already several hundred cars behind. They do not expect to get them all filled until after the close of the active season, and hope they will not get the opportunity to do so. There is in fact no question about the existence of a very active demand for lumber, and the prospect that it will continue through the fall is now very flattering.

As appears from the foregoing, the advance in prices chronicled in the last report from this market has had no apparent effect in reducing the inflow of orders; indeed, it may fairly be claimed that the reverse is the case; for many who were complaining a little, before the change was made, have now about all the business they can attend to. It follows, of course, that the figures given in the list of August 21 are fully maintained, or, least, adhered to as closely as a uniform list ever is or can be. Slight differences in grades, and inequalities in the distribution of stock—dealers occasionally having an excess of some particular sort, and being therefore anxious to unload part of it—give rise to some variations from the regular figures; but they are not important enough or numerous enough now to be worthy of notice. There is no talk of any further advance in prices, though such a thing is not looked upon as impossible. The truth of the matter is, most of the dealers are rather conservative in the matter, though, perhaps, not too much so. They are having such a good trade that they dislike to run the risk of spoiling it, and as the current rates pay a fair margin to most of them they think discretion just at this time an excellent thing to make use of. Still the list would doubtless bear revision to some extent, and those who buy on the cargo market, and have to depend for their profit upon the difference between prices there and at the yards, would welcome the change gladly. Manufacturers with yards here are well satisfied as it is, their lumber paying them a better profit than they have received in a long time. In case of a further advance, cargo prices would, no doubt, go up about the same proportion, so that possibly the profits of the yard dealers would not be increased much.

The last report of the Exchange places the stock on hand, Sept. 1, in the yards, at 467,966,545 feet of lumber, 173,753,000 shingles, 48,755,681 lath, 2,193,317 pickets and 67,006 cedar posts. Comparison with the stock held on the same date last year shows an increase of 94,557,645 feet of lumber, 15,546,000 shingles, 18,985,186 lath, 1,052,685 pickets, and a decrease of 396,933 cedar posts. The excess of nearly 10,000,000 feet in the lumber stock was a disappointment to many, and caused a little feeling of uneasiness at first, but generally the lumbermen think that it will all be wanted, and will all, or nearly all, be sold before the end of the year. The receipts of lumber to this date have been 1,021,741,000 feet against 937,299,418 feet for the corresponding time last year. These amounts include hardwood as well as pine, and it is, therefore, impossible to say just what part of the increase belongs to one and what to the other branch of the business. The shipments, which similarly refer to both kinds of lumber, show an increase, making a safe allowance for inaccuracies which are known to exist, of from 50,000,000 to 55,000,000 feet. July 15, this year, shipments lacked 50,000,000 feet of equalizing those for last season, which shows that in the last 60 days they have gained at the rate of a million feet per day.

We are indebted to Mr. A. H. Hitchcock, Secretary of Lumbermen's Exchange, for his statement of stocks on hand at Chicago, September 1st, with comparisons. We make the following extracts:

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 9, 1880.

The lumber business of the whole country is now far in excess of anything done in the history of this country, and this fact will be demonstrated when the annual figures are collected. The daily shipments of St. Louis have gradually crept up from 700,000 to an average of nearly 1,200,000 feet per day, and seems to be on the increase yet. The demand for good grades of lumber causes some uneasiness in the city least there should be a shortage. A trip along the river last week found all the lumbermen in high spirits, very busy sawing and selling lumber at every point. The chief trouble at most places is to get cars to ship on. Prices are as firm as could be wished. Large orders now bring no discounts, and most holders would rather decline them so as to hold their regular trade. We doubt whether it is possible now to contract for any large amounts of bill stuff, timber and dimensions, anywhere in the West at any present quotations, such a thing was never known at this season of the year.

Chicago is enjoying the legitimate fruits of her wise action in advancing prices, in a much larger business than she had before, this circumstance ought to encourage them to put on another dollar on to common lumber and doubtless will soon. We direct our readers attention to the report of this market.

Minneapolis is content with all the business she cares to handle during this season of the year. This week she has given up business to take care of the vast crowds of strangers who visit the great exposition. The log business is substantially closed for the year, only a few odds and ends remain to be picked up along the rivers.

Flooding operations keep the Chippewa and Wisconsin mills going, but great trouble is found in running rafts to lower river markets.

The following review of the general situation is from the Northwestern Lumberman: The eastern country is, if anything, stiffening up on quotations of lumber. New York dealers have for some months exhibited a bearish feeling, and have advanced the prices of lumber in that market only so fast as the boosting tendency of the West has compelled them to do. Our latest reports from that market represent a feeling that the hoped for decline will not be experienced, and that dealers are becoming keenly alive to the necessity of moving in the matter of filling up their yards.

At Boston the market is reported firm with a moderate distribution, and a continuance of good feeling. The supply, while constantly augmented, is not excessive, and prices are on a substantial basis. The demand for actual consumption is sufficient to absorb accumulations. Western goods are firm, but the demand is not animated. Eastern grades appear to strengthen, and spruce is held at higher figures. Stocks of eastern lumber are light, and the continued drought makes it difficult to place orders at mills, most of which remain idle, with no chance of starting up until the fall rains commence. Lower prices are hoped for as soon as the logs reach the mills and sawing commences. The remaining season will be a short one, however, and there are many large orders in the market.

Albany reports a good business in all the districts. New York and southern parties are taking largely of the better grades, and a shipment of 200,000 feet of uppers to Norfolk, Va., is reported. Canal receipts are less free, and the market looks for lighter receipts from now to the close of the season. Stocks are reported ample and in good assortment, with prices practically unchanged and firm.

Our Canadian advices are to the effect that the production of this season, while exceeding that of 1879, will fall largely short of that of 1878, and a lack of lumber to supply present demand is noticeable. Active preparations are being made for heavy operations in the woods during the coming winter, and many crews have already commenced cutting and skidding. Prices are reported firm. The Saginaw district still maintains its firmness of price, and good stocks are eagerly sought after but are difficult to find. The shipments to September 1 are the largest in the history of the trade of the valley, and a buoyancy is manifest which is leading to active preparations for doing a larger amount of lumbering during the coming winter than ever before. Many crews have already gone into the woods, and, from present appearances, the lumbermen of eastern Michigan will be ready to take advantage of the earliest falls of snow for the hauling of their logs.

Detroit, Toledo, and other Lake Erie markets, report active trade, with firm prices, but with a decided lack of dry stock. The Western markets along the Mississippi river and those of Wisconsin, report an active trade with firm prices, the greatest difficulty being in the supply of dry stock, which is decidedly short in quantity. A novel innovation upon the lumber interest is reported in the shape of cedar and tamarack poles, which are being shipped in goodly quantities from the swamps of Wisconsin to points in Dakota and other new states and territories, for use in the construction of barns, corncribs, etc. The extreme cheapness with which a temporary structure can be erected from poles too small for use as posts or telegraph poles, is said to be creating quite a demand for them, to the exclusion of so much scantling as would be needed for a more permanent structure. It is not to be regretted that so excellent a use has been discovered for an otherwise worthless material, which is abundant beyond measure in many of the Northwestern States, and has hitherto been regarded as an eye-sore and a nuisance. If it can be utilized to any great extent, as we fail to see any good reason why it should not, it may prove an important factor in extending the limits of time in which the pine forests shall be exhausted. The demand for cedar posts, cedar ties and telegraph poles has awakened a spirit of inquiry for this wood which is rapidly taking an important position among the commercial woods.

Hardwoods, also, are commanding more attention. The stock of the present season has been short from the beginning, and vastly larger supplies than it has been in the power of those who deal in it to obtain would be necessary to supply the demands of the markets of this country, not to speak of the rapidly increasing demand from across the ocean, where the different varieties are more highly esteemed than among ourselves. Endeavor is now being made to procure a vessel to carry 150 tons of hard maple from a port in northern Michigan to Liverpool. English capitalists, appreciating the value of our hardwood timber, are investing large sums of money in good forest lands at various points in the Northwest, and locations well timbered with the different varieties of oak, ash, maple and hickory are growing in commercial value each day.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trades Journal of September 4, 1880, furnishes the following item:

Quebec third pine, which forms a large portion of the present season's importations from Canada, is unusually good, and gives evidence of either a better selection of logs in the timber districts where the trees are felled or greater care in the assorting at the mills. Either way, there is no doubt the stuff has come freer from large coarse knots, and is consequently straighter and closer in the grain than we have previously observed in the ordinary run of 3rd quality pine.

The cargoes per the Canada and the Bengal, which consisted almost entirely of the quality named and piled side by side in Alhion Yard, are very fine examples that there is no deterioration in this class of wood.

LIVERPOOL.

Business continues fair, and nearly all descriptions of wood goods maintain their full value, while there is every indication that with a good home trade we shall have a larger inquiry for timber than our present stock and apparent supply, will be able to cope with.

During the past week the arrivals have fallen off considerably, and consequently our timber quays are beginning to present a somewhat quieter appearance, and the merchants' and brokers' yards are being filled with stock held over with the prospect of realizing higher prices than are now obtainable, owing to many consumers not wishing to buy except for their pressing necessities.

Spruce deals, which comprise a large proportion of our imports, are now being quoted by shippers at prices much above our merchants' ideas of value, and consequently they are storing such cargoes as were not already sold, and holding them on their own account.

Pitch Pine.—The prices for all descriptions of pitch pine remain firm, with a hardening tendency, and there is at present but little tonnage offering for the coming shipping season. The arrivals into this port during the month consist of one cargo from Pen sacola, containing 394 logs hewn timber and 623 deals, and two cargoes from Darien, containing 1,097 logs hewn timber, 620 logs sawn timber, and 540 deals

NAILS.—Supplies have been under fair control and this prevented any serious offering or direct pressure to realize. Demand as a whole pretty good, but buyers not very anxious to anticipate their wants, especially at near by points. The export movement continues fair for small parcels, but no very large invoices have of late been placed. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $3.15@3.25; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $3.40@3.50; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $3.65@3.75; 4d and 5d, common, do per keg, $3.90@4.00; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $4.65@4.75; 3d, fine, per keg, $5.40@5.50; 2d, per keg, $5.40@5.50.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $3.40@3.50. Floor casing and box, $3.90@4.65. Finishing, $4.15@4.90.

CLINCH NAILS.

1½ inch, $5.65@5.80; 1¾ inch, $5.40@5.50; 2 inch, $5.15@5.30; 2½ inch, $4.90@5.00; 3 inch and longer, $4.65@4.75.

PAINTS AND OILS.—The distribution of paints and colors has scarcely been as full as calculated upon, but the general inclination is to quote trade fair, and dealers, as a rule, retain faith in the situation. Indeed there has in point of fact, been an increase to the volume of demand, and if all accounts of reduced accumulations in the country be true the movement is most likely to show continued growth. Linseed oil continues in moderate uncertain demand and values quite unsettled. As a general thing, however, the buyer is enabled to secure the advantage in view of ample supplies and considerable competition to realize. We quote at 54@56 per gallon from crushers' hands.

PITCH.—A moderately active market, supply enough for the demand, and steady rates about cover the situation. We quote at $1.85@2 per bbl for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Jobbing sales have not been quite so free, but the cost was well maintained and holders of the stock retain the advantage. On the wholesale market there was a slow, uncertain movement, but nothing to indicate that the cost would be reduced as the bulk of the arrivals are absorbed by speculative operators and not offered. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about $36@37c per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—On all regular outlets the distribution is fair and at former rates, with a generally steady jobbing market. In a wholesale way, however, matters are slow and uncertain but the tendency as a rule appears to be downward. We quote at $2.25@2.75 per bbl for Newherne and Washington, and $2.50@2.75 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

FINANCIAL POINTS OF THE WEEK.

The development of a "bearish" feeling on Wednesday which continues to Friday.

A "break" in Western Union, which affected the whole market.

A weakness in all the "Jay Gould" stocks, so-called because he hasn't got any of them.

Comparative strength of the "grangers," Lake Shore, Delaware and Lackawana as compared with rest of market.

Erie reported to be earning at the rate of twenty million per annum.

Reading weak on report of Receivers?

Advance in the price of Metropolitan bonds; which sold up from par to 103 $\frac{1}{4}$ in face of the "bear" market.

Continued imports of gold, together with excessive imports of foreign goods.

Large shipments of gold and silver to the interior, yet money easy; on call two and a half and three per cent.; on time, five per cent.

Belief that stocks will continue uncertain in value until October 13th, when a Democratic victory in Indiana and Ohio is expected to still further unsettle prices.

Depression in mining securities continuous with no signs of recovery. Comstocks very weak.

The fall in Governments on Thursday was due to a fear in the "street" that we are to have a Democratic administration after the 4th of March.

The break in Iron Mountain and Kansas and Texas was caused by the discovery that large as has been the increase of receipts of the South Western roads, their expenses have been equally large. The construction account on the Iron Mountain, will be found to be very heavy, the road requiring new depots, bridges, culverts, rolling stock and repairs, but the road has a great future.

Queer—all the financial writers of the daily papers but seven days ago were proving that the elevated railroads were worthless as dividend paying properties; but for the last two days they are unanimous in saying the stock and bonds of these roads are a purchase.

LATEST ABOUT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

From authentic sources we gather the following latest information in regard to the intentions of those gentlemen who have the planning and execution of the New York World's Fair in their charge.

FIRST—No official conference has as yet taken place between the Executive Committee and those forming part of the Hilton Committee, Mayor Cooper awaiting the return of certain influential capitalists before calling a regular meeting of conference. Informal expressions of opinion, however, have passed between the Mayor's Committee and capitalists forming part of the Hilton Committee, all of a tendency to satisfy the most sanguine in regard to the great enterprise. Gentlemen like Edward Clarke, Abram S. Hewitt, Chas. L. Tiffany and others, will favor any satisfactory arrangement that may be arrived at for the purpose of consolidating the two committees. It is suggested that William H. Vanderbilt and other railroad magnates will take a personal and pecuniary interest in the project.

SECOND—It is not certain that books of subscription will be opened on November 10. It may just be possible that after the various conflicting views have been crystallized into one sound and comprehensive scheme, that the capitalists directly connected with the enterprise will not go to the general public at all for any money.

THIRD—These capitalists, however, insist that the money when contributed by them shall be under their control. In other words, they demand the control of the method of expenditure.

FOURTH—Those who are the most influential in organizing a sound financial concern are strongly in favor of THE RECORD's idea to select the site for the World's Fair at once, even before the subscription books, should such a course be deemed necessary, are opened. They believe with us in the selection of a site before asking for any money.

FIFTH—These same parties are unanimously of opinion that the World's Fair should be on Manhattan Island, and that, too, on the West Side, below One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

SIXTH—The directors of the Leake & Watts Orphan Asylum will undoubtedly surrender their property for the Fair, in view of the fact that its occupancy will bring a handsome revenue to the institution. It must be borne in mind that this is a quasi municipal corporation, the Mayor of New York being its head, ex-officio, SEVENTH—That the three hundred acres, more or less, lying between One Hundred and Tenth and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth streets, Morningside and Riverside Parks, including those Parks, constitute, in view of the above points, the only proper site for the fair; the remaining two sites being Manhattan Square and adjoining grounds, or the lower end of the Park where the sheep pasture is now located, and that the section named above is all sewered and substantially graded.

EIGHTH—That the objections heretofore made in regard to accessibility for freight have been overcome by the views of competent engineers, who declare that the grade from the north side is not so heavy, but that it will be an easy and quite feasible matter to run freight cars direct to the grounds, and that the grade, from the south side, is almost unappreciable.

NINTH—The Metropolitan Elevated Railway Company has already expressed its willingness to build a depot at Tenth avenue and One Hundred and Tenth street, so as to confront one of the main buildings forming part of the exhibition.

TENTH—Mr. Jacob Wrey Mould, has made complete and very fine designs for the Exhibition at the location indicated, including a ground plan, and also an isometrical projection of the buildings, and a geometrical elevation of the site as it will appear after the buildings are erected. It is believed that his recent selection as supervising landscape architect for the Park Department, with especial reference to the immediate improvement of Morningside and Riverside Parks, indicates that the city officials are actively co-operating in the movement looking to the location of the World's Fair at the place mentioned.

THE RECORD, of course, is not at liberty to divulge the names of those gentlemen from whom the above information has been gleaned. These points, however, prevail uppermost in the minds of those who have official charge of the grand enterprise, which they are determined shall eclipse any of its predecessors in this country or abroad. Coming, as this information does, direct to THE RECORD, from persons who have no speculations to promote, but who are by law authorized to do their very best for the success of the coming World's Fair, we violate no confidence by promulgating their views, which will be embodied in official documents before long. At the same time we are of opinion that we render our readers a signal service, by placing them, even at this early date, in possession of facts of such vast importance to the property owning interest of New York,

THE PRICE OF MONEY.

The abnormally low price of money is a surprise to everyone. Very cheap money usually means stagnant trade. It was the expectation of the capitalist and lending class that towards the end of August the price of money would harden, and that stocks would be a sale. Nine brokers in ten who dealt on 'Change confidently looked for the "slump" in prices which ought to follow the early fall demand for money to meet the requirements of business all over the country. Hence, blocks of stocks were thrown overboard, and the far-seeing speculator confidently waited until the tumble would come.

A partial break occurred after the Maine election; and last Wednesday prices began to recede because the street believes that the October elections will show that a change of administration is imminent. The fall in Governments can be accounted for in no other way. Still the steadiness of prices up to this time is quite unusual in the history in the street, as is also the cheapness of money.

Of course, the only explanation is the gold stream which has been steadily pouring into this country from Europe, and the utilization of our reserves of gold and silver with which to transact the business of the country. We have, of paper money, in circulation, or available therefor, something over seven hundred million, and of gold and silver, either coined or available for coinage, some five hundred and twenty million. In all, we have about twelve hundred and fifty million of currency—paper, silver and gold. But much of this has been inert. We were habituated to the use of paper money, and it was some time before the people could accustom themselves to silver, and finally to gold. We had to learn new habits, but these have been acquired, and now the gold and silver are passing into circulation, and are being utilized in our currency. If Secretary Sherman would only withdraw his one, two and five dollar bills, and would coin quarter, half and full eagles in gold, we would soon see a very large addition to the gold which is passed from hand to hand. This could be done without contraction, for the money so withdrawn from small note circulation could be added to the larger denominations from $20 up.

Will this cheap money last?

No.

It is unnatural. There is danger of a sudden advance in the price of money, and when it comes it may be accompanied by a disturbance in the stock market. It is incredible, that with business so active as it is, with demands for currency coming from every direction, that the price of money can permanently remain in the busy season at less than 3 per cent. We are in danger at any moment of a sudden stoppage of the drain from Europe. Indeed, it is something of a mystery to know what causes this drain. The exchanges do not tell the story. Our imports are enormous, our exports are relatively much less than they were. European money is coming here for investment in our securities, in our lands, and possibly for the construction of new railroads. But this last is an unknown quantity. A few great capitalists on the other side may prevent the investment of monies in American securities, or a foreign war may arise, in which event there would be a gathering in of money from all quarters, and the certain stoppage of any drain of gold or silver from the other side of the Atlantic to this side. Let the operators then bear in mind that there is just this cloud hanging over the market. Any accident which checks the flow of gold will be immediately shown by hardening rates for money in the New York market, and by a temporary fall in stock values. There is abundant reason for believing that stocks, sometime before next spring, will command higher figures than the New York market has ever seen, but that does not prevent occasional set-backs, and the first of these will be seen when the drain of gold from Europe stops, while the demand from the interior upon New York continues. Political considerations will be more or less a cause of disturbance, but after all the stock market will, in the long run, be controlled by the price of money. The set-back of last week shows how easy it is to influence values.

AN ERA OF CHEAP RAW MATERIAL.

There was danger last fall that prices would go so high as to check exports, increase imports, establish a drain of gold to Europe and bring on, within a short time, another panic. Fortunately for the country everything this year conspires to give us cheap raw material. Iron has fallen from the extravagant figures it reached last February to a price which only gives a fair profit on the cost of production. None of the metals are much costlier than they were during the low priced times. There has been some advance over the figures of 1877 in copper, lead, tin and smelter, but not enough to seriously interfere with the manufacture of goods made from the metals. Our cotton crop of last year was 5,700,000 bales. This year it will be over 6,000,000 bales. Whatever may occur next spring or fall there is no hope for high prices in cotton between now and mid-winter. Wheat, it is settled, cannot largely advance, due to the immense surplus this country will have after supplying her own mills and her own consumption, besides exporting all that Europe can possibly need. We shall carry over to next season, no matter what the demand, probably sixty to eighty million bushels of wheat. Corn promises well and the surplus will be so large that we cannot sell it all. We are certain then for a year to come of cheap metals, cheap food and cheap cotton. This will be a basis for cheap production. Had prices kept up, or continued to go up, it would have destroyed the trade in our manufactured goods which were to be sent abroad. This would have been harmful to us, for, as a nation, we cannot afford to do without the commerce of the world. Nations like Russia, Egypt and India, which export large quantities of food, cotton and other raw material, are never rich nations. It is the tool making countries—those who use iron and keep mills and manufactures at work, which draw money from all the rest of the world. Were our country simply to depend upon its agricultural products it could not maintain its place among the commercial nations of the world. We sell our iron for a few cents a pound. That same pound of iron in France is made into a clock which commands from $20 to $30. Men are paid for their taste, for their ingenuity, for their dexterous handiwork, for their ability to create wealth out of the raw products of nature, and any nation which neglects manufactures, which does not apply science and art to the wants of mankind, will never achieve either wealth or distinction. It is the commercial, banking and manufacturing nations which stand at the head of the world. Our progress must finally be in that direction and not in the increased production of food or cotton.

We have the assurance now that all the material which enters into the construction of manufactured articles will be furnished cheap. Labor cannot rise very high, if all it consumes can be supplied at a minimum cost, and hence the most cheering indication of the times is the certainty that prices of raw material are not likely to advance to any high figure, because such an advance would be an immediate check to manufactures and to the business done on our transportation lines. It would act adversely upon us in every possible way.

As there is a disposition to build, ere long, in various streets of the West Side, we advise lot owners generally to at once remove or excavate the rock. Private families will not purchase a house or reside where continued blasting is going on, and this work should be done before the influx to the West Side sets in. Besides, there is just now what may be called "a corner in rock." The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad contractors, who are building the docks, are paying forty cents for a two horse team load of rock, and twenty-five cents for a single load. Poor women and children can now be seen almost every day gathering all the loose rock they can pick up, so that owners of lots bordering on filled up streets have to keep a watchful eye on them. These people take the rock to certain places so as to make a load for parties who sell them to the contractors. It would be better, therefore, to at once clear out the bulk of the rock that must be blasted after all, one of these days, when this operation may be a matter of annoyance and detriment to that section, which it is not to-day.

Private enterprise at all times has had the upper hand of work projected or in contemplation by the government, whether national, state or municipal. It frequently knows how to cut sharply through red tape, in a manner perfectly amazing to those public servants who are paid by the people for doing this identical work. An instance of this came to our notice a day or two ago, when we were informed that

Mr. Cossitt and other lot owners in Seventy-fourth street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, had made up their minds to grade that street immediately, and also to put a sewer in the street. This course will bring at once several lots in the market, and without delay give value to land heretofore unproductive and almost unknown. A little more of such public spirited work on the part of lot owners, would not only bring municipal officials to their senses, but encourage a spirit of enterprise very much needed on the West Side.

A QUESTION FOR THE PARK COMMISSIONERS.

Are the Park Commissioners aware that Chapter 697 of the Laws of 1867 contains the following section :

"And all parts of any public street, avenue, road or public square, and place within the distance of three hundred and fifty feet from the outer boundaries of the Central Park or place, and all others laid out as aforesaid, shall at all times, after the opening of the same, be subject to such rules and regulations in respect to the uses thereof and projections thereon as the said Board of Commissioners of Central Park may make therefor."

If this law has any meaning at all, the Park Department has the right to remove the obnoxious dance houses, lager bier saloons, shanties, etc., that abound along Eighth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, within three hundred feet of the Park. These resorts all along the avenue, from Fifty-ninth street upward, are an obstacle to improvement, now uppermost in the minds of lot owners. The question is also worth debating, whether under said law the Park Commissioners have not the right to remove the Eighth Avenue Railroad tracks along the Central Park. Mr. George Law at one time showed a disposition to remove them to the Ninth Avenue, and as he is rather slow in carrying out his good intentions, would it not be well for the Commissioners, backed as they are by the above law, to give him a helping hand and hasten the removal of the tracks from that avenue?

It is refreshing, in these days of municipal irresponsibility, to listen to the praises heaped upon the new Inspector of Buildings by various property owners and builders. It is true, Mr. Esterbrook's broom is as yet new, but the vigor with which he handles it shows not only that he means to control his bureau in accordance with law, but that he intends to make good auxiliary use of the excellent Fire Department whenever occasion calls for it. His action in tearing down the Tone stable in One Hundred and Thirteenth street, near Morningside Park, after all legal means had been exhausted to cause its removal by the proprietor himself, gives heart and hope to numerous West Side owners who have for years endeavored in vain to rid that section of the city of shanties and other objectionable structures. They have all along known that the law is on their side, but not until now have they found an official who dares to enforce that law when called upon, and who is disposed to call to his aid any adequate force from the Fire Department to carry out the mandates of our courts.

REVIVING OLD SCHEMES.

It is curious to notice that everyone of the old railway schemes which were interfered with by the panic of 1873, are again coming to the front. That panic was an apparent death-blow to many very promising railway programmes. Ingenuous and practical men all over the country had marked out certain lines, which, in their opinion, were likely to prove profitable if once constructed. In the inflated times, from 1868 to 1871, they succeeded in having roads surveyed, partially graded and built, but the competition for money became too great, and after 1873 it was impossible to raise any money for new and daring ventures. But the last two years has seen a remarkable revival, not only in railway building in connection with the branches to the old roads, but in the resuscitation of nearly all the schemes which seemed to be so effectually killed by the panic of 1873. It is a pity that these various proposed new roads and extensions could not be submitted to some National Board of Engineers to pass upon their merit and value to the country. In the haphazard way in which we are proceeding, there will be thousands of miles of roads built which will be mere surplusage, which are not needed to perfect the railway system of the country. In France, a line cannot be built without an authorization from the government. We do not believe in such paternal care in this country, and we suffer for it by an unnecessary waste of capital. There is not a great capitalist in New York, Boston or Philadelphia, to-day, who is not being opportuned by railway promoters from all parts of the country. Large as is the quantity of unused wealth, it would be entirely insufficient to supply capital for even meritorious enterprises which are being pressed upon their attention. We look for another period of excitement in railway building. It is impossible, to-day, to supply any large order for steel or iron rails before next summer. The whole iron interest is hard at work producing materials for the building of roads. It is really a public misfortune to have so much of our active capital changed into fixed capital by the building of railroads. "We cannot eat our cake and have it too," and we cannot spend our money in railways and have it for other more productive products, for, after all, while the railway increases the value of land and utilizes crops, it really adds nothing to the permanent wealth of the country. That is to say—it does not produce. It merely exchanges commodities. If all the wealth of the world comes from labor and land, the construction of new railroads is not new wealth. We must expect the rate of interest to steadily rise while this process of railway building is going on. There is no probability that money will be as cheap in 1881 as it has been in the fall of 1880.

UNION OF THE MINING BOARDS.

It seems to be settled that in the not distant future that the two mining boards will consolidate. The American Board has not achieved the success which its friends hoped it would. It had not the relations with the regular Stock Board which the old Board had, and then it commenced at a time when mining was under a cloud. Had there been a revival on the Comstock; had Leadville properties fulfilled early expectations; had other Colorado prospects turned out well, it is possible that the American Board might have beaten its rival. But the old Board adopted the wise policy of dealing in good stocks, or at least in respectable properties, before the new Board went into operation. It did not wait for stocks to be listed but it allowed its members to deal in the shares of any mining enterprise, the stock of which was in the market for purchase or sale. So instead of dealing in Moose, Buckeye and Findley, and similar trash, the brokers of the old Board turned their attention to stocks which had some real merit, and this enabled it to transact far more business than their new and formidable rival. But the cloud which has come over the mining interest has made it obvious that the two Boards must be united. The regular Stock Exchange, when its new building is completed, will have a room set apart for dealers in mining shares. The regular Stock Board should not deal in this class of properties. It is awkward for the buyers and sellers of railway securities when their customers send in an order for mining stocks. The latter cannot be carried on margins, and it is difficult to explain this to the ordinary investor. He does not want to pay down all his money for any stock, and hence accounts become mixed. So, for some time past, the regular brokers, when they get an order, send it to the New York Board to be filled, making a separate account to their customers. It is this that has given an advantage to the New York Board over the American Board. The former has the patronage of the members of the regular Stock Exchange.

As to the consolidation, it is believed that it will be done under the very valuable charter of the American Board. This charter was passed during the Tweed Ring times, and confers very great authority upon the Exchange which owns it. Indeed, it might be made the nucleus in time of a rival to the regular Stock Exchange, and it is this consideration which will in time induce the regular Stock Exchange to control the American Mining Board so as to prevent any effective opposition to the monopoly they now hold. It is not impossible that before the year is over the American and New York Boards will be consolidated, and the regular Stock Exchange will agree not to call any mining shares in their board, but will transfer the business to the reconstituted Mining Board, under a promise that the latter shall never deal in the securities now on the regular list of the Stock Exchange.

Boston has opened a regular Mining Board. That city has been for many years more largely interested in mines than any other in the country.

That is, in metal mines; other than those which produce bullion. Boston is especially famous for her skill in working copper mines. In view of the small number of stocks dealt in on the regular Boston Board we cannot see what that city wants of an exclusive Mining Board. It may be that the regular brokers will not give this important matter special attention, and perhaps it is just as well to have a Board to attend to this important industry, which requires undivided attention if shares are to be bought intelligently. Philadelphia is now the only city in the Union without an exclusive Mining Board.

NEW YORK AS A FINANCIAL CENTRE.

For many years past the leading New York papers have claimed that the American metropolis was destined to become the financial centre of the world. There really was nothing on which to base this claim until within the past two years. London was and is, and is likely to remain for some time the great banking house of the world. We permit London, to-day, to fix the price of silver, a metal Great Britain does not produce, while one-half of the world's supply of which comes from this country. London determines the price of our cotton, wheat, and even the rates for money. There must be larger accumulations of capital in this country before we can expect to compete with London. Whenever we are able to take a great foreign loan, we may then aspire to be a leading financial centre. The following article, from the New York Commercial Bulletin, presents facts and considerations which show the growing importance of the American metropolis. It is well worthy of a perusal:

Certain unusual facts, connected with financial movements in this city, can hardly have failed to arrest the attention of intelligent observers. Until the panic of 1873, New York was absolutely subject to the control of the London money market. The Bank of England could control our exchanges at its pleasure. When it wanted gold, it could generally get it from us within two or three weeks of making the effort; and, in this way, our money market was constantly at its mercy. London held a great mass of our securities, which it could precipitate upon us at pleasure through a cablegram. If we wanted to build a railroad, we had to go to Lombard street for the means; or, when the money market became stringent, we had to draw bills on London to get relief, pledging collaterals with the local agents of the London bankers.

For the six years following the panic, this dependence was naturally less apparent. We suspended railroad construction, and therefore had no occasion to borrow for such purposes. The utter prostration of business caused such a contraction of the home consumption of commodities that our imports were reduced by one-third to one-half, while our exports of surplus products were largely augmented; the result being that, to settle a large continuous trade balance in our favor, a few hundred millions of securities held in England and on the Continent were returned to us.

Pending these conditions, New York was but little dependent upon London. When, however, with the resumption of specie payments and a general revival of business, there was a return towards normal relations with foreign countries, it might have been expected that the old position of dependence on Europe would begin to appear again. Most people would have reasoned that to put our whole stock of gold within reach of foreign countries and simultaneously increase our imports some 40 per cent. would have been equivalent to inviting a large export of specie, and producing an embarrassing stringency in the money market; and in that way not a few did reason, with much and loud protestation.

But what have been the facts? Within the last nineteen months we have increased our imports of merchandise by $252,000,000, and, instead of making during that time a net export of about $85,000,000 of specie, according to our usage, we made a net import of $69,000,000, which made an adverse difference of $154,000,000 in the supplies of Europe, as compared with the normal movement, and has caused a decrease of $35,000,000 in the coin of the Bank of England and of $40,000,000 in that of the Bank of France. It is easily explained that this movement is mainly due to the unprecedented supplies of breadstuffs sent from this country to compensate for the extraordinary deficiencies of European harvests, and that a drain from such necessities was of a kind to overbear mere financial conveniences and defy resistance from the foreign banks. But, nevertheless, it must be admitted that the ability of New York to accumulate such large amounts of specie, at the expense of London and Paris, is beyond all precedent, if not inconsistent with the relation of dependence we have hitherto borne towards Europe, and that the fact of this acquisition gives us an important vantage ground in our future relations with foreign centres.

The liquidation of a large proportion of our foreign indebtedness within late years has a very direct tendency to diminish our subjection to the convenience of foreign money centres. Not only has the amount of securities returnable been diminished, but it is a fair presumption that those sent home were of a kind least esteemed abroad and that, consequently, those remaining will be held with more tenacity and be less subject to return in periods of pressure. In any event, as the dependence of the debtor is proportioned to the degree of his indebtedness, it follows that the extinction of say one-third to one-half of our debt to foreign countries, effected within late years, has been attended with a proportionate abatement of our subjection to the convenience of London and the Continental centres.

That a change of this kind has occurred and is still in progress, is very significantly evidenced by other conspicuous facts. We have almost ceased to borrow for corporate undertakings in London and Paris; although American credit, as tested by the prices of our Federal and corporate securities, was never so high there as it is to-day. We are building perhaps more railroad now than at the most excited period of the great railroad inflation. Schemes that broke down in 1873 are now being pushed to completion and many new ones are being vigorously prosecuted; and yet, for all this work, scarcely a dollar of capital has been asked in London, or Paris, or Frankfurt. The money is raised at home, at comparatively low rates of interest, and with an absence of effort or display that suggests the wonder where all the capital comes from. One of the most remarkable facts, however, is that our bankers are feeling justified in co-operating in the negotiation of loans for foreign enterprises. A few months ago, a loan to the City of Quebec was placed in this city. Now, we are informed that an American banking firm in London and their associate house in this city are embraced in the syndicate for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway; and it has come to our knowledge that three prominent New York banking houses are co-operating with Paris capitalists to support the canal scheme of M. Lesseps, which, though asking at present for only $100,000,000, is likely to require two or three times that amount for its ultimate completion. These facts—taken in connection with the further one that, within the last few months very large amounts of new capital have been put into the industrial plant of the country,—justify the conclusion that the concentration of financial power at this centre has risen to a magnitude which must establish a relation between New York and European centres, very different from that of absolute dependence which has hitherto existed. It is a standing prediction that New York is to become the financial centre of the world. We are far from having reached that proud pre-eminence yet; but one of the first steps toward it is escape from subjection to other centres and ability to lend to other countries; and toward that stage we appear, in view of the foregoing facts, to be taking very rapid strides. The remarkable thing is that these encouraging symptoms should appear immediately after our recovery from the severest commercial depression in the history of the nation.

THE "STREET" AND THE STOCK MARKET.

"What is the matter with the market? Why have prices fallen?" asked the writer of a well known conservative operator.

"Oh, we must have fluctuations," he answered. "Matters have been so dull in the street, that brokers were not earning their salt. You have got to keep prices bobbing up and down, or else shut up shop. There is one house on Broadway whose expenses are $300 a day. They, and all the active brokers, are losing money to-day, owing to the paucity of orders."

"But who is selling the market?"

"Gould certainly is, and the report to-day was that Jim Keene had turned Bear. But then the whole tone of the active men in the long-room is bearish. All the speculative brokers are sellers for the moment."

"Has the bear side scored any successes this season so far?"

"No, they have lost heavily. They made a drive at St. Paul in midsummer, which hurt them badly, but they are all possessed with the idea that the market must go down, before it goes up. Hence the repeated attempts to hammer it; none of which have had any marked success."

"Has Gould been a seller all along?"

"The wisest men on the street believe he has been 'feeding' the market for a year past. His stocks cost him very little, and he could afford to sell them even if their intrinsic value was greater than the price at which he disposed of them. It is odd that the so-called 'Gould stocks,' are those which he now does not own."

"The break is not caused by dear money, or a prospect of it?"

"Oh dear, no, you can get all the money you want, for less than three per cent. on call, and there is abundance of money to be had on five month time loans at five per cent. A bear market means easy money. It is a bull market that makes a demand for money, for carrying stocks."

"There is no falling off in the business of the roads?"

"No, a large increase—I bought Lake Shore at 108¼ on Tuesday afternoon, upon the assurance of a director that the business of the preceeding week showed that road to be earning at the rate of thirteen per cent. per annum. Every point it reaches I shall buy more. Western Union, which just now is under a cloud, is doing a greater business than ever before. Then the business of the Grangers was never so large."

"You do not look for any decline further along?"

"What is there to make a fall in stock values? There is no less money in the country. Trade is prosperous, emigration large, our exports and import movements are heavy, our crops superabundant, and the railroad cutting does not amount to much. Sometime between now and the first of February, stocks of good dividend paying properties will command the highest figures known to the stock market."

SOMETHING ABOUT MINES.

THE HARSHAW.

The stock of this company is held mainly in Boston, and we must warn the shareholders that the price of the stock is altogether too high, even the gentlemen who are instrumental in placing this property do not believe it is worth any such figures as are now asked for it. The mine is a good one if honestly and intelligently managed, but it is not a bonanza. We should be better satisfied to see the price of Harshaw in the neighborhood of eight or ten than at the figure which it was last quoted at in Boston.

THE STORMONT.

This property gives a good bullion returns, and there has been some advance in its price. It is, we believe, listed upon the regular Stock Exchange, but not called. It has been selling for $3.80 to $4 on the American Mining Board. We cannot advise anyone to purchase this stock. The New York company who bought it made serious mistakes. Although composed of some of the best business men in New York and Philadelphia, they found themselves saddled with a debt of some forty thousand dollars after they had supposed they had secured the property clear. The disappointment was so great that President Bar nard, of Columbia College, resigned the presidency of the company, and Mr. Palmer, of the Broadway Bank, was very sorry, so it is reported, that he accepted the position of treasurer. It is rumored that Mr. Rolker, recently appointed manager of the Chrysolite, resigned his position in the Stormont because the management wished him to "gut" the mine; that is to say, they wished him to increase the output of ore at the expense of the development, so as to make a good showing and help sell the stock on the New York market. We judge the Silver Reef formation is a treacherous one. The "Leeds" played out some time since; the Barbee and Walter is, we judge, paying heavier dividends than it can afford, and, as for the Stormont, we doubt whether it will command as good figures in May 1881 as it does in September 1880.

THE CHRYSOLITE.

The Tribune allows a Leadville correspondent to "bear" this stock, but inside reports say that it may yet turn out all right. The Chrysolite has a great deal of territory, much of it unprospected. It has taken out very rich ore; its debt has been paid and some very shrewd business men have a great deal of confidence in its future. Still the fate of Little Pittsburg, Little Chief and other Leadville properties are not reassuring. The ore bodies are easily exhausted, though rich, and when once the price goes down there does not seem to be any recovery.

LITTLE PITTSBURG.

It looked, recently, as if this property might again come to the front as a dividend payer. The stock was dealt in as if the inside manipulators did not want it to advance. There was at least two developments which seemed to promise the opening of important ore bodies, but the latest inside news from the mine is that matters at best are dubious. There is much unexplored territory as yet, but there is nothing now in the mine to warrant the price it commands on the Stock Exchange.

GOLDEN TERRA—DEADWOOD.

These two Black Hills mines have been consolidated and re-organized under the laws of the State of New York. The new company is called "The Deadwood Terra." It will be remembered that the Golden Terra lost a part of its ground—the Gopher claim—in the legal contest with Archie Borland. The consolidation gives sixty-four stamps to the united company; and regular dividends of twenty-five cents a share are now assured for many years to come. The ground of the new company is quite as good as that of the Homestake, and the grade of ore somewhat higher.

FATHER DE SMET.

This stock sells low, but the mine is a splendid one, and will pay handsome dividends if honestly managed. There is reason for believing that it has not been honestly managed. Should this mine get into the hands of Haggin, the stock would soon sell for $25, and would be worth it; but, while Archie Borland controls that property, it can have little or no market value.

BULL DOMINGO.

Some weakness was shown in the sales of this stock during the past week; but it is strongly held, and the insiders claim that it will commence paying dividends in January if not in December. It has 6,000 tons of ore on the dump, with concentrators all in working order; and the mine is paying not only its working expenses, but all the improvements in the way of concentrators and buildings and a railway to the valley. There are some strong names in the direction; among them Mr. Barnum, the ex senator, who is an excellent business man and who has great faith in the mine.

HUKILL.

It is understood that the debt on this mine has been cleared off, and that there is a large reserve in sight; the mine has been admirably opened in true Comstock style. It is evidently an enduring mine. The writer of this notice inspected the mine about two years since and was impressed with the extent of the ore body and the evident permanency of the formation. A property could not be better located. South Clear Creek runs right through the property, furnishing all the water needed for mill power, winter and summer, while on the banks of the stream runs the railroad from Denver to Georgetown. It is within half a mile of Idaho Springs, a charming summer resort. Nothing but the grossest mismanagement or dishonesty stands in the way of the future of this mine. Some of the managers are old Comstock operators, a fact which is not in its favor.

THE LITTLE CHIEF.

Mr. George Daly, ex-manager of the Little Chief, figures very largely just now in the Leadville newspapers. The officers of the Little Chief dismissed Daly from his position after having sent him to "gut" the mine. Mr. George Daly has a history. Many years since he was a reporter on a San Francisco journal—he is a ready writer, glib tongued and, like all reporters, has the faculty of easily mastering the technique of any profession he was interested in. When "Jim" Keene was an operator on the Comstock, he employed Daly to give him points from Virginia City. Subsequently Daly emigrated to Bodie, where he became superintendant of the Mono mine and subsequently of the Jupiter mine. He was at the same time superintendent of the Real del Monte mine, at Aurora. He got into trouble with the workmen, on account of a shooting affair at the Jupiter mine, and was ordered to leave Bodie, which he did, the citizens of that place not caring to take his side against the miners union. While in Bodie, Daly was very active in helping on the "boom" in that stock during June and July of 1879. He was the author of many extravagant and misleading letters and telegrams to people in this city. The directors of the Bodie mine removed him from the superintendency, on the ground that he had not been faithful to their interests. Daly then came on East, where his brightness, intelligence and readiness commended him to the leading mining operators, and he was sent to Colorado where his peculiar personal qualities immediately got him important positions. His name was constantly figuring in the papers. From an interview recently published, Daly admits that he was under instructions to make a large output of Little Chief ore, in order to help pay dividends and keep up the price of the stock. He even helped to earn money enough on the 9th of August, instead of the regular dividend day, so as to benefit one of the promoters of the Little Chief mine, whose contract entitled him to half the dividends declared before August 10th. The letters published by Daly show conclusively that certain of the officers of the Little Chief were willing to sacrifice the mine as a permanent property in order to pay large dividends so as to keep up the market price of the stock. The whole history of mining shows the incompatibility of its pursuit as a legitimate business in connection with dealings in the Stock Exchange.

We desire to direct the attention of investors and other buyers of securities to the card, in another column, of Messrs. Gregory & Ballou, bankers and stock brokers, at the corner of New and Wall streets. This firm has held its own for years, regardless of panics and financial storms, and passed safely through all of them. The partners are men of integrity and sound judgment, well worthy of the confidence of our readers.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

There was a better attendance at the Real Estate Exchange during the week, but offerings were few and unimportant. The Salesroom is now daily visited, not only by up-town dealers, but by builders on the lookout for eligible lots, and, in the absence of attractive auction sales, quite a number of negotiations are there set on foot, and also frequently consummated. The sale of valuable Twenty-third street property was adjourned by Mr. Harnett to October 20th. The same auctioneer sold, on Thursday, about six lots on a new avenue (which is 200 feet east of Ninth avenue), corner of One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, for $8,600.

Mr. Jacob Cole, of Brooklyn, sold at auction during the past week, about seventy-five lots, forming part of the Lefferts Estate. The aggregate amount realized at the sale was $33,900, the purchaser being Mr. J. D. Lynch. Three lots on the northwest corner of Clinton and Amity street, were sold under foreclosure during the week for $12,000.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

Contrary to expectation a firmer tone prevailed in the real estate market during the past week, and several brokers have closed contracts for vacant, as well as improved property, that are as yet withheld from public view at the request of purchasers. Two of these contracts amount to no less than $150,000 each, and are for property in such desirable localities that investors are looking for more of the same sort. There continues to be an absence, however, of all speculation, which, it is now generally admitted, will not set in before the close of the year.

Mr. M. A. J. Lynch has sold twenty-six lots on Lexington avenue, east side, One Hundred and Second and One Hundred and Third streets, for $91,000; also, three lots on Seventy-seventh street opposite Manhattan square, 275 feet west of Eighth avenue, for $33,000.

Mr. Edward Clarke has secured the northeast corner of Eighty-fifth street and Ninth avenue for $8,000, thus giving him once more possession of another entire block, with the exception of two lots on the Ninth avenue, which belong to an estate and cannot be secured except at partition sale. It has not, as yet, been decided whether Mr. Clarke will erect on this newly acquired block another apartment house or build houses there like those owned by him on Seventy-third street.

A sale of eight lots on Fifty-ninth street and Park avenue, for $81,000, is reported to us at too late an hour to verify its correctness.

Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co. have sold, at private contract, No. 81 Catharine street, four-story brick store, 25x94, lot 107, for $20,000; also No. 127 West Forty-first street, between Sixth avenue and Broadway, a three-story brick dwelling, 20x84, lot 98 9, for $15,500.

Messrs. Morris B. Baer & Co. have sold during the past few days, at private contract, six houses on Lexington avenue, forming the southeast corner of Seventy-third street, for $108,000; four houses, Nos. 434 to 440 West Fortieth street, for $18,000; No. 26 West Fifty-sixth street, for $37,000; No. 34 West Forty-sixth street, for $25,300; No. 31 West Ninth street, for $15,000; one vacant lot on the east side of Seventh avenue, 100 feet north of One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, for $1,600.

Messrs. Benner & Zeller have sold, on the north side of One Hundred and Fifth street, 220 feet east of Second avenue, a vacant lot, 20x100, to Mr. George Ling, for $1,800; also on the north side of One Hundred and Twenty-third street, 300 feet west of First avenue, 100x100, containing a frame house, for $19,000, to Charles Fenton.

V. K. Stevenson, Jr., has sold the four-story brown stone house, No. 13 East Sixty-fourth street, for $43,350.

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, it is again asserted that Mr. Vanderbilt's agents are negotiating for the site of the unfortunate Manhattan Market, recently destroyed by fire, on the basis of $70,000 for the entire property.

Negotiations are pending for the sale, to private investors, of several parcels in the dry goods district, notably along White and Worth streets. The clothing trade extending more and more northward, along the line of Broadway beyond Canal street, has created increased inquiry for property in the cross streets even beyond Broome street.

Those desirous of purchasing a first class house, will please carefully read the advertisement of E. H. Ludlow & Co. in another column, where several excellent houses are offered at reasonable figures.

The appointment of Jacob Wrey Mould, as landscape architect for Morningside Park, gives general satisfaction to West Side owners, who were about to institute proceedings compelling the Park Commissioners to obey the provisions of the law calling for the improvement of said Park within three months after the passage of the act.

The Department of Public Works promises, at last, to bring to completion the pavement in Ninth avenue, from Seventy-second to Seventy-fourth street, which has been so long neglected, and the contractor has been ordered to go ahead with his work without delay. The difficulty was that the contract was taken too cheap, and while the stone was secured at reasonable prices the freight from Maine and New Hampshire continued very high during the summer months, all the boats being engaged in the transportation of ice from those sections. Now, however, they are more readily disposed to transport stone at reasonable prices.

A typographical error in our list of projected buildings last week made us say that the cost of the large schoolhouse, about being constructed on Fiftieth street was $8,500. Of course it should have read $80,500. Messrs. E. D. Connolly & Sons, who also have charge of the erection of the Cardinal's residence, are the builders of this schoolhouse.

In a conversation had the other day with Mr. Vandenburg, who has disposed of his franchise to the Underground Railroad Company, that gentleman stated that work will be begun this fall on Murray Hill, Madison avenue and along the line of upper Broadway between Forty-second and Fifty-ninth streets. Other parts of Broadway will not be touched this year. Murray Hill being all rock, they will build there a tunnel lined with brick, and the ordinary traffic will but slightly be interfered with. When Broadway is reached planking will be procured so as to prevent interruption of travel. It is understood that Messrs. Rutan & Farron are the contractors for this part of the work.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—In all general features the market for common Hards remains much the same as last noted. Buyers are not calling for supplies with anxiety or even positive freedom, but still the demand shows very fair and quite steady animation, with results to be found in a full aggregate of business from day to day and but little surplus to carry over. Indeed, of the really good and serviceable stock, and the favorite brands, receivers do not get as much as they could handle to advantage, and orders are frequently booked ahead of arrival. As a natural sequence to the condition of business, values find support, with some tendency to harden gradually, though the buoyancy as yet is not decided in view of the close margin on which many buyers find it necessary to work. Indeed, this close figuring still tends to give "Up-river" stock a slight preference, as the lower average cost counts a great way on many of the larger contracts, and the season has been such that quality is showing in quite attractive form. Sellers are steady in their views but not exacting, as the evident policy is to preserve an open market as long as possible for stock which, in the ordinary course of events, is the first to feel the close of navigation and the latest to be benefited by the re-opening of the rivers. It may be somewhat early to think about the closing of the means of communicating with the yards by water, but many look for an early winter, and, as the product has been large, there is a great many brick to be sold. Prices are a shade better, at say $4.50@4.75, with choice at $4.87½. Haverstraws continue to be quoted on the general range at $5.00@5.50 per M, and are meeting with a very good sale. Some doubt is expressed about a general stoppage of work on the 2d prox, and the condition of the weather will probably prove an important factor in the movement. Pale bricks of choice quality worth $3.00@3.25 per M, with a fair average demand. Fronts are generally quite firm, and selling very well.

LATH.—Receivers continue in a strong and confident mood over the outlook, and very generally predict a well sustained and probably higher market as the season progresses. Lath are selling relatively much below the rates current on timber and lumber, with every prospect that there will be a proportionately moderate supply, and there is no reason to believe that consumption will slacken. On the contrary, the work under way if completed, and there is no reason to expect that it will not be, must require a large amount of stock, against which dealers have only a small accumulation in hand, and the movements indicate a growing desire to purchase in preparation for coming requirements. Up to the present writing we hear of no sales in excess of $1.87½, but a higher figure is asked on parcels to arrive, and the offering is moderate.

LIME.—Business continues good, and exhausts about all the fresh arrivals as soon as they become available, with some disposition among buyers to anticipate the future. Receivers tell us they have constant calls for parcels to arrive, and are placing everything they can offer, without much difficulty, and at full rates, an advance having been made on recent operations of 10c. per bbl. for both Eastern and State.

HARDWARE.—The distribution of supplies goes on in an encouraging manner, and the general market has an appearance of life and animation of quite a cheerful character. New points in the interior are daily represented, and the invoices made up are full, with buyers operating quickly, in order to secure transportation before charges are advanced. On prices the tone is generally quite firm, and well supported, and manufacturers in pretty much all cases adhere closely to the regular lists. The Wilcox Manufacturing Company, have advanced list prices of Brass Padlocks, to $6.50 for No. 112; $7.00 for No. 113, and $8.50 for No. 114. The manufacturers of Cordage have issued the following revised list under date of September 21: Manila cordage, sizes above 12 threads and hay and hide ropes, 13c; Manila do, 12 thread (¾-inch diameter), 13½c; Manila do, 6 thread and 9 thread (¾-inch and 5 16-inch diameter), 14c; do cordage, 10lt rope yarns, 14½c; do cordage, bolt rope yarns, 6 thread and 9 thread, 15½c; do whale lines, 13½c; tarred Manila, 12½c; fine tarred Manila latb yarn, 14c; sisal rope, sizes above 12 thread and hay and hide rope, 10½c; do, 12 thread (¾ in diameter), 11c; do, 6 thread and 9 thread (¾-inch and 5-16 in diameter), 11½c; tarred Sisal lath yard, 10c; Russia hemp tarred cordage, 12½c.

LUMBER.—Something in the way of a standing off policy continues noticeable among a few buyers, but the number is becoming less and less every day, and as a result there is just so much addition to the demand. Indeed, as near as can be ascertained, the great majority of buyers who must get stock, be it more or less, through to this point before the close of navigation are now interested, and agents for both interior and coastwise supplies are busy with negotiations. There does not, however, appear to be any great stimulus to value, and with one or two exceptions the former full rates are evidently the best to be depended upon. At some of the yards is to be noticed only a small and broken assortment, considering the season of the year, but dealers say, they have supplies coming forward, and will be stacked up in good time, and in proper shape. Some of the features of the export trade are more encouraging, and a larger distribution to this outlet is hoped for.

Spruce does not have many bad words uttered about it at present, so far as the selling interest is concerned, as the market retains pretty much all the previously noted features. The supply has increased somewhat, but does not make any surplus, and many sellers claim that they could sell even more if it were within reach. Naturally this tends to sustain values, and the tone may be considered firm, on anything attractive, either through open market sale, or on contract. It would have to be a pretty poor cargo to sell below $17.00, while on specials of extra difficulty dimension $22.00 is still asked.

White Pine has the support of strong accounts from the interior, and a pretty thorough control of most desirable parcels known to be waiting for a market. The demand, however, is not by any means active, or general enough to lead to buoyancy, and sellers are as a rule willing to negotiate on a basis of about former figures. There has been a little more doing for export of late. We quote $17@19 per M. for West India shipping boards; $23@24 for South American do; $15.50@16.50 for box boards; $17@17.50 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine has sold to some extent on contract for winter delivery, partly to go into consumption for building purposes and partly to be used in the manufacture of railway cars. There is also continued sale for cargoes to be shipped direct from the South to foreign ports, and all at full rates. There is, however, not much demand for random, and offerings draw only very low bids. We quote random cargoes at about $24@25 per M.; ordered cargoes, $24@26 do.; green flooring boards, $25@26 do.; and dry do. do. $25@27. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $20@21 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods meet with about an average demand, but show very little genuine animation unless the offering is extra fine and attractive in quality. Valuations remain as before. Supplies increase very slowly. We quote at wholesale rates by carload about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. cills, $18@20 do. cherry, $45@47 do.; white wood, ½ and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do., for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Yard dealers are doing a good business in regular descriptions of stock, and securing full former rates on pretty much all grades.

A meeting of receivers and carriers of Southern pine lumber was held in the directors' room of the Maritime Association, Tuesday afternoon, to discuss the subject of adopting uniform and equitable rules and regulations to govern that interest. Mr. T. P. Ball occupied the chair. It was stated that differences existed between the shippers and receivers of the lumber as to what constituted the port of New York and how many days a ship should allow the consignee to receive cargo without demurrage. Hereafter there has been a tacit understanding that three days should be allowed for unloading, but this rule was not found to work well when there were say three different consignees. The first one would get off his portion of the cargo in good time, and the others would then have to pay the demurrage between them. Another point to be determined was, whether a vessel should be obliged to remove from one point in the harbor to another for the convenience of the consignee, and the question then was who shall have power to berth the ship. After some debate, it was resolved to appoint a committee of five to take the whole matter into consideration and report at a future meeting. The following were named as the committee: Geo. H. Southard and Isaac Eppinger, for the receivers of lumber; W. W. Miller and W. H. Van Brunt, for the carriers; and S. Gilderleeve for both carriers and receivers. It is supposed that the committee will report some time during the coming week.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES. STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending September 21, is reported by the Argus as follows:

With the exception of Spruce and Hemlock there has seldom been a better assortment of lumber than is now held in the district. Buyers can purchase to advantage all kinds and grades of Michigan and Canada Pine, also Hardwoods. There is still a scarcity of Spruce and Hemlock lumber, and large orders keep coming in, which cannot be filled until there is water to float the logs to the Northern mills. Under any circumstances prices of Coarse lumber will remain firm for the balance of the season, on account not only of the large sales ahead and the present large demand, with but little time for sawing when heavy rains do raise the streams.

One or two large sales of common grades of Pine are noted; one sale of a million of feet was reported made yesterday to a prominent buyer, who had purchased largely the week before. Otherwise the market for Pine lumber has been quiet since our last report. The retail yards in New York, Brooklyn, etc., are reported to be in light stock; this market will be found in the best shape to meet any demand. The receipts, compared with what was coming forward a year ago, have fallen off, still the aggregate excess over 1879 is large.

At Saginaw the usual activity and firmness has characterized the market during the past week; among other sales, the following round lots of 2,000,000 feet at $7.50, $15 and $35; 2,000,000 feet on p. t., and various small lots at the extreme prices at $8.50, $17 and $38; the outlook for an active fall trade is stated to be excellent.

The receipts of lumber by lake at Buffalo for the week are 5,994,000 feet; by rail, 111 cars. At Oswego, 6,646,000 feet.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to September 15th were :

Lds & Sctg. ft. Shingles, M. Timber, c.f. Staves, D
1879 ..	20,237,700	7,298
1880 ..	258,800,600	2,663	5,400 257,000

Freights from Bay City to Buffalo and Tonawanda, $2.25 M. feet; from Saginaw, $2.37. From Buffalo to Albany $2.50; from Tonawanda to Albany, $2.40 M. feet. Lake Ontario freights from Port Hope to Oswego, $1.25 M. feet, from Toronto to Oswego, $1.50, and from Oswego to Albany, $2.00. From Ottawa to Albany $4.00 M. feet.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette,

Bay City.

There is no change worthy of note in the market on the river, prices remaining firm and sales being readily made at going rates. Present indications point to a good fall trade, extensive sales having been made during the past week, and the general tenor of advices being that the demand will continue unabated during the season.

The following is the weekly review of the situation by the Northwestern Lumberman:

The present status of the lumber trade throughout the entire country is fully as satisfactory, so far as consumptive demand and remunerative prices can make it, as could be desired by the most sanguine operator.

Albany reports a good attendance of purchasers, with increasing mail orders and an active trade, for a continuance of which through the fall the indications are highly favorable. The advance in rates in Chicago and at other Western points, has had the effect to stiffen this and other eastern markets. Advanced prices are looked for on uppers and intermediate grades above common. Coarse lumber is sold as fast as it arrives, and large parcels are reported as sold ahead, sufficient to keep the northern canals busy for the rest of the season, if the mills which supply it had a stage of water which would enable them to cut the stock.

Throughout the East we can learn of no let up to the drought which has for so long a period prevented the mills from running, as well as from obtaining stock. Eastern pine and spruce are therefore in short supply, with advancing prices upon an increasing demand. In all parts of the East the better grades of western white pine are said to be scarce as is true of the same grades in the West. Canadian trade is reported brisk, with but limited stocks to be offered, the demand having already taken the manufactured stock, together with large contracts for stock yet to be sawed. In timber but little of a good quality is now offered in Quebec market and prices have advanced. Turning toward the western markets we find at Buffalo a market firm and active. At Tonawanda, after a month of comparative inactivity, September brings a lively trade, with rich promises for the rest of the year. Prices of better grades are advancing, while everything is picked up as soon as offered. Pennsylvania and Delaware as well as the New England states, are increasing their trade with this point. Toledo has an advance in quotations, with a difficulty in obtaining the requisite cars for promptly filling orders. At Detroit the dealers are casting about to secure winter's stock, and regretting that they had not held their dry stock for better prices.

Saginaw shows no let up in her firm demand for remunerative prices, and good stocks still fetch outside figures, with offerings more limited than buyers. Logging operations have commenced upon a scale never exceeded in the history of the valley. The Lake Huron shore is included in this statement. The west coast of Michigan reports a business activity measured only by the speed with which logs can be sawed and the lumber shipped. Logging operations in this district will be prosecuted with extraordinary vigor this fall and winter, and men and teams are now going into the woods in large numbers. The extensive purchase of the pine lands belonging to the land grant railroads, mentioned elsewhere, has increased the value of stumpage in the minds of smaller dealers. With higher wages to hands, and increased cost for grain and provisions, logging will be more expensive than for some years past. The Muskegon mills give promise of cleaning out the logs from the river boom fully as close as they did last year, and will probably leave less logs by 25,000,000 feet to winter over, and with which to start up in the spring.

The markets of the Mississippi section are all reported to be advancing, with something like a boom in the way of demand. St. Paul and Minneapolis are selling lumber faster than they can dry it, and to prevent breaking their stocks too seriously, some dealers are asking prices on certain grades beyond what they expect to get. Immigration has poured into the section north and west of these points to such an extent that a serious question of debate is found in the query as to whether the greatest benefit to the lumber trade results from a big crop or from immigration; and yet the saw-mill men complain that this has not been a successful season with them. Some folks are hard to please. Port Edward, Wis., has one-third more orders than can be filled, with stocks much broken and reduced. Dubuque lacks cars to facilitate a business already too great on the advanced prices to afford our correspondent time to tell us about it. Logs are difficult to obtain; stocks are reduced, and common lumber is expected to advance $1 per thousand shortly. There will be from 150,000,000 to 200,000,000 feet of logs hung up in the Chippewa over winter. Burlington will get all the logs and lumber it can handle to advantage, but not more than the demand will require. Trade is good and prices firm. Hannibal reports a good trade, with firm prices, and shingles advancing. We do not learn of a single discouraging feature manifesting itself at any point. The demand for lumber is fully equal to the supply and the facilities for shipping, and from present appearances the lumber which will be held by the mills and yards at the close of the season, will be less than for any year in the history of the trade.

LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, { MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. }

The trade of the West generally is the liveliest it has ever been known. The stocks and facilities for handling hardly enable the lumbermen to answer the demands made upon them for everything in their line. The want of cars is the most serious drawback to every one. For the first time this seems to be felt at Chicago. St. Louis is doing well, and advanced her list last week about 50 cents on common and $1 on uppers, with receipts reaching over 10,000,000 and shipments nearly 5,000,000 feet. The shipment of nearly half a million per day from Minneapolis, and three and a half from Chicago, tells the story of all the internal points. The reports from all the eastern markets show an unabated activity in the lumber business.

The Mississippi river came up a little last week and increased the movement of lumber and logs, but the sales show no change in wholesale figures in the water. The stocks in first hands are about closed out, so there is nothing of consequence on the market. All indications point to a very large cut of logs this winter on all the Western streams, which fact leads us to advise those who are willing to be advised to cut down their operations in the woods and depend upon the market for a considerable part of their log supply next year, for there will be lots of people anxious to sell for cost before the close of the sawing season of 1880, simply because the log cut is likely to exceed the sawing capacity. "Better you look a leedle out."

There is little or no shading anywhere. Even Chicago only indulges in a slight war on the manufacturers who have got to sell lumber in their auction market. All is serene there, with piece stuff at $9.50 and boards at $15 to $20.

THE EAST.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin reports:

Western lumber is still in strong position, and desirable stuff moves freely. Receipts continue exceedingly light, and the stocks in the hands of wholesalers are steadily decreasing. The latter have no fears of being able to dispose of their lumber, and only wish their stocks were larger. The outlook is bright all around. Eastern lumber still tends upward, spruce taking the lead in the advance. Prices of the latter are even higher than last week. Sales are of good proportions. In short lumber we note a quicker demand for shingles. Southern hard pine maintains its firmness.

We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper ordinary size over 16 oz per square foot, 28c. per lb; do do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz per square foot, 30c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz, per sq foot, 32c per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz per sq foot, 31c per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 31c per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 34c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 31c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 28c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 28c per lb and Bolt Copper, 28c per lb. IRON.—Scotch Pig. has shown quite an irregular tone, but the general tendency in buyers favor, and growing evidences of a desire to realize on the part of several holders. Values somewhat nominal, but we quote at about $20@23.50 per ton according to brand, delivery and quantity. American Pig has found some little demand, but the wants of buyers were not anxious, and rarely extended beyond some special early requirements. Offerings have in the meantime proven liberal, with rather a tendency to increase, and values on all grades were inclined in buyers favor. We quote at $24.00@25.50 per ton for No. 1; $22@23 do for No. 2; and $20@21 for forge. Rails remain about as before. Iron are not wanted, and have a nominal value only, but steel are in sharp demand still, and contracts for next year are quite liberal. We quote at $45@48 for iron and $60@65 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $26@26.50 per ton; scrap $26@27.00. Manufactured Iron fairly active on orders from the regular run of customers with prices on most shapes about steady. Other descriptions at corresponding prices, with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD.—Domestic Pig has met with a somewhat irregular demand, but business reached a fair aggregate and prices are pretty well supported. The offering fair. We quote 4 1/2 @ 5c. The manufactures of lead are steady and quoted: Bar, 6c; Pipe, 6 1/2c., and Sheet, 7c., less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 15c. Block Tin pipe, 40c. on same terms. TIN.—Pig has been irregular according to the influence of the foreign advices, but as a general thing holders have refrained from any special effort to realize, and the expectations are mostly based upon his figures. We quote 19 1/4 @ 19 1/2c. for Australian, 19 1/4 @ 19 1/2c. for Straits, 19 1/2 @ 19 1/2c. for English Refined, 19 1/2 @ 19 1/4c. for do. Common. Tin Plates have met with more liberal sale since our last, but buyers are about all supplied, and the tone is now easier. We quote I. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment, $6 25 @ 6.37 1/2c. for Allaway grade, and $6 50 for Melyn grade; I. C. Coke $5.12 1/2c. @ 5.25 for B. V. grade; $5 25 @ 5.37 1/2c. for Yspitty grade; Charcoal terme $5.37 1/2 @ 5.62 1/2c. for Allaway grade, 14x20; $11@11.12 1/2c. for do., 20x28; Coke terme, $5@5.12 1/2c. for Glais grade, 14x20, and $10.50 @ 10.75 for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter in moderately active demand mainly for small lots for immediate consumption, but ruling steadily. Quoted at 5 @ 5 1/4c. Sheet Zinc in good average demand, and prices are held quite at 7 1/4 @ 7 1/2c. according to quality.

NAILS.—The condition of business is still reported as quite satisfactory by most of the trade, and the market generally appears to be in good shape. Supplies equal all calls, but are not full enough to lead to any surplus offering, and holders in all cases are extremely firm in asking full former rates. We quote 10.1 to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg $3.15@3.25; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $3.40@3.50; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $3.65@3.75; 4d and 5d, common, do per keg, $3.90@4.00; 3d and 4d, light per keg, $1.65@1.75; 3d, fine, per keg, $5.40@5.50; 2d, per keg, $5.40@5.50.

PAIN TS AND OILS.—Business is reported upon in a more cheerful manner, and the volume of sales on the increase. Occasionally some few articles meet with temporary neglect, but others are wanted in their place, and stocks generally receive due amount of attention. Vermilion has sold with much freedom of late. Prices have not fluctuated to any great extent, and the average tone is quite steady on all the leading articles. Linseed oil has a somewhat better market. The demand is fair, a smaller number of parcels are competing for the outlet, and stocks are in consequence held more firmly. We quote at 56¢ from crushers hands.

PITCH—No change of moment. Some little irregularity has been shown, but nothing to alter the general range of cost. Stocks about balance the demand. We quote at $1.85@2 per bbl. for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—About the ordinary jobbing demand has prevailed, and at full rates. In a wholesale way the market was somewhat unsettled, but as a rule the tendency in sellers favor, as a strong speculative grip is retained upon the position. Of late buyers have partially withdrawn owing to the high prevailing cost. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 38¢ per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR—Stocks are under fair control, and offered with a showing of considerable indifference. Demand, however, is cautious, and rarely extends beyond the immediate wants of consumers. Prices about as before. We quote at $2.25@2.75 per bbl for Newberne and Washington, and $2.75@2.75 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows:
The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

We receive frequent complaints from our subscribers at the manner in which they are annoyed by outsiders anxious to glean information from these columns, and who insist upon occupying temporary desk-room in their offices when looking over their files. Of course these complaints, while implying a well deserved compliment to THE RECORD, are duly appreciated by us, and we should be glad to tell such outsiders that newspapers when worth reading at all, are worth buying. As it is impossible for us to interview all these borrowers, we beg our subscribers whenever annoyed again by them, to inform such intruders, that our publication office is at 137 Broadway, and that the price of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD is $10 a year, payable in advance.

ABOUT INVESTMENTS.

The general rise in values, and the profitability of all business is adding to the bank accounts of nearly every person engaged in professional or commercial life. Except for four months of the fall of 1880, and during perhaps two or three times in the paper money era, there are few periods in the history of the country which can compare with the present in the profits realized by all who deal in securities, or who manufacture and sell consumable goods.

With every one or nearly every one making money, the question arises, how will the surplus be reinvested?

A good deal of it will naturally be used in enlarging the business undertakings in which the profits were made. A certain portion also will be available for new and tempting industrial enterprises. Then again, family expenses will increase, as the standard of home and personal comforts will be higher. But, making allowances for these new outlets for the employment of surplus funds, there will remain a large sum to be invested in the securities now on the market. Which of these will be the favorite speculation during the coming season?

Last fall the mania was for the low-priced railroad properties, and in many cases the profits in these was extraordinarily large. The condition of affairs was such that it did not take much courage to buy any cheap shares. They had been unduly depressed; the business of the country, especially the West, was at low ebb; they were wanted as links between old roads or continuations into new regions, and hence the extraordinary rise in Iron Mountain, Kansas Pacific, Kansas & Texas, San Francisco, and other more obscure properties. No doubt there is money yet in many low priced stocks, especially those in our mineral regions west of the Missouri, where the tides of emigration are taking up new lands, and new crops have to be moved or new mines opened. But to speculate wisely in these outlying properties requires special knowledge, which the general public cannot procure. Hence it follows that the ordinary investor is forced to choose between the various well-known securities which are dealt in on our New York Stock Exchange, and it is to the high not the low priced that he will be attracted.

Governments barely yield $3\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. interest; gilt edged bonds not more than $4\frac{1}{4}$ to 5. Money is easy in Europe, and securities which pay 3 per cent. there, are considered desirable above par. We shall never again here, at the East, see the very high prices for money which obtained before the civil war. A 5 per cent. investment, whether in land or railway shares, will be considered as being worth par. Hence it follows that all securities which are certain to pay more than 5 per cent., are very sure in time to command more than par. New York Central pays 8 per cent. and could pay 11. It is not dear, therefore, at \$130. Lake Shore earns 12 per cent. per annum, and pays 8. It is very cheap at \$107. Chicago, Burlington & Quincy earns 15 per cent. It ought to command \$150. Morris & Essex is better than most of the bonds on the market, and would not be dear at \$120, although it pays but 7 per cent., and so through the entire list. We believe that there is still a large margin for a permanent rise in all the first-class investments now dealt in on the New York Stock Exchange.

What if there should be railroad wars? They never last long in prosperous times, when the roads have all they can do. It is only in the event of poor crops and competition that the cutting of rates is indulged in. Nor is there any fear of the building of rival roads. True, the coming four years promises to see a revival of railway building in this country upon a gigantic scale. Another great railway mania is on the tapis. There will, in time, be unnecessary roads built. But the trunk lines are being amalgamated and systematized, and in the course of time each will have its own section of country undisturbed. The consolidations which have begun will continue until the roads become monopolies within their own region.

No state of permanent war can exist, and hence we look for an increase of the business of the country that will give the roads all they can do and add to the desirability of investments in railway securities. No matter if there is a panic on a small scale due to dear money. Suppose we should have one or two bad harvests. We can now afford them. The country is increasing in population, in wealth, and in business so rapidly, that all our railways, whether they are East or West or North or South, are certain to appreciate in value as the years roll by.

We argue then, that stocks are not too high; that they cannot be called high until they bring less than 5 per cent. upon the investment. Eight per cent. stocks selling at less than $120 are really very low, and there is a margin of profit in nearly all the good stocks which are to-day dealt in upon the New York Stock Exchange.

THE HARLEM DISTRICT.

Taken from one end to another, probably no less than 400 houses are being built to-day in Harlem, and in this energetic work of improvement, there are to be found not only builders who erect houses to sell, but capitalists who are building for investment. Mr. Wm. B. Astor, for instance, is improving One Hundred and Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, with first-class four-story houses, and Mr. E. S. Higgins is building several houses on One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, between St. Nicholas and Eighth avenues, and again several more on One Hundred and Thirtieth street, between Fifth and Sixth.

The greatest activity, of course, centres in the immediate vicinity of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, where the soil is composed of sand and gravel, the very healthiest soil to live on, and where the stretch of ponds of stagnant water that used to infest the section more southward never reached even in the past. In fact, One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street should be the first great retail street of the future above Twenty-third street. Nowhere between these two points can there be found so good a business street, running from river to river, and where, owing to the connecting links that are being formed by means of the Eighth and Third avenues with the villages of what was once Westchester County, but is now the annexed district, a most thriving trade is slowly centering already. There are now several stores in that street between Third and Fourth avenues, and as far up as Madison avenue, and again between Seventh and Eighth, with more of them being continually added.

The project to have a grand market somewhere on the Harlem has been again revived, since the decision has been reached not to rebuild Manhattan market, and we understand that combinations are now being made looking to its ultimate establishment north of the river, at about the same time that the long talked of Harlem River improvements shall have been completed. Of course, such a wholesale market will be of great service to the constantly increasing population of the two sections north as well as south of the river, and will indirectly help the retail trade that is sure to centre along One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

POINTS ABOUT THE ELEVATED ROADS.

From certain sources of information, partly public, but some of which are private, we are enabled to throw some light upon the elevated road imbroglio. Our information may be summed up as follows:

1. The Metropolitan Elevated management have determined not to submit to the award of the arbitrators, and, without refusing to come to terms, are delaying matters until a better bargain for them can be made; they reasoning that the returns to be made this fall and winter will show large relative gains for the Metropolitan compared with the receipts previous to the opening of the Second avenue road.

2. At the meeting of the Metropolitan stockholders it was evident that Mr. Jose Navarro, A. V. Stout, W. H. Garrison and the present directors are not willing for any consolidation of the rival interests which does not give them control. The scheme of the New York Elevated Road, by which the three companies were to be equally represented in the consolidated Board of Direction, would have taken the exclusive control of the Metropolitan from Navarro and his friends, which they have resolved not to permit.

3. While the New York Elevated made a full, free, though perhaps a somewhat one-sided statement of the affairs of their company, the Metropolitan managers submitted no figures, and left their stockholders completely in the dark as to the financial condition of the company. Those published by the New York Press were not given at the meeting.

4. It is daily becoming more manifest that the Metropolitan Company is unfortunate in its management, as compared with the New York Company. The latter road was constructed more cheaply; has been run more economically; has not spent so much in cars or equipments, and, if the united system is to be under one management, the stockholders would be better served if the controlling interest was in the hands of the New York Elevated.

5. It is settled there will be no wiping out of Manhattan stock. It will be kept in existence whether it defaults in its guarantees or not. There are too many legal difficulties in the way of merging the companies to allow of any other scheme being tried but the one now in actual operation.

6. Should the Metropolitan keep up the status quo for a year or two, and should another arbitration be held, it would undoubtedly get a better award. The New York Elevated system is complete. It runs through a continuous line of houses from the Battery to Harlem River. But the building of new houses is steadily going on east of the Second avenue, and along the line of the Metropolitan, west and north of Central Park. In other words, the ratio of increased receipts will be far greater in the future on the Metropolitan than on the New York line. The arbitrators, with the facts before them, could not but have favored the New York. In two years time, other arbitrators, from the figures before them, might give the preference to the Metropolitan. Furthermore, a board sitting during the holding of the World's Fair might decide that the Manhattan Company was more valuable than either of the others.

The above, we believe, fairly sums up the situation, so far as regards the elevated roads. It is to be regretted that the merger cannot take place at once; for after the final consolidation will come new uses for the elevated systems. These we have described at length in a previous number of this paper. We want through trains, freight lines for distributing light parcels, meats, provisions and the like. The roads must be connected with all the ferries, and have cross-town connections; and then there must be some lowering of the fares to attract some of the immense custom which the horse cars still monopolize.

FIGURES THAT LIE.

If the figures furnished from time to time by Field, Navarro and their associates, respecting the financial condition of the elevated roads were only collected together, what a queer and damaging record they would make? When Manhattan stock was first issued, the fortunate purchasers had the official assurances and statistics before them showing its great present and much greater prospective value. Every statement made at that time must have been a deliberate falsehood, known to be such by the utterers, as the business of the elevated roads cannot be very fluctuating. When Manhattan stock was broken down from $70 to $22, it was on other figures furnished by the insiders, equally misleading. Pending the arbitration, so-called, between the Metropolitan and New York Elevated, figures were given upon the authority of the auditor of the Manhattan road, showing that the rival properties could not do much more than pay the interest on their bonded debts. But after the award, lo! another change, and now the traffic is improving so rapidly that the Manhattan may not, after all, default its guarantees. [See money articles of Herald and Tribune last week, and compare with statements in same columns two weeks previously.]

In simple truth, no one outside of the inside ring knows anything authentic about the real financial condition of the elevated roads. The manipulators on both sides have done all they could do to destroy public confidence in their averments. As President Garrison mildly puts it, the figures furnished are the result of "bookkeeping."

A good deal has been said lately, and very justly, about the mendacity and villainy of the California mining sharps who have recently been "scooping" Eastern investors; but, bad as these rascals undoubtedly are, they are as babes in wickedness compared with the splendid operators who have been managing the two elevated roads.

Moral.—Put not your trust in the statements made, from time to time, about the financial condition of the elevated roads.

WHAT AN ENGLISHMAN THINKS.

An Englishman writes as follows to the New York Times:

New York has three things to do to bring her into rivalry with the appearance of Paris and London. She must pave and cleanse her streets, tear down her telegraph posts, and convey her wires underground, and abolish her latest "notion"—the elevated railway. Nothing better illustrates the differences of legislative power between London and New York than the elevated railway. It would be impossible for the corporation of London or any other governmental force to perpetrate an outrage on property owners and residents such as that of the elevated road in New York. The quietest town in England would have risen and torn it down, had it first been possible to put it up. Is it not a great convenience? Yes, I found it a pleasant thing to step aboard at Eighteenth street and go to the City Hall in about the time it used to take me to get from there to the New York Hotel; but at what sacrifices of health and comfort and the value of property is this convenience given to me? Don't I think it a fine piece of engineering skill? I do. Don't I think it nicer traveling than on the Underground Railway in London? Certainly I do. The tunneled road in London is the most unhealthy and unpleasant kind of railway. To travel on it is almost as bad as being jolted to death in a New York cab from the docks to Union square at $5 a ride. But it runs before no man's window, it blocks no man's light, it ruins no citizen's property, and it converts no picturesque-looking and comfortable street into a howling wilderness. The citizens of London have sufficient constitutional power over the government of their city to prevent any such injustice as that. If it should seem to any of my readers an impertinence for a stranger to say these things, let me be forgiven on the plea that I admire and respect America and Americans so much that I have no prejudices which can influence my judgment, and that I feel assured the truth cannot be an offense—that is, what seems to be the truth in the estimate of one who has seen the world and has an experience of many cities and many countries.

"An Englishman" will wait a long time before he sees our elevated system set aside. He admits that it is a very pleasant mode of intra-mural travel, and that it has every advantage over the underground railway system of London. It is, probably, quite true that no English town would have permitted the construction of an elevated road. But, then, legislation in this country is for the good of the million, not of the units. Long after street cars were in general use in this country they would not be permitted in English towns, on the ground of the incidental damage done to wagons by the street rails. But the great utility of horse cars at last compelled their toleration in English cities. We venture to predict that the time is not far distant when London, Paris and all the capitals of Europe will have their elevated roads. It is simply a question of time; and the English correspondent of the Times will probably live to see the cab system abolished by the general use of "steam roads on stilts."

POINTS ABOUT FINANCE AND TRADE.

The exchanges throughout the country, for the week ending September 25, do not show much of an advance over the corresponding week of last year, the totals, according to the Public, being $781,841,023 against $777,464,464. That is only .6 increase. Outside of New York, however, the increase is 12 3 per cent. The falling off is in New York, Baltimore, San Francisco and Louisville. Our exchanges do not compare well because of the great stock speculation under way this time last year.

Gould and Sage have been the buyers during the past week, and for the moment have changed the temper of the street, which has been "bearish." But the recorded sales show that the public are not buying. All the brokers record small transactions.

Foreign Exchange is lower. Rates have been reduced to 4.81 and 4.84 for long and short sterling. Actual business is done on a basis of 4.80½. This affords a margin for heavy gold shipments to this side, a fact which no doubt has helped our stock market during the week. Our export and import tables do not throw any light on the weakness of the exchanges. Judged by the published figures, we ought to be exporting gold. It is evident that Europe is buying largely of our securities, as well as investing heavily in land and new railway enterprises.

Crops in Europe are not turning out as well as was expected, the threshing showing a smaller yield than was hoped for, and consequently prices for grain are stiffer. The Russian harvest is certainly deficient.

American farmers are slow in shipping their wheat at present prices. They have an idea that food products must advance, and perhaps they are right.

Navigation between New York and the Lake Superior region will close on the 15th of October sharp, a somewhat earlier date than usual, due to local causes. This fact may have an important influence upon the price of Lake copper and certain grades of iron.

Gold leaves New York in very large amounts. The banks lost $1,369,700 and the Treasury $2,839,364 last week. All of this money has been absorbed by the country outside of New York. The imports of gold were $4,293,800. It shows that we lost about as much to the country as we got from Europe. This outflow of gold has continued for eight weeks, the total in that time being $38,937,369, and in addition the banks and Treasury have lost $8,285,252 in legal tenders. Where does all the specie go to?

Are the architects of New York going to permit Mr. Edward Atkinson's severe denunciations of the members of their profession to go on record without taking action on the same? Are we indeed to believe that the vast majority of those who assume the title of architects, are masters only of the art of sham," as Mr. Atkinson said, in his recent Boston address before the convention of Fire Engineers? Or was it simply to remind the latter gentlemen that only the architects of Boston "put up the most perfect specimens of combustible architecture, in order that the engineers may have the satisfaction of putting out the fires which are sure to occur in them." If so, the able and otherwise careful speaker ought to have qualified his remarks and made an exception in favor of New York architects. The latter are fully alive to anything affecting their reputation, and should take up the gauntlet so harshly thrown down to them by one of the ablest of living Americans.

A METAL MARKET WANTED.

At Pittsburg they are about to open an Iron Exchange where pig-iron, blooms, rails and other iron of other like character can be stored, and certificates issued similar to those furnished to represent oil. These certificates can be sold, and when the owners desire to take them up they can do so by redeeming them. The new company is to be styled The Union Storage Company, and its capital of $200,000 has nearly all been subscribed. It is expected to revolutionize the iron trade of this country.

We call attention to the organization of this new company, so as to raise the question why New York has not a metal market as has London? The way in which iron, copper, lead, tin, spelter and other metals are dealt in here are very primitive, are, indeed, more characteristic of a small town than of a great city. We need a Metal Exchange, where warehouse receipts can be dealt in, and outside operators are not put to the serious disadvantage which they now encounter in trafficking in metals. One not in the trade can neither buy as cheaply nor sell as advantageously as the favored operators. If precious metal mining can afford business for three Exchanges surely iron and the so-called superior metals ought to have their own nucleus for the transaction of business. A Sugar Exchange is about to be organized. It is much needed.

BULLION IN FRANCE AND IN THE UNITED STATES.

From the reports of the Director of the Mint, as well as other statisticians, it appears there is of bullion in the United States available for coinage or already coined, less than 530 million of dollars; and this after counting in our home production of the last two years as well as the imports since January, 1879.
